The whole trouble had to do with the report of the committee on appropriations. Alderman Connors criticized the report as being short from the contrary, and he told the aldermen in no uncertain tones to sit down. Alderman Connors didn't feel like sitting down. He felt like making a noise, and he told the chairman a thing or two. WOMAN DROWNED

Jumped Into Pawtucket Canal in View of Spectators

Made Deliberate Preparations for the Act, Taking off Her Hat, Combs and Gloves—She Floated Some Distance and Disappeared

After deliberating for nearly an hour in the vicinity of Pawtucket falls as to just where she would commit the rash act, a well-dressed and comely young woman committed suicide in the Pawtucket canal this morning in view of several persons who had been watching her intently, yet none had the presence of mind to prevent her carrying out her tragic intention. The young woman, who was apparently about 20 years of age, threw herself into the canal about 100 yards below the Pawtucket bridge, or directly opposite the foot of Mr. Vernon street. At this point a small board platform extends out over the canal wall and after removing her hat, gloves and combs and placing them on the snow at the canal wall, she climbed over the floating by several women and by the members of Dr. Roy's family for she disappeared from view just below Dr. Roy's house, the rear of which faces the canal.

Milk

In Massachusetts from 1882 to 1909, more than 350 per cent. of the samples of milk examined were below the standard required by law. In 1909 more than 22 per cent. of the samples examined were below standard. The standard for butter fat required by law in Massachusetts is 25 per cent. Samples of milk taken by the inspector from the Hood Farm delivery wagon showed 41 per cent. butter fat, or about 65 per cent. more than the standard. Which kind of milk are you using? evidently a hat trimmed at home on a frame, as it does not bear the name of any milliner. In it were two ordinary hatpins, one with a blue head and the other black. The gloves were of brown kid in good state of preservation, size 8 1/4 and the buttons bearing the name "Backbone." The combs, back comb and two side combs, were of the ordinary brown bone make. The girl was neatly attired. The spectators who were nearest to her state that her appearance indicated that she was in a delicate condition.

Came from Pawtucketville The young woman was first noticed by Edward Powers, employed by Morrison's market in Pawtucket square, shortly after 8 o'clock, when she turned the corner of Riverside street and walked to the bridge, looking around frequently as she walked. Her actions aroused his attention and he watched her. She went across the street and stopped near the gate house as if she were watching the icecutters at work at the falls. Upon crossing the street her actions caught the attention of Mr. Joseph Perkins, the well known Pawtucketville barber, whose place of business commands a view of the bridge, and that of his employee, Mr. George Cummings. After watching her a few minutes, Mr. Cummings remarked jokingly, "I wonder if she is contemplating suicide." Meanwhile others were watching her, and a man named Esterbrook, who drove by, remarked: "She must be trying to commit suicide." After remaining by the gatehouse for some time, the young woman crossed the street and started down the snow covered stairway to the canal walk. Then both Messrs. Powers and Cummings left their stores and watched her from the bridge. After proceeding about 50 feet along the walk she suddenly went down the steep bank of the river to the water's edge. Mr. Powers cried out to her to come away from there, while Mr. Cummings started to go toward the upper part of the bridge where he could enter the canal walk. In response to Mr. Powers' cries the young woman returned to the canal walk and running along the walk as fast as she could and continually looking behind, suddenly stopped at the point above mentioned, where the steel platform projects, and removing her hat and gloves deliberately climbed over the rail.

Cummings Gave Chase Crying to her to stop, Mr. Cummings ran down the steps onto the canal walk and after her, but before he could reach her she had jumped into the water. When he got to the point where she was floating along, he cried out to her to keep her hands and feet moving and that he would get a rope. She replied faintly, "I can't." Mr. Cummings ran at full speed ahead of her to a point opposite the rear of the Sawyer block, where he cried out to the workmen that a woman was in the canal. Mr. Sawyer hearing his cries procured a rope and ran down to the edge of the canal bank, but he arrived just as she disappeared under the dark waters to be seen no more.

Officer Charles Hamilton was on the scene a few moments after the unfortunate young woman disappeared and toured the canal bank in hope that the body might come to the surface, but up to the time of going to press no trace of it had been found. Officer Hamilton then took possession of the hat, gloves, etc., and made a thorough search of the canal walk, assisted by several newspapermen, to see if anything else that would lead to her identity could be found. The search failed, however, and inquiry was then made through Little Canada and the new Moody street part of Pawtucketville as to the identity of the young woman, but without results as the unfortunate, whoever she may be, had not been away from home long enough to be missed.

IN POLICE COURT

Several Offenders Given Jail Sentences

Charles and Marcel Tessier, brothers, were arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning, the former on complaints charging him with drunkenness and assault and battery on an officer and the latter with drunkenness and interfering with an officer while in the performance of his duty. Through their counsel both entered pleas of guilty and the case did not go to trial.

Each was fined $5 for drunkenness, the case of assault against Charles was placed on the files of the court and the complaint of hindering an officer, against Marcel, was dismissed. On Jan. 24th, while Special Officer John Mahon of the Tremont & Suffolk Market was arresting Charles the latter assaulted the officer, and the officer in turn struck Charles over the head, which necessitated his treatment at a hospital. While the officer was battling with Charles it is alleged that Marcel interfered.

An Old Larceny Case Thomas Delgan was charged with drunkenness and the larceny of $1 from Mary J. Cronin on Nov. 8, 1906, and the larceny of $1 from Mary A. Belongin on the 16th of November, 1906. He pleaded not guilty to the drunk charge, and said he remembered nothing about the larceny charges. Inasmuch as the government was not ready for trial this morning, the case was continued till tomorrow morning, Delgan being held under $300 bonds for his appearance at that time.

Unappreciative Young Man Patrick McMahon appeared in police court yesterday morning and after promising the court to stop drinking and reform was placed on probation. He got drunk later in the day, however, and was in court again this morning. He was sentenced to six months in jail.

Big Car, With 105 Passengers, Coasted Down Steep Grade and Jumped Track at Bottom—Miss Bessie Ryan Killed and Twenty Seriously Injured—Slippery Rails the Alleged Cause

PITTSFIELD, Feb. 9.—Coasting uncontrolled down a steep grade for a half mile today a big double-truck electric car on the Pittsfield street railroad jumped the track on a curve at the foot of the hill and crashed into the abutments of a railroad bridge, killing one person and injuring eighteen others, none fatally. The accident happened in the town of Dalton, about a mile and a half west of Hindsdale Center. The rails were slippery with frost and the combined application of air brakes and hand brakes failed to check the speed of the car.

The car was bound from Hindsdale for Dalton and Pittsfield, carrying about 15 passengers, all employed in Dalton and Pittsfield factories.

Miss Bessie Ryan, 22 years of age, of Hindsdale, was killed instantly, her head being crushed between two seats. Story of Accident Rails made slippery by frost, were responsible for the accident causing the death of one person and more or less serious injuries to twenty others in a trolley car accident at Hindsdale, 12 miles from this city, early today. Miss Bessie Ryan of Hindsdale was killed. The injured were brought to the hospital in this city. So much time was consumed in attending to their injuries that there was considerable delay in making known the identity of the victims. There were 105 passengers on board the car which was of double truck construction. The car left Hindsdale for Dalton and this city at 6:15 a. m. About a mile west of Hindsdale village there is a heavy grade and at the foot of the hill the road takes a sharp turn to pass under an overhead bridge of the Boston & Albany division of the New York Central railroad.

The rails were slippery with frost and when the car struck the heavy grade the brakes failed to hold. Although Motorman Thomas Murray of Dalton reversed the power the car coasted rapidly down the grade and when it reached the curve it jumped the track and smashed into the abutments of the bridge.

Some of the passengers were able to jump from the car before the crash came but most of them were on board when the car struck the stone pier. The car was demolished and everyone on board was badly shaken up.

Those whose injuries were confined to bruises and shock immediately turned their attentions to the more seriously hurt, some of whom were carried to farmhouses in the vicinity. Word was sent to Hindsdale, Dalton and Pittsfield for doctors.

A special car was sent from this city to bring back the injured. When it had reached a point near the scene of the accident the relief car jumped the rails and there was considerable delay before it could be replaced on the tracks and start to this city with the sufferers on board.

$500,000 FIRE

Destroyed Brighton Stockyards but Live Stock Was Saved

Three Men Reported Missing and May Have Perished in the Flames—Good Work by Firemen Prevented General Conflagration

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—Boston's beef supply was nearly "cornered" by a fire which destroyed approximately half a million dollars' worth of property at the Brighton stockyards early today. Fortunately several hundred head of cattle were turned loose from the burning building and some of the live stock was destroyed. The fire is thought to have originated in the engine room of the New England Rendering Co's building connected with the Brighton abattoir on North Market street. The blaze spread to the cattle shed within a few minutes and threatened for a time to wipe out the entire abattoir plant which is comprised of 17 buildings and covers nearly twenty acres.

The fire was discovered by two watchmen in the New England Rendering Co's building early in the morning. When the firemen arrived in response to the first alarm the flames were shooting out of the six story wooden building and threatening to spread to the rest of the abattoir and a tenement district across North Market street. A third alarm was immediately rung in and was followed by a fourth. By hard work the firemen succeeded in confining the flames to the building of the Rendering company and the cattle shed. The latter structure was only partially burned but the other was a total loss. In it was much valuable machinery and a large stock of goods.

The exact cause of the fire is not known. When the management assembled the workmen of the abattoir, after the fire had been practically extinguished, Michael Egan and two Poles were missing. It was known that Egan just before the fire broke out went to one of the upper floors for lunch and his usual habit was and no one saw him come out of the building. The whereabouts of the two Poles was more of a mystery but no trace of them could be found in the neighborhood up to 9 a. m. Neither were their names known. The building burned so rapidly that it was generally believed that Egan and possibly the Poles were caught in the upper floors and were unable to escape.

PROGRESS OF A. O. H.

Set Forth by Editor Sheehan of the Hibernian

At Enjoyable Smoke Talk Held
by Division 11, A. O. H., in Hibernian Hall Last Evening
— Several Local Hibernians
Addressed the Gathering

The members of Division 11, A. O. H., held an enjoyable smoke talk at Hibernian hall last evening, a feature of which was an address on the subject "Progress of the Irish Race in America," by George H. Sheehan, of Boston, editor of the "Hibernian." Mr. Sheehan also spoke on the work of the order. Other speakers were President Patrick Connolly of Division 11, James O'Sullivan, president of the A. O. H. convention, Pres. Michael McMillin of Division 1, Pres. John O'Rourke of Div. 8, President Hubert McQuade of Div. 2, and President Denis O'Brien of Div. 2, former Deputy John Kinsella, Deputy Bernard Gagan, former County President John D. Hendricks and others. Songs were sung by Bernard Gagan, Denis McDowell, Charles A. Carey, Daniel Wholey and John Green. A musical program was enjoyed, a feature of which was the rendition of several Irish songs by Charles Austin Carey, Uncle Sam's letter carrier here. Mr. Carey made a decided hit with O'Connell's new song, "Wearers of the Green," and "Blanche Rings." The refreshment committee consisted of John Tully, John Rourke, James Carey, Patrick Freeman, Denis McDowell, Patrick McDermott, John McNearney and John J. Neelan. The committee in charge consisted of President Connolly, Vice President Patrick Hickey, Recording Secretary Bernard Gagan, Treasurer John H. Hickey and Financial Secretary William Nelson.

Mr. Sheehan's remarks in part were as follows: It is certainly gratifying to greet the Hibernians of Lowell and to feel the inspiration which comes from being what may be termed "the cradle of our splendid order in New England." It is an additional pleasure here, and a pleasure which is shared by all, to have a more appropriate, for was it not the son of an Irishman, Patrick Sheehan, who laid the foundation for this thriving city of Lowell? It is by the sacrifice of land and energy which have been poured into this city, which drew your original settlers, the enterprising and the energetic, that drew the energy of enterprise that drew the energy of national attachment when the next state convention on assembly in your city in August of the present year. No better proof could be given of your energy and enterprise than the very work which you are doing at the present time. The Hibernians of New England are anxiously watching your endeavors, as the task which you have undertaken is not at all easy one. The coming state convention will bring to your city over 20,000 loyal Hibernians from all sections of New England. The entertainment of these guests alone demands earnest effort on your part, and when one realizes that you are also engaged in the preparatory work of erecting a Hibernian hall, he can readily see that you have taken inspiration from the atmosphere in which you have lived. This state convention furnishes every assurance of being the most notable in the history of Massachusetts, and the parade, which will be a feature, will be one to show the standing and the personality of the order in this grand old commonwealth.

You Hibernians of Lowell by your own record of advancement from the humble beginning made by those devoted pioneers of the order in 1867, present a most instructive and inspiring showing of growth and achievement. What may not the future expect where such fertility has been manifested? It is both your duty and your high privilege to venerate the memory of those who have made you the inheritors of their labors. They laid the foundation upon which the superstructure of the order here has been erected, and your duty is to see that the portions of such structure keep on being tended and amplifying to heights of the highest ideals of an ancient and honored race. Your past achievements are but a most happy augury of the splendor of the record that is yet to be written.

ANNUAL REGATTA
HARVARD AND YALE NOW WORKING OVER DATES
It is expected that there will be a decided change in the time of holding the Harvard-Yale boat races next year. This season the races are to be on June 20, a concession made by Yale in favor of Harvard. The Yale and Harvard regattas commence on the same day this year, but Harvard's ends much later in the week than Yale and so the New Haven graduates will have been long away from the town when the regatta comes on. The postponement of the week following both regattas.

Now it has been suggested to have the race rowed in 1911 in the week before the final examinations, either the last week in May or the first week in June. That is much earlier than ever before. If it goes through it will mean a vast alteration in the training methods of the two universities. They will get all their preparation for the contest on their home waters and they will not have to have quarters at Gales Ferry and Red Top. The crews will go from the Charles and the harbor without any great interval before the race.

If this arrangement is not hit upon there is a chance, it is said, that the regatta may be given over. Neither college is at all eager to have this come to pass, but if the races cannot be fitted in with the desires of the graduates probably they will cease to be.

Speaking before the dinner of the Hartford alumni of Yale recently, Julian W. Curtis said: "If things go well the 'boat races' will be completed in the town of Lowell. The work of filling in the town will be now almost complete, and in a short time the new construction will be begun. It is our ambition to have the new plant entirely incorporated in the Yale athletic system by next commencement, so that work can be begun next fall without any preliminary."

"The new quarters will mean much for the future of Yale rowing, and in this connection I want to say a word with regard to the work of Coach John Kennedy. There has been criticism in some quarters because of the employment of a professional coach by Yale, but of course there is no probability of any change being made in this regard."

"Mr. Kennedy's work as a coach has been good, but his work as a man has been better, and many college graduates of Yale oarsmen hold him in high regard as a friend."

Crew prospects at Syracuse have brightened up somewhat as fifty-three men now are out for the boat. The number was small the first day, but has been increasing right along. Coach James A. Ton Eyck says: "The prospects for each crew are becoming brighter each day. The new men who have recently returned are of good size and weight. This fact especially is very pleasing to me, and I am sure there are plenty of other good men around. All the candidates are very enthusiastic and are improving with every stroke of the oar."

SEN. CUMMINS
WANTS MORE POWER FOR INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—"More power to the interstate commerce commission," was urged by United States Senator Albert S. Cummins of Iowa in an address before the Traffic club here last night.

"I shall not try to convince the corporation that they are sound and well because they are already on the operating table," declared the senator in opening his remarks. "The surgeon's knife is gleaming all around them. I shall not try to convince them that after it is all over they will be stronger because undue strength, as with them, is the very disease from which they suffer. But I shall try to convince them that after it is over they will be better, longer lived and safer."

Senator Cummins' topic was "The Interstate Commerce Commission: The Additional Powers It Requires to More Completely Fulfill Its Functions." "The truth is," said the speaker, "the hair trimming was never more required than it is at present. I do not suggest that all corporations wear long locks, because I know well that many of them do not need the attention of a barber. And they are to be shorn by the giants of the class to which they belong that they would be admitted to any penitentiary in the land without any further consoling attention."

"But I refer to the strikers in, and among the corporations, who are so great that while they are unwilling to shear themselves there isn't anybody big enough to shear them. Uncle Sam has been scissoring away for a great many years. It is quite possible that he has got a little close in places, but I believe that after all the corporations wear longer hair than they ever did before. The question is how to cut it smoothly and regularly."

DEPARTMENT WATER SUPPLY
The committee on appropriations met last night to consider the new ordinance relative to a free supply of water to the city departments, and on motion of Congressman Flanagan, it was voted to postpone action for one week.

THREE MILL TAX

Action Postponed by Board of Trade

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—At the meeting of the executive council of the Massachusetts state board of trade, held yesterday afternoon in the Vendome, one of the several important measures considered was the amendment providing for the classification of property for purposes of taxation. Robert Lane of Somerville reported for the committee on taxation in favor of the proposed legislation, but explained that the report was not unanimous.

H. D. Bennett of the committee opposed the views of Mr. Lane and read the argument of them. Nathan Nathan of the committee in favor of the proposed legislation, but explained that the report was not unanimous.

WARRANT ISSUED

HAVANA, Feb. 9.—The government is actually prosecuting its campaign against the newspapers attacking the administration. Following the imprisonment of two editors on a charge of libelling President Gomez, General Evaristo Estenoz, editor of the negro organ, Revision, was summoned to court yesterday afternoon to answer a similar charge. He failed to appear, whereupon a bench warrant was issued. This action of the court was greeted with loud cries of disapproval by a great throng of negroes in court. It is reported that Estenoz has fled the city.

The strike of practically the whole of the Havana press against the bill introduced in congress by Speaker Berrera, restricting criticism of the government, continues, the papers declaring that they will refuse to report the proceedings of congress until the obnoxious bill is withdrawn. The indications are that the bill will be killed in committee.

Stop Women And Consider

This Fact—that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and has ever since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty causes them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. Such questioning and examination is unnecessary. Without cost you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

MOODY STREET FIRE

Fire Wagons Crashed on Leaving
Central Fire Station

A brisk blaze broke out in the quarters of the French-American Supply Company in Moody street last night about ten o'clock and but for its early discovery it might have reached dangerous proportions. The firemen were promptly on the scene, however, and prevented the spread of the flames though considerable damage was caused by the smoke which poured through the building in huge volumes. The supply company occupies quarters jointly with the City Hall garage in Moody street, opposite Colburn street, and for a time it looked as though the fire would make its way into the garage and destroy some of the valuable machines stored there. The fire had its inception in a small store room in the rear of the quarters of the supply company. A woman who occupies a tenement overhead detected a strong odor of smoke and notified one of the employees of the garage that there was a fire in progress. The latter jumped into an automobile and driving to the corner of Worthen street rang in an alarm from box 77. In a few minutes several pieces of apparatus were on the scene.

A single line of hose was sufficient to extinguish the flames, though the heavy smoke interfered with the work of the firemen to some extent. The exact cause of the fire has not been learned as yet, but it is thought to have been spontaneous combustion in a pile of rubbish and rags in the store room which was located next to a chimney.

The supply company had about $1500 worth of stock on hand. The principal loss will fall on this concern though the garage owners will suffer some damage from smoke. It happened that many of the most valuable cars at the garage were on the side next to the fire, and for a few minutes the employees in charge and his helpers had a very busy time preparing for their removal. This proved unnecessary in the end, however.

The big truck at the central fire station had trouble when it started out of the stables. The steering gear of rear wheels failed to work, and the truck and the big steamer collided without, however, doing any damage to either.

Fortunately there was no one standing on the running board on the right side of the truck for it there had been probably the person would have been fatally injured for the truck went into the steamer with such a crash that it would have been impossible for a person standing on the running board to escape injury.

Both pieces of apparatus were delayed in reaching the fire as a result of the accident. Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the building which was owned by Wm. D. Spaulding.

Fire in a Hack

A fire in a hack, belonging to Undertaker Joseph Albert was discovered early yesterday morning by one of Mr. Albert's employees, Pierre Caron. The hack was in Mr. Albert's stable in Hall street and when Caron opened the door he detected a strong odor of smoke and soon learned that the fire was in the hack.

The rug and cushions were badly damaged and the carriage itself was somewhat charred. The carriage had been left there shortly before

NEW YEAR'S DAY

Observed Today by the Local Chinese

Happy New Year!

New Year came in at Chinatown at 12:01 this morning and the year 2461 is on. The Chinese started to count time in the days of old Confucius and they're counting yet from that time and hence are 561 years barring a few weeks, ahead of us on time. It takes 20 days to observe the Chinese New Year right, 20 days and 40 digestive organs, for the Chinaman feasts steadily for 20 days and 20 nights and when he isn't eating and drinking he's burning up fireworks.

In the big Chinese colonies of San Francisco, New York and Boston the New Year is being observed with New Year calls and feasting but in Lowell only an informal observance is being held. Last evening several Chinese gathered at Wong & Co's restaurant in Central street and watched the old year out and incidentally had a feast fit for the gods while little Charlie Wong Tuck made a speech of welcome to the New Year.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Court Merrimack, Foresters of America, was held last night in Grafton hall, Chief Ranger, Thomas E. Kelly, presiding. Two applications for membership were received. It was voted to have a class initiation in the near future. A committee of 20 members will be named at the next meeting by the board of officers.

After the meeting a musical program and a social hour were enjoyed. The following arbitration committee was appointed, consisting of: James E. Miskella, Thomas C. Mooney, Henry F. Keyes, M. A. Corcoran, William H. Stanford, Daniel L. Riley and Frank J. McCormack.

Pilgrim Fathers
One application for membership was received at last night's meeting of Garfield colony, United Order of Pilgrim Fathers. The 25th anniversary of the colony is to be observed next Tuesday evening by an excellent entertainment to be followed by supper.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Jules Morrisette and Miss Arthemise Harvey took place Monday morning at St. Louis church, at a mass celebrated by Rev. Abbe Rodolphe Fortier. Rev. J. N. Jacques performed the wedding ceremony. Mr. Elie Morrisette was his son's witness, and the bride was attended by Mr. Adolphe Bouchard. The bridegroom is a prominent member of St. Louis' choir, and of the Centralville quartet, and a musical program of much attractiveness was prepared for the event by the members. Dr. T. D. Chagnon sang "Veni Creator," Mrs. O. J. David sang Borede's "O Salutaris," and Lambillotte's "Laudate" was sung at the close of the mass by Messrs. O. J. David, Emory C. Gauvin and Eliezer J. Larochelle. Miss Ida Monrograin presided at the organ.

After the mass a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home, 32 Ennall street, and at night a reception took place at the home of the bridegroom's parents, 185 Ludlam street.

Prior to the wedding the happy couple were both remembered by their friends, and given delightful surprises. Miss Harvey's friends gathered at her home Friday night and presented her a valuable gift, and Sunday night, the members of St. Louis' choir and the Centralville quartet gathered at Mr. Morrisette's home for a similar purpose and presented him a purse.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrisette will reside at 185 Ludlam street.

HUGHES—DONNELLY

Mr. Michael Hughes, a well known young business man of Centralville, and Miss Mary J. Donnelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Donnelly of 48 Fourth street, were married Tuesday, Feb. 8, at the parochial residence of St. Michael's church.

The bride was attended by Miss Catherine M. Hughes, a sister of the bridegroom, and the best man was Mr. Charles Donnelly, a brother of the bride. The bride wore a white silk tulle, trimmed with Irish point lace, and carried a bouquet of roses, and the bridegroom wore a tuxedo and carried a pink rose.

The gifts were numerous and costly. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet. After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the happy couple proceeded to their future home at 22 Elmwood avenue.

U-TRA-CIT

We direct your attention to the U-Tra-Cit Embroidery Tracing Pad. It is cleaner, cheaper and much better than impression or carbon paper. For tracing or stamping fancy work patterns it is ideal—the only method that is simple, pleasant and profitable. This pad requires no paint, powder, hot irons or the cleaning of patterns, in fact all of the disagreeable features of "stamping" are eliminated when the U-Tra-Cit pad is used. Then again the stamping will not blur or run; still it washes out easily.

Visit the demonstration at the Art and Fancy Work Section. A moment or two of watching and you'll be convinced that it's the best of its kind ever offered.

ONLY 15 CENTS A PAD

COMMANDER PEARY THE MARDI GRAS

To Make an Expedition to the South Pole

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Before an audience of more than 4000 persons in the Metropolitan opera house last night, Commander Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North pole, was presented with a $10,000 check on behalf of the citizens of New York, but instead of retaining it for himself the commander announced immediately that he would contribute it towards the south pole expedition as planned by the National Geographic society.

The check was presented to the commander by Governor Hughes of New York at this the first national testimonial in the explorer's honor. Accepting the gift, Peary advanced to the front of the stage and said:

"Here is a check for $10,000. This check will be deposited tomorrow as a joint contribution of the members of this audience, the officers and committee of the Civic Forum and myself toward an American Antarctic expedition for the purpose of exploration and scientific investigation, and to enter the stars and stripes in a splendid, mainly international race for the South pole with our British cousins, than whom there are no finer foemen in the world."

The audience which greeted the commander last night was representative and enthusiastic. The gathering was held under the auspices of the Civic Forum. President Taft telegraphed that he was sorry that he was unable to attend but that he sincerely hoped that "congress will take some substantial notice of the great achievement of Commander Peary."

700,000 men and women of his (Peary's) own state."

The assemblage adopted a resolution presented by Seth Low, former mayor of New York, setting forth "that this meeting respectfully and earnestly petitions the congress of the United States to make some special and appropriate recognition of the achievement of Commander Peary in reaching the North pole, and winning for the United States the prize so earnestly striven for century after century, by a great company of brave and adventurous men."

Peary delivered his illustrated lecture, showing his progress to the pole and Captain Bartlett spoke briefly.

When the doors were thrown open at 7:15 o'clock hundreds of persons were waiting to enter and until past 8:30 o'clock the stream kept up and filled all the seats.

The house was draped in American flags and the footlights were buried in furs and skins, relics of Commander Peary's Arctic trip. The sled on which he journeyed to the pole was in the center of the stage and the stars and stripes that Peary raised at the pole hung above.

When Governor Hughes led Commander Peary on the stage, the audience rose in a body and cheered as the orchestra played "The Star-Spangled Banner."

In the commander's party, occupying seats of honor, were three of the Roosevelt's crew: Captain Robert A. Bartlett, master; Dr. J. W. Goodsell, surgeon; and Charles Peery, steward; and Captain Bartlett of the relief ship "Eric."

Others on the stage were members of the honorary committee, of 22 who arranged the testimonial, including Charles B. Alexander, Henry Crows, R. Fulton Cutting, Thomas H. Hubbard, Jacob H. Schiff, Robert J. Collier, Seth Low, Isaac H. Seligman, Paul M. Warburg, Stuyvesant Fish, Adrian H. Johnson, Theodore P. Shonts, Hugh J. Chisholm, Elbert H. Gary, John Harlan Rhoades and Egerton J. Winthrop, Jr.

The committee had guaranteed Peary a cash prize of $10,000 for the testimonial but the proceeds last night exceeded $13,000, all of which will go to the commander.

As Governor Hughes spoke the audience broke into terrific cheering. The governor said, in part:

"I have no sympathy with those who inquire of what utility may be the discovery of the North pole, or a visit to those frozen regions. We can never afford to be without these examples. The journey to the North pole may seem far removed from the life of the workman in the shop, or the clerk in the office, or the busy professional man, but unless that workman and that clerk and that professional man now and then feels the stimulus of high endeavor because of such examples, he will grow weak in his own efforts and fail to show the best of the manhood of the American people. We are all, in whatever vocation we might be engaged, better tonight and more richly endowed because of the achievements of Commander Peary. All hail to the man who puts his life to a worthy purpose and wins."

Merrily Observed by French-Americans

Shrove Tuesday, or Mardi Gras, was observed last evening in jolly manner in French-American circles, and aside from the number of public gatherings in the different halls, many enjoyable house parties were held.

Mardi Gras Whist

L'Union Samuel de Champlain, French-American Foresters, observed Mardi Gras with a whist party in C. M. A. C. hall last evening, some 300 guests being present.

Joseph A. Roy, president of the committee, spoke a few words of greeting, and presented J. H. Guillet, Esq., supreme chief forester of the order, who acted as master of ceremonies.

A pleasing entertainment, given before the whist, consisted of piano solos by Miss Valentine Girard, and dances by Mr. Wilfrid Dumont, with Miss Hattie Jolbert at the piano. The whist judges were Chief Ranger Napoleon C. Grandchamps, Rev. Frs. G. F. Benoit and Lucien Racette, O. M. L. Paul Vigeant, Fred Giroux, Fred Rochefort, Arthur Lavoie, Frank Ricard and Origene Desrochers. The prize winners were A. Langlais, M. W. Mailoux, Arthur Parent, Eug. The play will undoubtedly be repeated after Lent. Mr. Caissa repeated his success of the previous evening as did Mr. Joseph Crepeau, who sustained a comedy role in faultless manner.

Pawtucketville Club

The eighth annual Mardi Gras masquerade of the Pawtucketville Social club was held at the club hall last evening and was a most delightful affair. There were many original and artistic costumes and the grand march presented a most beautiful spectacle. The march was led by President H. J. Martel and Mrs. George Abbott. Besides the costumed guests, a great many had come in ordinary dress to see the march, and participated in the dancing afterwards. The Central singing orchestra played.

The committee in charge was composed of D. L. LeDoux, president; Fred Theriault, treasurer; Arthur Grilard, secretary; Joseph Briere, Antoine Dragon and H. J. Martel, ex-officio.

Mardi Gras Party

After the rig had been well and duly admired by everybody, there was a "revue" and also a delightful program of music furnished by Mr. Arthur Coupet, cornet; Mr. Donat Guilmette, violin; Mr. Aldemar Fortier, drum and Mr. Emery Roy, trombone, with piano accompaniment.

COL. ROOSEVELT ENGLISH BUDGET THE SWOPE CASE LOSS OF $50,000

Favors Renomination of Pres. Taft

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—President Robert C. Morris of the Republican club of this city, announced yesterday that he had received a cablegram from Theodore Roosevelt authorizing the club to take the initiative in the homecoming celebration of national proportions which has been planned for him. The Republican club will now proceed with the arrangements for such a celebration. The colonel is expected about the middle of next June.

A close friend of Mr. Roosevelt in a statement regarding the former president's future, said last night:

"Before he left for his African hunting trip Col. Roosevelt told me that he would not be a candidate for United States senator from New York; that he would not think of becoming a candidate for mayor of New York; that he would not be a candidate for president in 1912. Unless he has changed his mind in the last four weeks, he is as strongly in favor of the renomination of Taft as he was of his nomination in 1908. His friendship for the president is as close and as cordial now as at any time."

"The former president's only ambition is to become a useful private citizen and to exercise the inestimable privilege of a private citizen to speak his opinions and voice his convictions. I do not believe he could be induced to run for any office. Certainly he would not think of running for congress with a view of becoming speaker of the house. There will be a great demand that Col. Roosevelt on his return shall use his influence to reorganize the republican party of New York state, which without question is sadly in need of reorganization."

May be Passed Within Fortnight

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The tariff reformers are determined to put the alliance of the liberals and the nationalists to the test at the earliest opportunity. They believe that the Irish electors are overwhelmingly in favor of tariff reform and that the Redmondites cannot be depended upon to support a free trade government.

Accordingly, Austen Chamberlain will move an amendment to the address in parliament raising the whole question of the existing fiscal system in the hope that the nationalists will either vote against the government or abstain from voting.

Premier Asquith returned to London last evening. He has called meetings of the cabinet for both Thursday and Friday and it is expected that he will go to Brighton on Friday to confer with the king. It is practically certain that the first business of parliament will be the reintroduction of the budget, which the chief liberal whip last night predicted would be passed within a fortnight. It is understood that the prime minister has decided that the estimates of the financial situation makes this course desirable, as it is expected that the question of dealing with the vote of the house of lords may prove a long and difficult business.

The various sections of the Irish party are already coming in grips. John E. Redmond, leader of the nationalists, having called a party meeting at Dublin for tomorrow, Timothy Healy, M. P. for the north division of Louth, has written a letter to Mr. Redmond, challenging his action and claiming himself, is entitled to be invited to the meeting, that Mr. Redmond has no right to discriminate between the members and that his action nullifies the party pledge.

In spite of Mr. Healy's protest, however, it is stated that Mr. Redmond has no intention of recognizing the O'Brienites as members of the party.

Miss Keller's Story Produced Sensation

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 9.—With the testimony of Miss Pearl Keller, a nurse; Dr. Ludwig Hektoen, Mrs. Swope and Dr. Frank Hall, at the inquest over the body of the late Colonel Swope in independence yesterday, came developments in the mystery of the millionaire's death of more consequence apparently than any heretofore produced.

Miss Keller's detailed story of the last moments of Colonel Swope's life produced a sensation.

She said that immediately following the death of Col. Thomas Moss Hutton, she was asked by Dr. B. C. Hyde to use her influence with Colonel Swope to have him appointed administrator of the Swope estate. Mr. Hutton had been the administrator.

On the morning of Colonel Swope's death, she testified, she gave him a three grain capsule supposed to contain dyspepsia medicine. This, she said, she did at the direction of Dr. Hyde. Twenty minutes later Colonel Swope was in a convulsion. His death soon followed.

Miss Keller also said that five minutes later Dr. Hyde appeared with Attorney John G. Paxton and secured Colonel Swope's will from his vest pocket.

Dr. Hektoen testified that one-sixth of a grain of strychnine was found in one-seventh part of Col. Swope's liver. He believed there might be a grain in the entire organ. Half a grain would cause death.

Mrs. Swope testified that Dr. Hyde knew of Colonel Swope's intention to give $150,000 to charity, and of his plan to change his will to this effect. She also said that Colonel Swope had told Dr. Hyde he had planned to give Thomas Swope the largest part of his estate. She denied she entertained any ill feeling against Dr. Hyde.

Dr. Frank Hall said he was absolutely certain Colonel Swope did not die from cerebral hemorrhage or apoplexy.

O. H. Gentry, a druggist of Independence, said he prepared the medicine for Colonel Swope, which contained elixir of iron, quinine and strychnine. The strychnine in a teaspoonful amounted to but one one-hundred and eightieth of a grain, he said.

MASTER PAINTERS

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 9.—"Conflicting color arrangements tend to lower the moral plane," declared A. M. McKenzie of Hamilton, Ont., yesterday, in a paper read before the Master House Painters and Decorators of the United States and Canada, who are in convention here.

"The craft of the master painter as a moral educator or otherwise," was the subject of Mr. McKenzie's paper which throughout carried the idea that more beautiful coloring would be a great factor in bettering moral life in the slums of the cities.

Other papers of particular interest to the trade were read during the day.

WARDEN DENIES STORIES

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 9.—"The federal penitentiary is not a clearing house of business for its wards," said Warden Moyer of the Atlanta prison yesterday in denying stories published in the eastern newspapers that Chas. W. Morse has been using the long distance telephone extensively in transacting business in New York city.

One of the publications called to Warden Moyer's attention indicated that Morse last Saturday had used the telephone in negotiations looking to the formation of the "Southern Trust of Norfolk."

Mrs. Morse and the son of the convicted banker are in Atlanta awaiting the arrival from New York of Martin W. Littleton who is expected within a few days to institute proceedings in the federal court here for Morse's release.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

The School street crossing is the most dangerous in Lowell, and in all probability the most difficult to remove by change of grade.

Dr. Wiley's sentiment in regard to small eggs is applauded by all the housekeepers. Some eggs offered for sale are so ridiculously small as to confirm Dr. Wiley's statement that some poultry raisers breed small hens as less expensive and equally productive in the number of eggs with the larger hens.

SENATOR HEYBURN'S BREAK.

Senator Heyburn showed very poor judgment in making a bitter anti-Lee speech in which he appealed to the southerners to remove Lee's statue from Washington. Any such narrow policy would keep alive the embers of hatred between the north and the south indefinitely. Fortunately, Heyburn found nobody in the senate to support him in any such sentiment.

MAYOR FITZGERALD'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

The inaugural address of Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, mayor of Boston, has won praise from those who opposed his election most bitterly. It is commended for its practical character, its breadth of view, its business-like discussion of some of the problems that most directly affect the welfare and the prosperity of the people of Boston. It is taken to indicate that Mayor Fitzgerald appreciates very fully the great responsibility placed upon his shoulders and has resolved to meet it to the best of his ability. The mayor's statement that under the new conditions he was not under obligations to any political party pleased the non-partisans immensely and led to the conviction that Mayor Fitzgerald means to use his vast power of appointment by selecting men for their fitness for office rather than for their political affiliations or their party services in the past. This is the intent of the new non-partisan charter.

THE COLD STORAGE ABUSE.

The United States government inspectors have found something of interest in the cold storage business as conducted in various parts of this country. Meat a year old, eggs equally ancient and accumulated supplies held in a state of congelation awaiting increased prices, are some of the things encountered in an inside view of a cold storage plant at New Jersey. This plant is probably no worse than many others and may be taken as a fair criterion of the whole.

Thus it appears that while the cold storage may serve to preserve meat and eggs for a reasonable time, it is used by unscrupulous hoarders to await a rise in the market. No doubt the great refrigerator plants constitute one of the instruments by which the cost of living is pushed away up. The food supply may thus be hoarded until scarcity causes an increase of price. Were it not for the protection afforded by the tariff the manufacturers could not safely keep meat or eggs or any other staple article of food a year in the refrigerator.

As the cold storage men are not always the owners of the goods stored, they cannot justly be held responsible for the length of time that meat and other foodstuffs are held in storage. It is plain from what the congressional investigation has brought to light that there should be a limit to the length of time meat and eggs shall be kept in storage. Surely the limit should not extend over from six to eight or nine months.

CRIMINAL HOMICIDES AND CONVICTION.

Dr. Andrew White, formerly president of Cornell university and subsequently ambassador to Russia, makes a very serious charge against the United States on the ground of the inadequacy of the law to prevent murders, and claiming that in consequence we have from 5000 to 8000 criminal homicides every year, while a very small proportion of the culprits are punished.

Twenty-five years ago he says there were about 1500 homicides yearly in the United States while now there are 8000. As to the percentage of murders in other countries he says:—

"Canada has 3 per 1,000,000 population; Germany less than 5; England and Scotland and Wales about 10; France about 14; Belgium, highest of all, about 16; the United States, 129. The United States can boast 43 times as many as Canada, which is just on the other side of the line, and 8 times that of Belgium where there is no death penalty."

While Dr. White's claims as to the percentage of crime and of convictions in other countries may be sustained by statistics there is no such proofs of his statements relative to this country. It is undoubtedly true that criminal homicides are very numerous in this country, but it is not true that the prevalence of such crimes is due to the small number of convictions. There are other causes peculiar to this country calculated to increase crimes and make convictions more difficult. One of these is the vast mingling of races speaking foreign languages. Each of these has its fends and its factions that fight and commit murder in a way that makes conviction almost impossible. Then, too, it often happens that one race of foreigners will quarrel with another, and as a result murders will be committed. There is, moreover, in this country a far greater struggle for existence as a result of the influx of foreigners, paupers, industrial depressions and other causes than in any other country in the world. All these conditions combine to increase the number of homicides and to lessen the number of convictions in this country. In no other country is there such a shifting population to be provided for.

Where the same people live together all their lives, where the population is fixed and not continually changing it is easier to trace out the perpetrators of crime and to secure convictions. Dr. White's wholesale charges and his comparisons are not just to the United States, although they are not without some foundation in fact.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

An advance in the salaries of public school teachers in Chicago, has been voted by the board of education, to date from January 1, 1910, and will mean the disbursement of $240,000 a year more than last year among the 6,000 teachers. Believing that a teacher is better qualified after several years of service, the superintendent, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, has distributed the increase so that the larger part falls to those who have taught more than seven years. Primary teachers from the third to seventh and subsequent years of service will receive an advance of from $25 to $40. Eighth-grade teachers will receive $50 beginning with their first year of service. Seventeen high school principals will receive an advance of $100. The present maximum of $3,200 is increased to $3,800. No increase is arranged for the first six years of service among high school principals. The lowest salary is $650, paid to teachers for their first year's work in the primary grades.

The board of trustees of the Kentucky state university, Frankfort, Ky., have elected Judge Henry S. Barker of Louisville president of the university, succeeding Professor J. K. Patterson, resigned. Judge Barker is a member of the court of appeals. Kentucky's highest tribunal.

Because he refused a chair in the faculty of Princeton university and a few weeks later also refused the presidency of a Kentucky college, President William L. McEwen of the Third Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, Pa., known as the Thaw church, has had $3,500 a year added to his salary. Dr. McEwen will now receive $10,000.

ADVICE TO WOMEN

A Message From a Famous Beauty Specialist to Women Lacking in Energy and Vitality

Thousands of women vainly attempt to improve their complexions and to remove blackheads, crows' feet and other blemishes, through the use of cosmetics. This treatment fails because the trouble lies far deeper than the skin. They are suffering from impure and impoverished blood. This condition is in many cases due to a catarrhal condition of the whole system which finds its expression in salivary glands, catarrh of the system, eyes, general weakness, dark circles under the eyes, and perhaps most plainly in the weeping of mucous membranes that is commonly called catarrh.

In fact this whole tendency is properly speaking, Catarrh. Banish this catarrh, and the complexion will clear, the eyes will brighten, the face become rosy and shoulders erect. Perfect beauty goes only with perfect health, and perfect health for women can only be obtained through one certain treatment—that which will cure catarrh.

Mme. Swift, New York, the famous beauty specialist known throughout the world and an accepted authority on all relating thereto, states that the one positive and permanent relief for catarrh is Rexall Mucu-Tone. Here is her letter:

"I can strongly endorse the claims made for Rexall Mucu-Tone as a cure for systemic catarrh. Its tonic effects are remarkable. It builds up the strength and restores vitality. If women who are tired and run down, lacking in energy and vitality, use Rexall Mucu-Tone, they will praise as I do its strengthening and healing qualities."

Rexall Mucu-Tone works through the blood, acting thus upon the mucous cells—the congestion and inflammation which causes local catarrh. This remedy causes poison to be expelled from the system, and the blood is purified and revitalized. Thus the natural functions of the mucous cells are restored, and the membranes are cleansed and made strong. We know that Rexall Mucu-Tone does relieve catarrh. We positively guarantee to refund the money paid us for this remedy in every case where the user is dissatisfied. It is a builder of vigorous health and a creator of good complexion. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Mail orders filled. It may be obtained only at our store—The Rexall Store—Hall &amp; Lyon Co., 67-69 Merrimack St.

If Tufts college decides not to remain a coeducational institution, as it probably will, segregating the girl students, a readjustment of the college buildings as they now stand will be necessary. There will be no laboratory duplication, but non-conflicting hours will be provided for the two sexes. A considerable shifting of the hours of recitation in general will obviously be necessary. But all these changes will only be temporary. Ultimately the Storrs estate, comprising a large building across the Boston &amp; Maine railroad track, will be used as an annex and the entire body of girl students will be removed to it.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Delayed a day by the blizzard, but all the better for the opportunity given to the company to rest "Bright Eyes," the new musical comedy offered by Joseph M. Galtos, who presented the big success, "The Three Twins," early in the season, was given at the Boston theatre last night to a large and delighted audience.

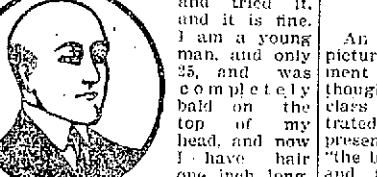

Like the "Twins," "Bright Eyes" is adapted from a straight comedy. "Mistakes Will Happen," and the beauty of this plan is that the bright lines and plot are retained, something in which the average musical comedy is weak.

The plot in this instance deals with the troubles of a secretly married stage couple in getting the play produced. They are finally enabled to succeed owing to the influence of a susceptible moneyed personage and his rather sporty wife, through their

BALD AT 25

Mr. Armstrong Tells How He Grew Hair in a Short Time

Dear Sir:—I was told of your great remedy, Parisian Sage, that I would grow hair on bald head, so I got a bottle and tried it, and it is fine. I am a young man, and only 25, and was completely bald on the top of my head, and now I have hair one inch long, with the use of only one bottle. I shall certainly keep on using it until I have a good head of hair, which I have no doubt it will bring.—Charles Armstrong, Engineer, Belleville Horseshoe and Rolling Mill Co., Belleville, Ont., August 25, 1909.

To the readers of The Sun: The Giroux Mfg. Co., American makers of Parisian Sage, wish to state that they do not guarantee Parisian Sage to grow hair on bald heads, because in most cases the hair root is dead. In the case of Mr. Armstrong, the hair root was not dead, and knowing as we do the astonishing hair growing virtue of Parisian Sage, we see no reason why it should not grow hair on the head of Mr. Armstrong.

But we do guarantee Parisian Sage (and so do Carter &amp; Sherburne), to stop falling hair, dandruff and itching scalp in two weeks or money back. Parisian Sage is a daintily perfumed hair dressing, not sticky or greasy, and is used extensively by ladies who desire brilliant and luxuriant hair that attracts and fascinates.

Large bottles, 50 cents, at druggists everywhere, and at Carter &amp; Sherburne's. Sent with the Auburn hair on every package. Mail orders filled, charges prepaid, by Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Scenically as well, "Bright Eyes" is attractive, and the ensembles worthy of admiration. Altogether a worthy companion to "The Three Twins."

POLICE BOARD

Complaint Against Junk Dealer Heard

Pikes Bechik, a junk dealer, was summoned to appear before the board of police last night to explain his methods of doing business. It being alleged that several weeks ago he purchased a number of household articles from a ten-year-old boy and paid out 25 cents for the goods.

The boy who sold the goods is Patrick Francis Monahan of Lagrange street.

Monahan appeared before the juvenile court last Friday for selling the articles of furniture and was sentenced to the Middlesex County Training school in North Chelmsford.

Patrick was very much in evidence last night.

He was given a chance to explain why he had called the junk man into the house during his mother's absence and sold him a bag of carpets, three coats, a gas stove and a parlor stove. Witness said that the man gave him but 25 cents for all the things.

Bechik took exceptions in that statement. He said that he had first given the youth 25 cents, but Patrick had held out for another nickel, which he had finally given the boy.

"I know better," it was 25 cents," was Patrick's expostulation.

At the hearing it came out that some of the property had been returned, and that the junk dealer had given Mrs. Monahan 50 cents as security for the rest.

Chairman Stearns was shocked at such depravity on the part of the junk dealer.

"I should have thought that your conscience would have pricked you," he said to Bechik. "You look as though you had something behind those eyes except grass."

Bechik admitted that he did know it was wrong to purchase the things from such a youth, and that he was doing his best to make matters right. The board remained obdurate, however, and in spite of the fact that he told them that he had a wife and three children to support, insisted on revoking his license.

When he was given to understand that the board had revoked his license, he burst into tears and drawing his fingers across his throat indicated that he would either commit suicide or it would have been better for the board to cut his throat than revoke his license, whereupon the commissioners decided to think the matter of revoking the license over for a few days and told him to call in, in a couple of weeks, at which time final disposition of the case would be made.

Some few minor licenses were passed upon and a short executive session was held, at which appeared Al Winn, the proprietor of Washington park, and Thomas Ramsey of the Belvidere hotel.

The board took the following action in regard to minor licenses:
Common victuallers granted: Jean B. Dalphon, 375 Moody street; Joseph Lescaubau, 197 Alken street; John O'Donnell, 939 Gorham street; Ulen-donne Bastian, 312 W. Sixth street.
Traveller and peddler granted: Peter Klein, 181 Howard street; William Boisenault, 78 Parker avenue, Braintree. Express granted: Oscar F. Prentiss, 356 Bridge street.

Laid on table: Billiards and pool, Albert Tworog, 24 Lakeview avenue; Common victualler, Robert J. Crawford, 625 1-2 Merrimack street; Gabriel Roy, 375 Moody street; License of sixth class, liquor, granted to Harry Woodman of the firm of Jaynes Drug Co., 121 and 123 Merrimack street.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 9.—Jack Johnson, the champion pugilist, must appear before Judge Connolly today. Johnson's latest bout with the law is over the possession of one of his fine buildings.

He declared that he was walking in Madison street when Johnson's dog, which was being given an airing by the champion himself, leaped on him and buried its teeth in his arm. Jack pulled the dog off and went on his way, while Lewis hurried to the municipal building to make a complaint. Johnson was served with a summons last night.

Will Jews Regain Possession of Palestine?

RECENT dispatches carry the news that the Jews are flocking into Palestine from all parts of the world. The dream of centuries, the establishment of a Jewish nation in the land which was the ancient home of the Hebrew race, appears to be almost upon the eve of fulfillment. Zionism, which term describes the organized movement for the return of the Jews to Palestine, is responsible in large measure for the recent influx of Jews into the Holy Land, but the proclamation of the constitution in Turkey last year is the thing that seems to have made possible some sort of Jewish preponderance in Palestine.

Jews are escaping from Persia to find shelter and protection in the Holy Land, while every ship from Odessa carries hundreds of them.

Zionists Buying Palestine.

Jewish capitalists and syndicates of Zionists are buying lands in the valley of the sacred river Jordan, once the private property of Abdul Hamid, the deposed sultan of Turkey. Agents of these syndicates are reported as being distributed all over Palestine. They are purchasing rich properties from Mohammedans who since the revolution in Turkey have been in disfavor. The Mohammedan is yielding to the Hebrew throughout the Holy Land. The Jews already may be said to rule Palestine in everything but the actual government, and they have increased hope of dominating that.

As indicated by the overwhelming preponderance of Jews in the population, Jerusalem now is essentially a Jewish city. More than a hundred Jewish schools have been established there. Banking is monopolized by the Jews. They are dominant in every branch of trade and industry. Recently the Turkish government has found it necessary to organize a company of Jewish gendarmes to co-operate in policing the city. From Europe and America, it is reported, large sums of money are being sent into Palestine to enable the poorer Jews, the persecuted refugees from Russia, Roumania and Galicia, to build homes and establish themselves on the farming land. Hospitals, invalid homes, and synagogues are springing up here and there.

The Church of the Holy Sepulcher still belongs to the Moslems, of course; but photographs show many Jews mingling in the throngs incident to the worship of the various Christian bodies who hold services there.

A recent correspondent declares that land has quadrupled in value since the Jews began to flock into the country.

Harvests such as the ignorant natives never imagined have been produced by the up to date Hebrew farmers, who have supplanted the ancient tools of agriculture with modern implements.

What Zionism Means.

A Zionist banking and commercial institution called the Anglo-Palestine company is engaged in a determined campaign in behalf of Zionism. The Turkish government is facing a problem which engages the interest of mankind throughout Christendom. Zionism is an organized effort to restore the rule of Judaism in Palestine if possible, and, failing that, to acquire landholdings to such an extent that the Holy Land will be a Jewish nation in everything but government. Some years ago a movement for the purchase of Palestine from the sultan was set on foot. The plan embraced autonomy for the Jews, with all the great nations vulturing in a protectorate. The United States was to join the European powers in this capacity. There was a branch of Zionism which contemplated the creation of a nation of Jews in East Africa, where a large area of land was offered. After several conferences this proposition was rejected. The Jews could not and would not be turned away from their determination to possess their ancient fatherland.

The present Zionist movement is only about fifteen years old. The late Dr. Theodor Herzl was at the head of the project in its inception. Max Nordau also took a prominent part. Israel Zangwill, the novelist and playwright, is one of the most enthusiastic of European Zionists. In America one of the leaders is Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, pastor and founder of the Free Synagogue in New York. Rabbi Wise was pastor of Beth Israel congregation in Portland, Ore., for several years. He is a native of Budapest, but has lived in America nearly all his life. He served as secretary of Zionism for the

Opposed by Noted Rabbis.

Zionism is opposed as impracticable by Rabbi Leon Harrison of St. Louis, Rabbi Samuel Sale and several other noted preachers of the race. They have considered the Zionists dreamers and visionaries. Zionism, aside from the ancient desire of the Jews to possess Palestine, grew out of the persecutions of the Jewish people in Russia, and other nations where anti-Semitism is rampant. Many thousands of these persecuted Jews have made their way to America, but many other thousands have found refuge in Palestine. The Zionists are spending much money to enable the downtrodden Jews to get to Palestine and gain a foothold.

It is not believed that any considerable number of Jews will leave the United States to settle in Palestine. There are now in this country approximately 1,500,000 Jews. About one-fifth of the 4,000,000 people in New York city belong to that race. Throughout the land the Jew is found prominent and prosperous in almost every line of industry. He has set in both houses of congress. He has been in the cabinet. Oscar S. Straus, who was secretary of commerce and labor under Roosevelt and now for the second time is ambassador to Turkey, was the first Jew to become a cabinet minister. His brother, Nathan Straus, is one of the nation's most noted philanthropists.

Benjamin Disraeli, Lord Beaconsfield, one of the most celebrated of England's prime ministers, proved that the Hebrew in politics and statesmanship can become a maker of history. To the stage the Jewish race has contributed Sarah Bernhardt and other famous persons. The American theater is almost entirely in the hands of Jewish managers. In literature the list of Jewish names is long, including Zangwill, Georg Brandes, Catulle Mendès, Lombroso, Sidney Lee and many others of familiar mention.

Vivacity of Jewish Race.

The vivacity of the Jewish race is one of the wonders of the world. Despised, persecuted, ruthlessly downtrodden for centuries by national decree and by individual prejudice, the Jew has made his way to opulence and power, to the respect and veneration of the thinking world. The Jews are people who hang together. That ancient, ineradicable national feeling has kept them one people wherever they have wandered. The orthodox Jews cling to their religion with a firmer tenacity perhaps than do any other religiousists.

The signs of the times in Palestine seem to indicate that things will be happening there ere long which will vindicate the so called visionaries of Zionism.

New Chief Forester and His Work For Posterity

Importance of Industry Now Headed by Henry S. Graves.
Conserving and Increasing of Forests His Study

IT is interesting to note that the new chief forester of the United States, appointed by President Taft to succeed Gifford Pinchot, removed for insubordination, has held for nearly ten years the Pinchot professorship of forestry in Yale university. The Yale forestry school was founded through the efforts of Mr. Pinchot. Henry S. Graves, the new forestry chief, was assistant chief of the bureau of forestry under Governor Pinchot from 1895 to 1900. He is a Yale graduate of the class of 1892. Like his friend and predecessor in his present important post, he was trained in forestry in this country and in Europe. Forester Graves has made this his life study. Forestry may be termed one of the learned professions—a comparatively new one, but undoubtedly of increasing importance. There are in the service about 200 trained foresters. Mr. Graves has had large experience in our western forest work. In 1897 he made the reconnaissance forest survey in the Black Hills country, a work of high importance. President Hadley of Yale, when told that Professor Graves had received and accepted the appointment, said: "I consider the appointment a most excellent one. Mr. Graves has a full knowledge of forestry and is a clear headed business man."

When we take into consideration the vast ramifications of the forest industry as developed under Mr. Pinchot it becomes evident that a clear headed business man is required to fill the place. National forest reserves contain one-fifth of all the timber standing in the United States. The timber privately owned is generally more valuable than that publicly owned, and it is the duty of the forester and his associates to conserve the national forests so to increase the value of their timber. The fact that hard work is being done on these national reserves is indicated by the recent official statement that "forestry is now practiced on 70 per cent of the forests publicly owned and on less than 1 per cent of the forests privately owned, or on only 18 per cent of the total area of forests." This indicates also that private forests are sadly neglected, simply left to shift for themselves, while public forests are carefully coached to do their best toward attaining a high standard of value and service to the people.

Originally the forests covered about 550,000,000 acres of United States territory. Now they cover only about 550,000,000 acres. This is about one-fourth of the area of the country. Approximately 300,000,000 acres have yielded to the demands of agriculture and building, being cleared of timber either by the pioneer's ax or the lumberman's saw.

It is pointed out by the experts in the forest service that there are vast areas of cleared land, practically abandoned now because the soil has become poor, which could be reforested. It is the aim of the service to reforest the burned over or bare regions in the national domains and to urge private owners of unused treeless lands to plant them to useful trees. This work, to be sure, is largely for the benefit of posterity, but it is the highly ethical theory of the forest conservers and creators that no man lives for his own generation alone.

There are large bare spots in many forests which should be reforested. On the Pacific coast the cut over areas frequently are stocked with a very scattering stand of trees and a dense growth of underbrush.

According to a recent publication of the forest service only about 25 per cent of our present producing forests is saw timber—that is, of size and fiber fit for cutting into lumber. The same authority says that from 50 to 75 per cent could be made saw timber through concentration of growth on the best trees by thinning and the holding of the crop until it reached good size.

Tree crops grow slowly. That seems to be why the people now on earth, for the most part, fail to devote their time and energy to tree planting and cultivation. Potatoes and corn bring immediate returns. Trees belong to the future so far as their harvest is concerned. But for all that the planting of trees is for the benefit of the very next generation as well as those to follow. Our own children will reap the harvest.

Overton W. Price, recent associate forester, says: "Under present conditions chestnut, cypress, redwood, yellow poplar, red and black oak, loblolly, jack, red and white pine and western yellow pine will grow past timber four to eight inches in diameter in fifteen to thirty years. We are already getting nine pines in twenty-five to thirty-five years from red or black oak and loblolly pine, from white oak in forty-five years, from lodgepole pine in sixty years, from western yellow pine and Douglas fir in the Rocky mountains in fifty years and on the Pacific coast in thirty-five years. The time now needed to grow a tree in our forests runs from thirty-five years for red gum to 150 years for white cedar and tamarack in the northern swamps."

Without the forest service a treeless nation some generations hence seems to be inevitable, since destructive agencies have been making broadroads upon the wooded area from the time of first settlement. The forest service not only has called a halt, but it has started the impetus in the other direction. ARTHUR G. BRUNTON.

What the Hetch Hetchy Bill In Congress Means

Organized National Movement Opposing Measure Seeks to Save Picturesque Part of Yosemite National Park

PROFESSOR JOHN MUIR, the great California nature lover, discoverer of the Muir glacier and many other wonders of nature in the mighty west, is leading the fight for the preservation of the Hetch Hetchy valley, an important part of the Yosemite National park.

A new bill before congress proposes to grant to the city of San Francisco a perpetual right to use the Hetch Hetchy valley as a source of water supply. In the last congress a similar bill was introduced, but such was the opposition from all parts of the United States that its supporters permitted it to die in committee. According to the opponents of the measure, this was done only to permit the advocates of the bill to try again. When the measure was reintroduced at this term Professor Muir and his associates began a systematic campaign to defeat it.

When James R. Garfield was secretary of the interior he gave San Francisco a conditional grant of this section of the national park. It was known as a "revocable right," so it was by no means final. Former secretaries of the interior had resisted all importunities of San Francisco to be permitted to invade the park.

The contention of those who seek the use of the reservation is that San Francisco has no other available water supply, the present source being inadequate. Those who oppose the taking over of Hetch Hetchy aver that several other watersheds will furnish a sufficient supply to the city, which wants this one because it will be cheapest and will save money to the taxpayers.

The struggle has aroused attention all over the United States. An editorial writer in a New York magazine says: "If a municipal waterworks is permitted to erect its plant in the Hetch Hetchy valley it means that the Yosemite park will become the back yard of a great municipal utility instead of a recreation ground for all the people of the country."

This is a very small valley, the preservation of which has become thus a national issue. "The floor of the valley," says Muir, "is about three and a half miles long and is partly separated by a bar of shaly polished granite, across which the river breaks in rapids. But Hetch Hetchy is highly picturesque. It belongs in the high sierras. 'Hetch Hetchy valley' is a name," continues quoting Muir, "to a grand landscape garden, one of nature's largest and most precious mountain mansions." Of its two chief waterfalls, Professor Muir says: "No two falls could be more unlike—Tuolumne cut in the open sunshine descending like a thundering, chattering soft and low like a summer breeze in the pines; Wapama in a jagged, shadowy gorge roaring and thundering, pounding its way down the white and energy of an avalanche."

There are three great camping grounds in the Yosemite National park. Hetch Hetchy valley is one of them, the others being the Yosemite valley and the Tuolumne meadows. Hetch Hetchy is the natural gateway to the wonderfully beautiful mountain region lying east and north of the valley. The walls of this little valley are steep, perpendicular, Yosemite-like cliffs.

While Theodore Roosevelt was president he visited the Yosemite National park with John Muir as traveling companion. These distinguished gentlemen went through Hetch Hetchy valley, Muir pointing out to Roosevelt the beauties of the region.

$17,000 DAMAGE ALDERMEN CLASH

Continued

Fire Destroyed Building in Bath

BATH, Me., Feb. 9.—Fire of unknown origin last night destroyed the Hooker building, Vine street, resulting in a loss estimated at about $17,000, with insurance of about only $10,000.

Only by the hardest kind of work, the Shannon house, at one time the home of William King, Maine's first governor, was saved from the flames.

The fact that the wind blew the flames away and that there was a brick wall on the Hooker building nearest the hotel, was all that saved the historic old building. As it was lines of hose were put through the hotel, guests packed up their belongings planning to move out and some of the help moved their trunks.

Many of the window draperies and inside curtains as well as woodwork about the windows of the hotel were burned, while considerable water was poured into the building. The loss will probably fall not far from $800, fully insured.

In the Hooker building were the grain mill of Irving C. Trufant, the grocery store of L. L. Hooker and George F. Wallace, A. M. Cutler's saloon, while in the basement were stored $1500 worth of doors and windows by Harry T. Passmore.

There seems to be considerable mystery as to where the conflagration started, some believing that it caught in the office of the grain mill, and by the fire in the saloon. Employees of Trufant, however, state that there was no fire in the building when they looked up and Mr. Cutler is equally positive that there was no fire in the stove in his loft, for his men did not work this afternoon and he closed up at about 6 o'clock. Hooker and Wallace say the fire in their store had been out all day.

Trufant estimated his grain stock at about $2500, fully insured; Hooker and Wallace place their loss at $1500, with about $500 insurance; Cutler, the saloonkeeper, $4000, insured for rising $3000; Passmore, insured for about $1200.

Mr. Hooker's building was valued at about $5000. He carried no insurance.

By the Maine Central tracks in the rear of the building was a big lot of ship knees, owned by A. L. Young of Auburn, and the damage done to them is estimated at about $1000.

MOOS ARRESTED*It is Charged Accounts are Short

SOUTH HADLEY, Feb. 9.—EX-Tax Collector Frank E. Moos of South Hadley was arrested at 8 last evening while collecting for the town. The warrant, sworn out by the selectmen, places his shortage at $1500. An examination of the collector's books showed this shortage when they were examined last July. It is said, but he has since turned in $1200 of this amount, making the final shortage $300, for which he is held.

Mr. Moos had served the town as tax collector for two years, and last summer when an expert auditor was employed on the town books it was found that there was a shortage in the tax collector's account of approximately $900. The collector was unable to explain this shortage, and claimed a mistake in the books. A careful examination failed to show any mistake, and later it was found that a number of taxpayers held receipts tax bills without credit being given for the money on the tax collector's books, the shortage then amounting to about $1200. This amount the collector turned in.

IS IMPROVING*DISTRICT ATTORNEY HIGGINS WAS OPERATED UPON

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—Dist. Atty. John J. Higgins of Middlesex county, who underwent an operation several days ago, is convalescing at the Neway hospital, where he is a patient. It was at first expected that he would be able to go home Saturday, but it will probably be next week, according to the doctors, before he leaves the institution.

MORE PENSIONS

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—A recommendation that a pension fund that will permit of the retirement with suitable provision for their support, of library employees who have become aged in service, is contained in the 55th annual report of the trustees of the Boston public library. The report has been submitted to Mayor Fitzgerald, and he is requested to urge the city government to take action in the matter. The trustees point out that it is almost impossible for the employees to save an adequate fund that will provide for them in old age from the small salaries paid them.

understand on what authority the committee made such a statement. He did not think that the committee was in a position to say that the work of the board of health could never be excelled. "Who knows what great men the future may bring forth; men who may serve on the board," he said. He allowed that the board went out of its way to throw bouquets at the board of health. He said he would vote for Dr. Pierre Brunelle, a physician of 12 years' experience and a graduate of a medical college second to none in America.

It was about at this time that the chairman called upon the city messenger to suppress Mr. Connors, but the latter continued to talk and concluded by telling the chairman that he was more to be pitied than censured.

Alderman Gray called to order at 8:35. Alderman Carmichael was absent on account of illness.

Petitions having to do with streets and sidewalks were referred to the committee on streets. The annual report of the chief of the fire department was ordered on file. Notice from the Trades and Labor Council asking to be advised of any intended action by the city council relative to labor measures prior to such action, was placed on file.

The Appropriations

The report of the committee on appropriations was taken up. Chairman Gray said he presumed the members of the board had read the report and he did not consider it necessary to read it. Ald. Connors spoke to the committee's report. He said the committee did not pay any attention to the heads of departments in getting out its report. He said the committee was filled with a desire to make a speed record.

Ald. Gray, chairman, called Ald. Connors to order. The latter did not know that he was out of order. He was from Copenhagen, and he wanted to see Gray's proof. "I don't see why I am not talking on the question," he said.

"Sit down," said Ald. Gray.

"For what reason?" asked Ald. Connors.

"No more talk about it—sit down."

"But I would like to argue the question."

"Will the city messenger please order the alderman seated?" said the chairman, somewhat exasperated.

"No need of any gallery play," said Mr. Connors. "I have said about all that I care to say and I will take my seat. You are more to be pitied than censured."

Alderman Brennan said the committee had, in his estimation, exceeded its authority, relative to its commendation of the board of health.

He said he could not consistently vote to accept the committee's report unless the words "can never be excelled" were stricken out. "It seems to me," he said, "that the committee took a good deal upon itself when it said that three men could never make a record to excel that of the present three men serving on the board, and I make a motion that the report of the committee be amended so as to omit this statement."

Alderman Connors seconded the motion. Alderman Qua arose to a point of order. His point was that the motion could not be acted upon by the board, but that the proper course, if an amendment was to be made, was to have the report re-committed. The chair ruled the point well taken.

Alderman Brennan moved that the report be re-committed, and Alderman Connors seconded the motion, which failed by a vote of 6 to 2.

The report was then accepted, and an order was adopted directing the assessors to raise the sum of $1,394,000 by taxation. It was voted to borrow money in anticipation of taxes, and it was then voted to print the annual number of copies of the report.

Dr. Brunelle's Nomination

On motion of Alderman Adams it was voted to take the appointment of Dr. Brunelle to the board of health from the table. The question came on confirmation, and Chairman Gray called for a ye and nay vote. Dr. Brunelle was declared not confirmed.

The ordinance amending an ordinance relative to the state aid department having been passed, Mayor John P. Meehan sent in the names of George E. Worthen as superintendent, and Miss Mary E. O'Brien as assistant superintendent of the state aid department. The board voted unanimously to confirm the appointments. The ordinance as amended transfers the powers of the superintendent of state aid to the assistant superintendent in the event of the superintendent's absence or incapacity, and the appointments are subject to confirmation by both branches of the city council.

Block Paving

Three new petitions for Hessian block paving came before the board and were referred to the committee on streets. One was for paving in Merrimack street, from Dutton street to Cabot street. A second was for the paving of Gorham street from Tor's corner to Davis square. A third was for paving in Thordike and Fletcher streets from Middlesex street to Liberty square.

A communication from Hon. John J. Pickman, chairman of the park commission, calling attention to the condition of Anne street, and the demand for repairs to that street was referred to the committee on streets. A petition of the Lowell Shoe company that a part of Stockpile street be accepted was also referred.

Milk Inspector's Report

Reports of the engineers of the fire department and the inspector of milk for January were placed on file. A communication from the Trades and Labor Council asking that the board and council be notified when the board contemplates action on matters pertaining to labor, was read and filed. Several routine petitions were referred to the committee on streets.

Notice of a claim against the city was received from Christopher Green, and referred to the committee on claims. The board gave its endorsement to two applicants for state charters. Routine appointments were confirmed.

The Common Council

It was 9 o'clock when President Jewett of the common council rapped to order last evening and at that hour there were 23 members present.

The amendment to the ordinance regarding the superintendent and assistant superintendent of state aid was accepted, and adopted on the part of the council. Several petitions in regard to repairing and paving streets were referred to the committee on streets.

Claims for damages against the city were referred to the claims committee.

A joint order requesting the city solicitor to appear before the legislature in support of the corporation taxation bill was adopted in concurrence.

A communication from the Trades and Labor Council, and reports from the state aid department, and the health department were ordered on file.

At 9:10 a recess of 15 minutes was taken to await new business sent down from the aldermen.

The council reconvened at 9:15. The appointments of George E. Worthen as superintendent of state aid and Miss Mary E. O'Brien as assistant superintendent were confirmed.

The reports of the chief engineer of the fire department and of the appropriations committee were received and ordered on file.

The joint order to borrow money in anticipation of taxes was adopted in concurrence with the aldermen.

A joint order for printing the report of the appropriations committee was adopted. Adjourned at 9:45.

Streets Committee
At the conclusion of the city council meetings last night, the committee on streets held a meeting.

On motion of Councilman Gones, it was voted to ask the city engineer for estimates on smooth paving of Merrimack street from Dutton to Cabot streets.

A committee consisting of Alderman Gray and Councilmen Dow and Brady, was appointed to ascertain from the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. whether they will lay tracks in Appleton street, to relieve congestion at the corner of Middlesex and Central streets.

It was also voted to ask the city engineer for estimates on smooth paving on Middlesex street to the Franklin school and Gorham street from

Tower's corner to Davis square.

Other petitions regarding macadamizing streets were laid on the table with the understanding that a view would be taken when the snow disappears.

A petition that South Wilder street be laid out and opened to the public from Parker to Midland street, was laid on the table for a view and hearing.

A petition that Stratham street be accepted and another that Llewellyn street be accepted was laid on the table as was a petition for macadamizing Gates street. Several petitions in regard to laying out of sidewalks and that edgstones be laid, were laid over for views and hearings.

$800,000 ESTATE CARL PIHL INJURED

Was Left by Former Springfield Pelham Electric Car Crashed Into Coachman Named Nelson His Sleigh

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 9.—With the death of George D. Nelson in this city yesterday there came to an end the interesting career of a person whose antecedents, as well as his prosperity during a 20-year residence in Springfield, were shrouded in mystery.

Nelson was one of the best known characters in the city and, with no known relatives to share in his wealth, he leaves an estate roughly valued at $800,000.

More than 20 years ago George D. Nelson made his first appearance in Springfield. He came from the west and his mission here was to deliver to William Bliss, formerly president of the Boston & Albany railroad, two valuable horses.

He then accepted a position as coachman for Mrs. Emma Goodrich Vinton, who inherited the large Goodrich estate on Franklin street. When Mrs. Vinton died, about five years ago, she bequeathed all her property, valued at a half million at least, to Mr. Nelson. The Vinton heirs contested the will, but the courts decided in favor of Mr. Nelson.

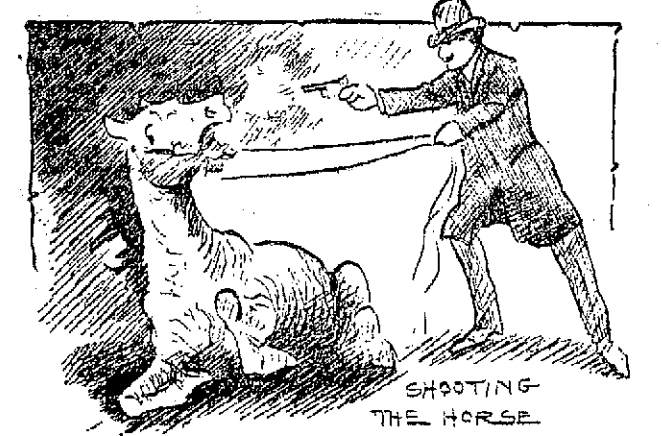

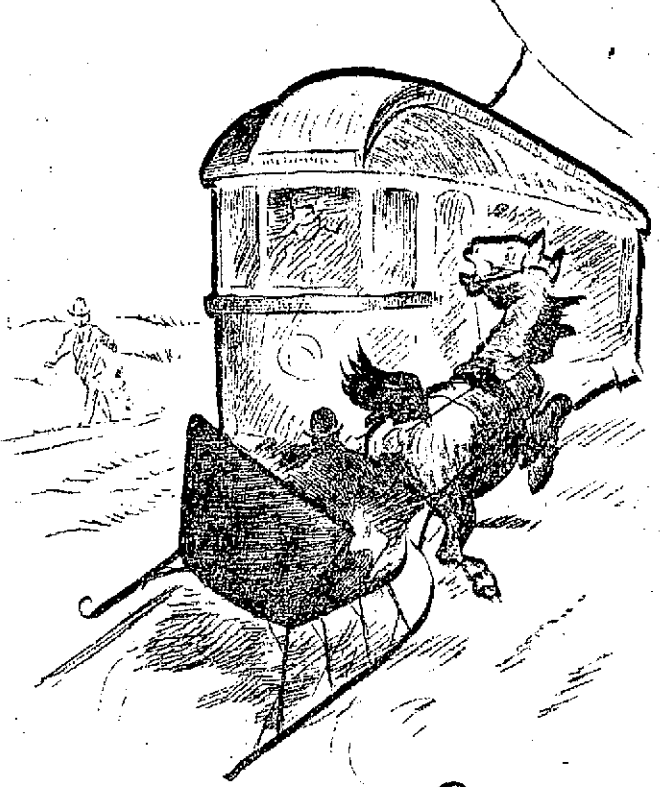

Mr. Nelson, through buying the horses for Pres. Bliss, was given a position a few years afterward as freight dispatcher for the railroad, having in charge the task of clearing the sidings in case of blockades.

He retired from this position after several years of service and then devoted his time to the management of the Vinton and Nelson properties. He erected the Nelson theatre and later remodeled a block at the corner of Maine and Hammond streets into the Nelson hotel.

He reserved a room for himself at the hotel, and it was there that he died at 2.45 yesterday afternoon, following an illness of several months with Bright's disease.

A few years ago Nelson and one of the lessees of the hotel, Daniel H. Buckley, had an argument over the wording of a certain clause in the lease. Nelson bet $10,000 to $1000 that he was right, and when an examination of the document showed him to be in error, he put his hand in his pocket and took out $10,000, which he handed over to Buckley.

Nelson is believed to have been about 65 years old.

TRIED SUICIDE MORE WITNESSES

Woman Attempted to Drown Herself Heard in Alleged Graft Case

REVERE, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Annie F. Monroe of Boston, nearly succeeded in drowning herself at Revere beach yesterday afternoon. She walked into the water near the foot of Beach street, and when first seen was standing in the surf up to her waist.

Wm. T. Rooney and Samuel Oppenheim were at the corner of Beach street and caught sight of the woman just as she threw herself into the surf. The two men rushed into the water and dragged her out.

She had been rolled over several times by the waves and had swallowed considerable water, and it was with much difficulty that she was carried into the Metropolitan park police station, where she was treated by a physician. Later she was taken to the first hospital in Chelsea.

The woman appeared rational, but could give no reason for her act. She gave her address as 183 Elliot street, Boston, and her age as 42 years.

"BATTERY DAN"

Was Attacked by Commissioner Clement

ALBANY, Feb. 9.—Because of what is termed "his unwarranted, unjust and unlawful hostility to the enforcement of the provisions of the liquor tax law," "Battery Dan" Finn, magistrate in the borough of Manhattan, was attacked yesterday by Commissioner Clement of the state excise board, who began a proceeding in the supreme court for the removal of Finn from office.

The charges upon which the proceeding is based contain 132 specifications of different excise cases pending before Magistrate Finn between April, 1909, and Nov. 1 of the same year. In each of these cases, it is alleged, evidence was offered to show that an offense had been committed and to warrant the revocation of the defendant's trial at the court of special sessions. Commissioner Clement states in his petition for the removal of Finn that in refusing to hold the saloon keepers for trial the magistrate failed properly to perform the duties of his office and did "wrongfully, wilfully, unlawfully, unjustly, unlawfully and fraudulently discharge the said defendant and by such acts showed himself incompetent to act as such city magistrate."

The persistent discharge of saloon keepers brought before him for violations of the excise law shows, says the state commissioner, "an unwarranted, unjust and unlawful hostility to the enforcement of the liquor tax law and a corrupt intent to deprive the state of the application for Finn's removal will be heard at the courthouse in Manhattan Feb. 15.

POLICE OFFICER GERTRUDE YATES

Rescued Three Persons The "Gold Tooth" Girl is Missing

WATERTOWN, Feb. 9.—Two young women and a man who went to their rescue had a close call from being drowned in the Charles river yesterday afternoon, and but for the prompt appearance of metropolitan park officer E. J. Doyle all three would have lost their lives.

The accident happened near the North Beacon street bridge, opposite the arsenal. The young women were Miss Teresa Zogel, 20 years old, of 18 Jefferson street, Newton, and Miss Alice Hanson, 18, of 161 Brown ave., Roslindale, who was visiting Miss Zogel.

The young women broke through the ice, and their cries attracted Albert Cardon of Fayette street, Newton. The latter took off his overcoat and threw it to the struggling girls, but they were too chilled to seize the garment. Mr. Cardon then attempted to reach the pair, and the ice broke under him, and he too was soon struggling in the water.

Just about this time officer Doyle, who was attracted by the cries of the girls, appeared on the scene, and with the ladder and rope kept nearby by the park authorities, succeeded in getting all three out of the water.

NIGHT EDITION

NEW FIRE APPARATUS

Truck Will Arrive in This City in a Short Time

The long overdue automobile protective for the local fire department ought to be delivered in this city within ten days or two weeks. Chief Homer this morning received a communication from the Knox company in Springfield, stating that the machine had been painted an English vermilion with gold trimmings and inquired as to what lettering was desired on the auto.

Lieut. Dearth of Truck 3 of this city is now at the factory working with a demonstrator in order that he may learn the mechanical construction of the apparatus. In the event of the auto getting out of order Lieut. Dearth will be the man called upon to make the necessary repairs and adjustments.

The New Aerial Truck
Chief Homer in conversation with a representative of The Sun this morning said that he was very favorably impressed with the new American-La France truck, which was installed at the West Centralville fire station yesterday, but did not like the idea of the tillerman being seated so high from the ground. He favors the man at the wheel being under the ladder like the tillerman on the Babcock truck.

He is of the opinion that if the small ladders on the new truck were pushed forward the wheel could be placed under the big ladder.

A representative of the C. M. Perkins Co. of Lawrence arrived in Lowell this noon and immediately started the work of setting up the motor and pump for charging the compressed air tanks on the new truck.

It is expected that the truck will be tested Saturday in front of the West Centralville fire house and if at that time it meets with the approval of the chief and members of the committee on fire department it will be accepted and immediately placed in service.

Unavoidable Accident
An investigation into the cause of the collision between the Babcock truck and Engine 3 in Palmer street last night while the two pieces of apparatus were responding to an alarm from box 77 has resulted in Chief Homer stating that it was due to the breaking of the tiller lock on the truck and was unavoidable.

The tiller lock is made of composition and had recently been repaired, but broke last night and the tillerman was unable to control the rear wheels which ran into the horses attached to the engine, injuring one of the animals.

The chief is going to try to have the Babcock truck equipped with a knuckle tiller lock somewhat similar to that on the new truck.

Busy Day in Boston
Chief Homer was in Boston yesterday. He attended the meeting of the Massachusetts State Firemen's Association in the morning and in the afternoon was present at the meeting of the Chiefs' club. He was to have been one of the invited guests at the annual ball of the Boston firemen's department held at night, but did not remain to attend that function.

Chimney Fire
A portion of the fire department was called to a house at 573 Central street belonging to Mrs. E. Abbott at 9:06 o'clock this morning to extinguish a fire which had its inception in the chimney. There was no damage.

BRUTAL MURDER

Mutilated Body of Five-Year-Old Girl Found

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 9.—The brutal murder of a five year old girl was revealed by the finding of her mutilated body in an old broken down barn here today. The gruesome discovery was made by the child's father, Harry Tishkowitz, at the head of a party of friends and neighbors who had been scouring the neighborhood all night and today in search of the missing little one. Lying on a heap of refuse in one corner of the dilapidated structure was the body, from which practically all the clothing had been stripped. Around the girl's neck a waist belt that the child had worn was tightly twisted. There was every evidence that the girl had struggled to the limit of her small strength against the ravisher who had finally strangled his victim to death. The little one's outstretched arm still grasped a penny which had evidently been the lure which drew her to the dismal interior and to her death. The police are searching the city for the murderer, but to whose identity, however, no clue has yet been discovered.

Miss Edith McCallum Jumps

Into Pawtucket Canal

Deliberated Over Her Rash Act in Presence of Many Spectators for Nearly an Hour—Victim's Hat Identified by Her Father

After deliberating for nearly an hour in the vicinity of Pawtucket falls as to just where she would commit the rash act, Miss Edith McCallum of 38 Sutherland street, a well dressed young woman committed suicide in the Pawtucket canal this morning in view of several persons who had been watching her intently, yet none had the presence of mind to prevent her carrying out her tragic intention.

The young woman, who was apparently about 20 years of age, threw herself into the canal about 100 yards below the Pawtucket bridge, or directly opposite the foot of Mt. Vernon street. At this point a small board platform extends out over the canal wall and after removing her hat, gloves and combs and placing them on the snow at the canal wall, she climbed over the small iron fence onto the platform and threw herself into the swiftly rushing waters.

A young man who had seen her cried to her and ran along the canal wall toward the spot where she had gone and after she had gone down once saw her come to the surface again, her clothing floating on the water so as to keep her head above water. For the distance of about 100 feet, the unfortunate girl screamed at the top of her voice but making no apparent effort to save herself. Her body was seen from a point in the rear of the Sawyer block now in process of construction in Pawtucket street next to the C. M. A. C. building, where she disappeared from view just as Wilbur Sawyer was throwing a rope to her. She was seen floating by several women and by the members of Dr. Roy's family for she disappeared from view just below Dr. Roy's house, the rear of which faces the canal.

Suicide's Description

The description of Miss McCallum at the time was meagre. She was five feet four inches, of medium weight, rather light complexion, about 20 years of age, wearing black hat, brown coat and skirt. The hat, which is in the possession of the police, is a wide brimmed black velvet hat trimmed with black silk ribbon. The crown is round and the brim quite wide. It is evidently a hat trimmed at home on a frame, as it does not bear the name of any milliner. In it were two ordinary hairpins, one with a blue head and the other black. The gloves were of brown kid in good state of preservation, size 6 1-4, and the buttons bearing the name "Backmo." The combs, a black comb and two side combs, were of the ordinary brown bone make. The girl was neatly attired. The spectators who were nearest to her state that her appearance indicated that she was in a delicate condition.

Came from Pawtucketville

The young woman was first noticed by Edward Powers, employed by Morrison's market in Pawtucket, square, shortly after 9 o'clock, when she turned the corner of Riverside street and walked to the bridge, looking around frequently as she walked. Her actions aroused his attention and he watched her. She went across the street and stopped near the gate house as if she were watching the locusts at work at the falls. Upon crossing the street her actions caught the attention of Mr. Joseph Perkins, the well known Pawtucket barber, whose place of business commands a view of the bridge, and that of his employee, Mr. George Cummings. After watching her a few minutes, Mr. Cummings remarked jokingly, "I wonder if she is contemplating suicide." Meanwhile others were watching her, and a man named Esteban, who drove by, remarked, "She must be trying to commit suicide." After remaining by the gate house for some time, the young woman crossed the street and started down the snow covered stairway to the canal wall. Then both Messrs. Powers and Cummings left their stores and watched her from the bridge. After proceeding about 50 feet along the walk she suddenly went down the steep bank of the river to the water's edge.

Mr. Powers cried out to her to come away from there, while Mr. Cummings started to go toward the upper part of the bridge where he could enter the canal walk. In response to Mr. Powers' cries the young woman returned to the canal wall and running along the walk as fast as she could and continually looking behind suddenly stopped at the point above mentioned, where she smelt platform projects, and removing her hat and gloves deliberately climbed over the rail.

Cummings Gave Chase

Crying to her to stop, Mr. Cummings ran down the steps onto the canal wall and after her, but before he could reach her she had jumped into the water. When he got to the point where she was the woman was gone, leaving only that he would get a rope. She replied faintly, "I can't." Mr. Cummings ran at full speed ahead of her to a point opposite the rear of the Sawyer block, where he cried out to the workmen that a woman was in the canal. Mr. Sawyer hearing his cries, procured a rope and ran down to the edge of the canal bank, but he arrived just as she disappeared under the dark waters to be seen no more.

Once Charles Hamilton was on the scene a few moments after the unfortunate young woman disappeared and toured the canal bank in hope that the body might come to the surface, but up to the time of going to press no trace of it had been found. Officer Hamilton then took possession of the hat, gloves, etc., and made a thorough search of the canal wall, assisted by several newspapermen, to see if anything else that would lead to her identity could be found. The search availed nothing. Inquiry was then made through Little Canada and the new Moody street part of Pawtucketville for a woman of the young woman, but without results.

Body Identified

Shortly after two o'clock this afternoon it was learned that the unfortunate girl was Edith McCallum, aged 20 years and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCallum of 38 Sutherland street, Centralville. The girl's father identified the hat which was in the possession of the police, as the hat which his daughter when she left the house this morning.

Mr. McCallum while passing through Merrimack square this afternoon saw by the newspaper bulletins that an unknown girl had jumped into the canal and knowing his daughter's condition and the manner in which she had acted of late he rushed over to the police station for information.

When he was shown the hat that had been left behind, Mr. McCallum covered his face in his hands and cried: "My God! It is my Edith. I knew she would do it. I knew she would do it."

After several minutes Mr. McCallum was able to compose himself and give the police information relative to his daughter. After the story had been told there was no doubt in the mind of the police that the girl was McCallum's daughter and that her attempt to end her life was a deliberate one.

According to the story told the police in the presence of a representative of The Sun, the girl had been keeping company with a young man, a resident of this city, and who has been employed in one of the large department stores in Boston. They were having even so far as to take out a marriage license. Time dragged on, however, and the father took his daughter over to the clerk of the police court last week and a paternity warrant was made out, but it was expected that the man in question expected this and when the police went to serve the warrant it was found that he had left the city.

Mr. McCallum had tried to comfort his daughter, but she became despondent and her actions indicated that she was laboring under a great mental stress.

She left the house about 8:20 o'clock this morning and undoubtedly after walking about for a while went to the Pawtucket canal and jumped into the water.

The girl was the oldest of ten children.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A congestion of buying orders caused violent advances in the opening prices of stocks. Amal, Copper started 2 1/2 higher than last night's closing price; Great Northern 2 1/4; Ches. & Ohio 2 1/4; Southern Pac. Reading & Am. Smelting 2 1/4; Union Pac. Rock Island & New York Central 2 1/4; U. S. Steel 1 1/4; Atch. and Consolidated Gas 1 1/4; and St. Paul, Denver & Rio Grande, Baltimore & Ohio, Interborough Met. pfd; Northern Pac. and Can. Pac. 1 1/4 to 1 1/2. There were ten thousand shares of U. S. Steel sold at 76 1/2 to 76 3/4 with following sales at 77 compared with 77 1/4 last night.

Realizing sales made only a slight impression on prices and after an interval of quiet, the market started up briskly again, rising fractionally above the opening prices. U. P. gained 3 points, Ches. & Ohio 2 1/2 and St. Northern 2 1/4.

There were fractional additions to the advance before profit-taking sales gained weight enough to carry prices backward. Bonds were firm.

Fluctuations were extremely narrow but there was an easier tone to the market, prominent stocks generally ruling a fraction below the high prices of the forenoon. Utah Copper gained 3 points.

Boston Copper Market

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—There was a decidedly better feeling regarding local copper stocks at the opening today and in the first hours the entire list advanced sharply with Lake again taking the lead. At noon the market was broad and active, with values well maintained.

STOCK MARKET GOSSIP

During the first hour of trading this morning the market displayed a favorable impression to the traders and although the trading of the early hours of the session was not of an exuberant nature still it tended somewhat to relieve the anxiety that abounded during the closing hours of the market yesterday. The declines of yesterday's session while general on the board, discouraged the trading of the day to the extent that a few of the stocks that were mentioned during the morning as good risks materialized. Some of the stocks, however, that have managed to hold closely to one quotation, held out from the onslaught, and while a decline of a fraction or more was noticed, still the holders of the stocks were not easily moved and the holdings were not given to the market. A stock that has been absorbing more or less of the attention of the traders for several weeks is Indiana, a stock that was placed on the Boston market last week. The comparatively short time that this stock remained on the list was astonishing to the followers of the market. The stock has made continual leaps since it was introduced to the market and some of the "prophecy" are expecting great things from this stock. Some of the men who are behind the movement claim that the stock is yet in the ascendant, and will not stop until the upper figures are reached. The stock this morning at the first sale was offered at 36 1/4 of a point higher than the close of yesterday's market. The second sale and the following sales of the holding brought increases and it was selling at 36 1/4 before the noon hour.

North Butte, another stock that has been watched with eagerness by the traders for some time past on account of the declining streak that it seems to be ready for the reaction. Much local interest is centered on this stock and a large number of shares are held by local parties. The stock was considered to be one of the best investments of the Boston board before the decline came. The interests which have been working against the stock, have done their work so cleverly that the real worker has never been located.

The monthly statement of the copper interests, on metal statistics, expected tomorrow, many think will show a bullish spirit.

$500,000 FIRE

Destroyed Brighton Stockyards but Live Stock Was Saved

Three Men Reported Missing and May Have Perished in the Flames—Good Work by Firemen Prevented General Conflagration

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—Boston's beef supply was nearly "cornered" by a fire which destroyed approximately half a million dollars' worth of property at the Brighton stockyards early today. Fortunately several hundred head of cattle were turned loose from the burning building and none of the live stock was destroyed. The fire is thought to have originated in the engine room of the New England Rendering Co.'s building connected with the Brighton abattoir on North Market street. The blaze spread to the cat-tieshed of the Boston Packing Co. within a few minutes and threatened for a time to wipe out the entire abattoir plant which is comprised of 17 buildings and covers nearly twenty acres.

The fire was discovered by two watchmen in the New England Rendering Co.'s building early in the morning. When the firemen arrived in response to the first alarm the flames were shooting out of the six story wooden building and threatening to spread to the rest of the abattoir and a tenement district across North

Market street. A third alarm was immediately rung in and was followed by a fourth. By hard work the firemen succeeded in confining the flames to the building of the Rendering company and the cattle shed. The latter structure was only partially burned but the other was a total loss. In it was much valuable machinery and a large stock of goods.

The exact cause of the fire is not known. When the management assembled the workmen of the abattoir, after the fire had been practically extinguished, Michael Egan and two Poles were missing.

It was known that Egan just before the fire broke out went to one of the upper floors for lunch and his usual short nap and no one saw him come out of the building. The whereabouts of the two Poles was more of a mystery but no trace of them could be found in the neighborhood up to 9 a. m. Neither were their names known. The building burned so rapidly that it was generally believed that Egan and possibly the Poles were caught in the upper floors and were unable to escape.

CAPITALIZATION OF $10,000,000

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—John Hays Hammond and D. J. Sully, associated with several men prominent in the cotton business in the south, and planning the organization of a cotton securities company which probably will have a capitalization of $10,000,000. The scope of the new organization will be very broad for it being a holding corporation it will also become an operating company and will go in for the introduction of improved cotton gins and other machinery of the trade which is expected to have a decided effect on the production of cotton manufactures. Existing cotton companies would not be affected adversely by the new corporation; in fact, it is probable that it will have relations with many of them.

That feature of the organization is still, however, unsettled by the promoters and further than mere announcement of the plan and its first principles no statement would be made today by Mr. Hammond.

Mrs. Ida L. Hobart Presents Her Claim

For Estate of the Late William D. Hobart, Whose Will Left All to Margaret Handley—Widow's Petition Filed With Probate Court Today

Mrs. Ida L. Hobart who claims to be the widow of the late William D. Hobart has appeared in town and as the result of her visit William A. Hogan, representing her today, petitioned the probate court to establish her identity as the widow of the deceased.

It will be recalled that Hobart died and left his estate, supposed to amount to about $400,000, to Margaret Handley, who had befriended him several times during his latter years. The will was contested by a niece, Mrs. Welton, and a two days' hearing on the case was held by Judge Chamberlain in the probate court, after which he made a decree sustaining the will. An appeal was then entered and is now pending. In the meantime, however, a woman has turned up who claims that she married the testator in Lowell in 1873 and that they had never been divorced. A marriage certificate is on record at city hall showing that such a marriage took place. At the hearing before Judge Chamberlain Lawyer Nathan D. Pratt testified that Hobart, when applying to him to have a will made assured him that he had never been married.

Report of Appropriations Committee Lavished Praise on Board of Health, as Making a Record That Could Never be Excelled—Alderman Brennan Moved to Have Report Recommitted—Motion Lost—Other Matters Acted Upon

Alderman Gray and Alderman Connors clashed at the special meeting of the board of aldermen held last night. Alderman Gray, who is chairman of the board of aldermen, refused to hear Mr. Connors on matters that appeared to him as being apart from the controversy, and he told the aldermen in no uncertain tones to sit down. Alderman Connors didn't feel like the aldermen in no uncertain tones to sit down. He told the chairman a thing.

He made it so strong that the city messenger was called upon to call him to order, but the city messenger's services were not necessary. The whole trouble had to do with the report of the committee on appropriations. Alderman Connors criticized the committee for the spring. It had made relative to time, and indicated that the estimates of the departments had not been thoroughly considered. Alderman Connors said that the committee on appropriations had exceeded its authority and he laid special stress upon one section of the report, which read as follows:

"Whereas this board (referring to the board of health) has been a working board from the start and, compared as it is of three busy professional men, it has already established a record which can never be excelled."

Alderman Connors could not quite contain himself and he said:

HUSBAND AND WIFE MURDERED

CLEVELAND, Feb. 8.—The bodies of John Janowski and his wife were found in their home on River avenue by the police today. It is believed that both were murdered last Sunday night by a visitor whose name is not known. Mr. and Mrs. Janowski, both of whom were under thirty years of age, had not been seen about the house since Sunday and their absence was reported to the police who investigated. The door was forced open. Lying upon the floor the bodies, each in a pool of blood, were discovered. They had been strangled.

A woman neighbor said a stranger called upon the couple Saturday night and there was much drinking. She said she did not know the visitor except that he was called John. Later the woman said she saw the man leave alone.

RIVER SEINE RISING

PARIS, Feb. 8.—The river Seine had risen 9 inches in this city during the 24 hours ending at noon today. The rise is due to the increased volumes of its affluents above Paris, which were swollen by yesterday's rain and melting snow. The hydrographic department predicts a continued rise until Friday when it will reach a height of over twenty-two feet at Pont Royal and equal the flood level of 1852.

Although confident that there is no danger of a repetition of the recent disaster, the authorities are taking thorough precautions. The level of the parapets at low places throughout the length of the city is being hastily raised by improvised dikes. The return of high water threatens greatly to retard the work of repair which is in progress. The waters which had dripped below the mouths of the sewers are again pouring into the conduits, drowning the electric light and power lines in the vicinity of the place de l'Opera. While service has been resumed on several sections of the subway the management holds out no hope that the main line passing St. Lazare station will be restored for another month.

I KILLED, 20 HURT

In Frightful Car Crash at Hindsdale, on Pittsfield Line

Big Car, With 105 Passengers, Coasted Down Steep Grade and Jumped Track at Bottom—Miss Bessie Ryan Killed and Twenty Seriously Injured—Slippery Rails the Alleged Cause

PITTSFIELD, Feb. 8.—Coasting uncontrolled down a steep grade for a half mile today a big double-truck electric car on the Pittsfield street-railroad jumped the track on a curve at the foot of the hill and crashed into the abutments of a railroad bridge, killing one person and injuring eighteen others, none fatally.

The accident happened in the town of Dalton, about a mile and a half west of Hindsdale Center. The rails were slippery with frost and the combined application of air brakes and hand brakes failed to check the speed of the car.

Story of Accident

Rails made slippery by frost, were responsible for the accident causing the death of one person and more or less serious injuries to twenty others in a trolley car accident at Hindsdale, 12 miles from this city, early today. Miss Bessie Ryan of Hindsdale was killed. The injured were brought to the hospital in this city. So much time was consumed in attending to their injuries that there was considerable delay in making known the identity of the victims. There were 105 passengers on board the car which was of double truck construction. The car left Hindsdale for Dalton and this city at 6:15 a. m. About a mile west of Hindsdale village there is a heavy grade and at the foot of the hill the road takes a sharp turn to pass under an overpass bridge of the Boston & Albany division of the New York Central railroad.

The rails were slippery with frost and when the car struck the heavy grade the brakes failed to hold. Although Motorist Thomas Murray of Dalton reversed the power the car coasted rapidly down the grade and when it reached the curve it jumped the track and smashed into the abutments of the bridge.

Some of the passengers were able to jump from the car before the crash came but most of them were on board when the car struck the stone pier. The car was demolished and everyone on board was badly shaken up. Those whose injuries were confined to bruises and shock immediately turned their attention to the more seriously hurt, some of whom were carried to farmhouses in the vicinity. Word was sent to Hindsdale, Dalton and Pittsfield for doctors.

A special car was sent from this city to bring back the injured. When it had reached a point near the scene of the accident the relief car jumped the rails and there was considerable delay before it could be replaced on the track and sent to this city, with the sufferers on board.

Eighteen of the injured were brought to the House of Mercy in this city, where ten physicians were in waiting to give them the necessary attention. The injured were:

Andrew Ryan, brother of the girl who was killed.
John Willard.
Frank Shea.
Mary Burns.
Ernest Cahill.
John Harrington.
Annie McCormick.
May McCormick.
Emily Welsh.
John Doherty.
William Doherty.
Mary Dwyer.
David Walker.
May Collins.
Patrick Carroll.
Kitty Cuddy.
William Cuddy.
Miss Urban.

The stories told by some of the 75 passengers on the car agree in the important details. It is estimated that at the instant the crash came the car was traveling at a speed of 50 miles an hour. Just as the car had entered on the steep grade near the Catholic cemetery in Dalton the motorist tried to stop to take on a passenger. The rails were slippery and the car was unable to stop. Conductors Owen Blake of Dalton, who was in the car collecting fares, noticed that something was wrong and he rushed to the rear vestibule and applied the hand brake. The car's speed was checked for a moment, but the application of both brakes, which were jammed between seats, at a tremendous rate when it jumped the track on the curve at the foot of the half mile hill and crashed into the railroad bridge abutment.

The car struck the stone pillar a glancing blow, ripping off the front top and the right side. Miss Bessie Ryan was sitting in the third seat from the right with Miss Mary Burns. When the crash came Miss Ryan was crushed between two seats and her head was squeezed into a shapeless mass. Her death was instantaneous. All of the passengers were thrown down forward. Some were jammed between seats, others were cut by broken glass, while still others were bruised by the terrific shock.

During the forenoon General Manager Dolan and Director Bartholomew Brickley issued a statement in behalf of the Pittsfield Street Railroad company, in which they stated that the car was thoroughly inspected before being sent out this morning and that it was one of the best cars owned by the road. They understood that the brakes failed to work on account of the frost making the rails slippery.

Medical Examiner Henry Colt interviewed Motorist Murray and Conductor Blake, and was informed that there was no sand on the car.

At the House of Mercy it was stated that all of the injured would recover.

SECY BALLINGER ACTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Secretary Ballinger today withdrew from public entry more lands supposed to possess valuable water power sites or deposits of minerals.

More than 16,000 acres along the Brenau river in Idaho and about 25,000 acres along the Salmon river in Idaho were withdrawn temporarily in aid of proposed legislation to affect water-power sites.

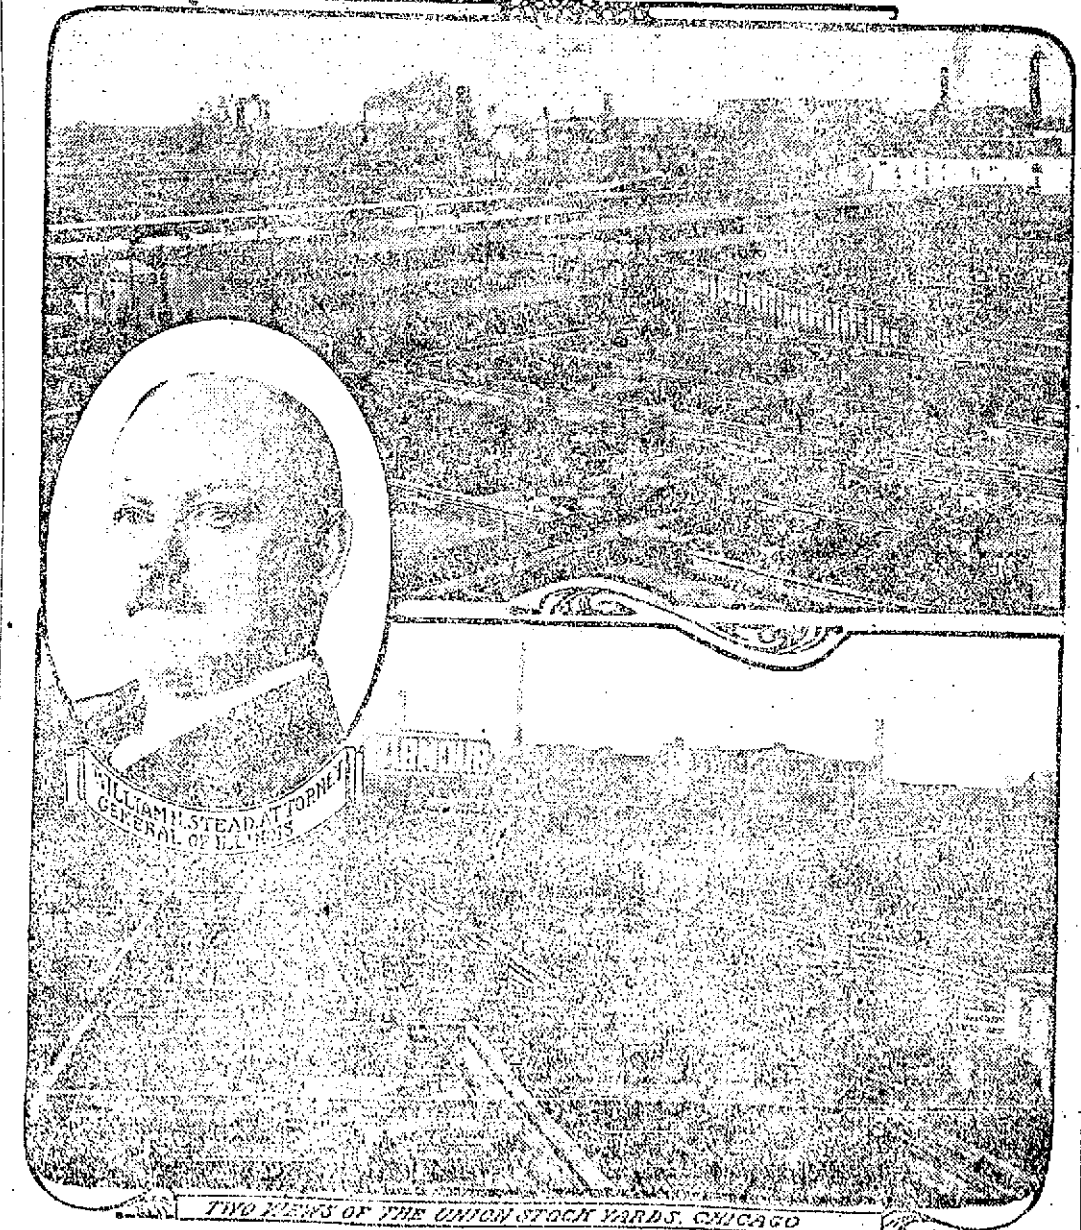

The secretary also withdrew more than a half million acres in Wyoming supposed to contain valuable coal deposits.

CHICAGO STOCKYARDS UNDER PROBE—OFFICIAL WATCHING THE INVESTIGATION

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—The investigation will be put in state action as the result of the beef trust that is being exposed by William H. Stock, attorney representing the public. The government has taken the matter into its own hands, but the state of Illinois has proceeded against the packers. For many years the Union stockyards, to which cattle are brought from all parts of the west, have been the monopoly of the National Packing company, the holding company of the line, one of the most interesting sights of which in whose hands the prosecution, meat corporations, was in violation of Chicago.

LATEST MORAN WON BOUT

Matty Baldwin Did Not Show Usual Form

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—Superior general-ship and faster and cleaner hitting with both hands won for Owen Moran, the English featherweight, in his 12 round bout with Matty Baldwin at the Armory A. A. last night.

Moran began to display his old form after the fifth round and Baldwin did not show as well as he did in their engagement a few weeks ago.

It was with his left that Moran did the most hitting although he drove his right hand under the heart many times. Baldwin was away off most of the time in his speed and his judging of distance and his hitting at times was bad.

In the opening bout, Henry Hall and Joe Brown, both colored, put up a slam bang go that lasted less than a round. It looked bad for Hall at the start, but crossing the right to the jaw he sent Brown down for the count.

The result of the second bout was a surprise. Jim Carr of Charlestown was substituted for Eddie Conley against Joe Nelson of Lawrence, as Conley sustained an injury to his hand. Going into the bout off the reel as Carr did, made the members feel that Nelson had a cinch. By using good headwork, however, Carr beat the tough proposition from Lawrence in about every round and was given the decision.

The semi-final contest of six rounds between Dan Sullivan of Cambridge and Joe Garry of Roxbury did not appear very strongly to the members, as Garry did too much stalling. When he did hit it was with the open glove. Sullivan jabbed him repeatedly and was given the decision.

MALONE DEFEATED

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—Pal Moore outclassed Mike Malone in the windup at the Douglas A. C. last night. Malone was fortunate to stay the limit, as he was in bad shape after the third.

Moore was a big winner at the final bell. Malone went down for the count five times, and although he weathered the storm, he had one of the worst beatings handed him that he has had in his long career.

Moore proved that he carried a wallop in either mit, and he punched Malone all over the ring after the third round.

AL DELMONT WINS

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Feb. 9.—Al Delmont of Boston was given the decision over Freddie O'Brien of Chelsea here last night at the end of 10 rounds of tame fighting. Delmont easily won, but he was apparently holding himself for his bout with Pal Moore next Friday night.

O'Brien appeared to be giving him assistance. The last three rounds were the only ones in which either displayed any of his cleverness as a first-class boxer.

What the final bout lacked in enthusiasm was made up in three ripping preliminaries. Tommy Furey of Attleboro and Young O'Neill of Woonsocket went 10 furious rounds to a draw. Both received a tremendous amount of punishment in each round. Furey was a bit more clever than the Woonsocket lad, but the latter offset this with hard swings and punches.

Young Mack of Pawtucket gave the greatest exhibition of gameness ever seen here while he went three rounds with Kid Carter of Pawtucket. Mack took awful punishment for four rounds, being knocked down five times and taking the count of nine times.

He was on his way to dreamland in the fifth when his seconds threw up the sponge. Tommy Trudell of Woonsocket put away Young Fanning of Berkeley in the second round of their bout.

WOMAN IS RELEASED

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Inez Milholland, Vassar student, law student, and champion of the girl shirt waist workers during the recent prolonged strike who, together with Lieut. Torney, U. S. A., a West Pointer, was arrested some weeks ago on the charge of aiding the strikers in a breach of the peace, appeared in court today. Assistant Dist. Atty. Whiteside informed the court that he had gone over the testimony taken at several hearings and had found that the evidence was not sufficient to warrant her being held. The court granted his motion that the case be dismissed. The case against the lieutenant had previously been dismissed.

THE RIVET CASE

CAMBRIDGE, Feb. 9.—The second motion for a new trial of N. J. Rivet of Lowell who was found guilty in the first degree of the murder of J. J. Gailloux, was dismissed in the superior court today.

All that stands now between Rivet and the electric chair is the supreme court's attitude on the bill of exception.

COTTON CROP INJURIES FATAL

Arrangements Made for Financing It

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—Arrangements have been made with London and San Francisco banks to advance $500,000 to finance the planting, cultivating and harvesting of this year's cotton crop in the Imperial valley. It is believed that the land devoted to cotton this season will exceed 50,000 acres. Gins will be scattered throughout the valley. The cotton industry in the Imperial valley has grown so rapidly in the last two years that it is now regarded as one of the most important in southern California.

IN POLICE COURT

Several Offenders Given Jail Sentences

Charles and Marcel Tessier, brothers, were arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning, the former on complaints charging him with drunkenness and assault and battery on an officer and the latter with drunkenness and interfering with an officer while in the performance of his duty. Through their counsel both entered pleas of guilty and the case did not go to trial.

Each was fined $5 for drunkenness, the case of assault against Charles was placed on the files of the court and the complaint of hindering an officer, against Marcel, was dismissed.

On Jan. 24th, while Special Officer John Mahan of the Tremont & Suffolk corporation was arresting Charles the latter assaulted the officer and the officer in turn struck Charles over the head which necessitated his treatment at a hospital. While the officer was battling with Charles it is alleged that Marcel interfered.

An Old Larceny Case
Thomas Delgan was charged with drunkenness and the larceny of $1 from Mary J. Cronin on Nov. 8, 1906, and the larceny of $1 from Mary A. Bebbington on the 10th of November, 1906. He pleaded not guilty to the drunk charge, and said he remembered nothing about the larceny charges. Inasmuch as the government was not ready for trial this morning, the case was continued till tomorrow morning. Delgan being held under $300 bonds for his appearance at that time.

Unappreciative Young Man
Patrick McMahon appeared in police court yesterday morning and after promising the court to stop drinking and reform was placed on probation. He got drunk later in the day, however, and was in court again this morning. He was sentenced to six months in jail.

Drunken Offenders
Owen F. Riley was charged with being drunk, but his case was continued till tomorrow morning. John McDonald, Thomas McElroy and Maurice Lane were each fined $5. There was one $2 drunk.

Grimes was sentenced to four months in jail.

Sent to Jail
Philip Jalbert, who was placed on probation some time ago after having been found guilty of neglecting his wife, failed to carry out the order of the court, and the suspension of his sentence was revoked and he was sentenced to four months in jail.

$7000 A YEAR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The conference committee of the senate and house yesterday agreed to fix the salaries of the recently organized customs court at $7000 a year. The nomination of the judges have been held in the finance committee pending a statement of the question of salaries. President Taft must nominate another chief justice of the court, as Alfred R. Cox of New York, recently declined the nomination.

LAKE COMMERCE

Larger in 1909 Than in 1908

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Domestic commerce on the Great Lakes during the calendar year 1909, as measured by the volume of freight shipped by the twelve domestic ports on the Great Lakes, aggregated $9,744,605 net tons. This tonnage, while about one-third larger than for the year before, is about 2 1/2 million tons below the corresponding 1907 tonnage, the largest total in the history of the lake trade. The report is made by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, does not comprise the entire volume of lake commerce, as it does not include the volume of exports to Canada nor the imports from Canada nor the movement between Canadian ports. Neither do these figures include the volume of the purely local movements within the limits of the ports proper. If the volume of these movements were included it is likely that the total lake commerce during the year would approximate, if not exceed, 90 million tons. Of the total domestic lake shipments for the year $1,087,071 net tons are credited to ports of Lake Superior, compared with 28,553,774 net tons shipped from these ports during 1908; 14,120,098 net tons to ports on Lake Michigan, compared with 10,982,056 net tons in 1908; 1,510,870 net tons to Lake Huron ports, compared with 1,056,011 net tons in 1908; 18,692,221 net tons to Lake Erie ports, compared with 14,267,370 net tons in 1908, and 555,943 net tons to Lake Ontario ports, compared with 440,903 net tons shipped from these ports in 1908. In the case of Lake Superior and Lake Michigan the bulk of shipments is made up of iron ore and grain; in the case of Lake Erie ports the shipments are more diversified and include hard and soft coal, iron manufactures, and miscellaneous freight. The shipments from Lake Huron ports are of a more local character and are made up largely of unclassified freight. The merchandise shipments on Lake Ontario consisted partly of coal and partly of unclassified freight. Further analysis of the totals discloses the fact that by far the larger part of the freight consisted of bulky and long-haul traffic. This is particularly true of the eastbound shipments of iron ore and grain and the westbound shipments of coal.

The iron ore shipment by lake during the year, as reported to the bureau, exclusive of about 400,000 gross tons, exported to Canada, totaled 40,732,677 gross tons, compared with 24,936,155 gross tons in 1908 and 40,727,972 gross tons in 1907. The largest shipping ports in the order of their importance were Duluth, credited with 13,260,398 gross tons; Two Harbor, credited with $955,026 gross tons; Superior, credited with 6,420,935 gross tons; Escanaba, credited with 5,533,698 gross tons; Ashland, credited with 3,638,540 gross tons; and Marquette and Presque Isle, credited with 2,882,451 gross tons. Of the total iron ore shipments 56 per cent originated at Lake Superior and 14 per cent at Lake Michigan ports. About 53 per cent of the total iron ore was landed at Lake Erie ports, the remainder being delivered at Lake Michigan ports for consumption at local furnaces. The largest iron ore receipts during the year 8,056,516 gross tons, are credited to Ashtabula. Conneaut, with 6,992,056 tons, was second in place; the Chicago district, including the Gary and Indiana Harbor docks, got 6,606,558 tons; Cleveland, with 5,968,836 gross tons and Buffalo, including the Tonawandas, with 5,009,304 gross tons are the other ports showing yearly receipts in excess of 5 million tons. The total iron ore receipts for the year at Lake Erie ports, 35,673,404 gross tons, show a convenient comparison with the annual figures published by the Marine Review of 33,672,525 gross tons, through the distribution of receipts by ports, as reported to the bureau, in several cases show slight differences from the trade data.

The grain shipments during the past season totaled 115,205,760 bushels, of which 56,114,033 bushels was wheat, 25,954,740 corn; 1,328,117 oats; 14,127,662 barley; and 1,167,988 bushels rye. As compared with corresponding shipments during the past season the figures of wheat and rye show decreases and those of corn and barley slight increases. Over 7 per cent of the annual wheat shipments proceeded from Duluth and Superior. The lake shipments for the past year of this article from Chicago, 5,835,700 bushels, were about one-third below the average for the preceding year. Over 84 per cent of the domestic lake shipments of corn proceeded from Chicago. Flaxseed shipments for the year 9,533,432 bushels were about 37 per cent below those reported for 1908 and proceeded practically all from Duluth and Superior.

Of the total wheat received during the year by lake from domestic sources the Lake Erie ports, mainly Buffalo, claim over 57 per cent, while 11 per cent was landed at Lake Michigan ports, chiefly Chicago. Of the total receipts during the year, Lake Erie ports took 57 per cent. Ogdensburg, on Lake Ontario, 15 per cent; and Lake Michigan ports, mainly Ludington, the remainder. Over 64 per cent of the annual lake receipts of oats, more than half of the annual receipts for the preceding year, were received at Lake Erie ports. Over 84 per cent of the domestic lake shipments of corn proceeded from Chicago. Flaxseed shipments for the year 9,533,432 bushels were about 37 per cent below those reported for 1908 and proceeded practically all from Duluth and Superior.

The lumber shipments for the year, 1,155,765 M feet, fell about one-third below the average for the five-year period 1902-1907, notwithstanding the large demand for this material in the middle west and in the east. Of the total lumber shipped, about 54 per cent, proceeded from Lake Michigan ports, about 37 per cent from Lake Superior ports, and the remainder from Lake Erie ports.

The lake movement during the year of pig iron, 126,556 net tons, proceeded mainly from Lake Michigan and Lake Superior ports, while that of iron manufactures 650,354 net tons, proceeded chiefly from Lake Erie ports; both of these movements are considerable gains over the abnormally low movements for the 1908 season. The season's shipments of salt, 561,829 net tons, mainly from Lake Michigan ports, were smaller, while those of copper, 167,614 net tons, from Lake Superior and Michigan ports, were larger than a year ago. The shipments of hard coal, chiefly from Lake Erie ports, Buffalo, Erie, and Oswego, 5,616,065 tons, fell 14 per cent short of corresponding 1908 shipments and proceeded mainly to Duluth and Superior, Milwaukee and Chicago.

The shipments of soft coal, largely from Lake Erie ports, compare favorably with like shipments in 1908 of 12,204,000 net tons. It is noteworthy that the average freight rates for the past year on hard coal from Lake Erie ports were higher, those of soft coal lower, than during 1908. Of the total annual receipts of soft coal over 50 per cent was landed at Lake Superior destinations, mainly Duluth-Superior and Hancock-Huron, while 43 per cent of these shipments were to Lake Michigan ports, chiefly Milwaukee, Manitowish, and to a lesser extent Chicago. The totals above given do not include the quantity of domestic coal supplied to vessels for their use. The amount of bunker or fuel coal taken by vessels in the domestic lake trade during the past year is stated as 2,021,993 net tons, while the like amount taken by vessels in the foreign trade is given as 281,408 net tons.

A large increase is shown in the annual movement of unclassified, chiefly package freight, the total for 1909, 7,534,003 net tons, exceeding by far any of the previous yearly totals reported to the Bureau of Statistics.

The vessel movement between domestic lake ports, as measured by the aggregate outbound vessel tonnage, 103,271,853 net tons, was larger than for any previous year, although the number of vessel departures, 73,104, has been exceeded during each year between 1905 and 1907. The average size of registered craft as calculated from the tonnage figures reported to this office for the past year was 1,412 net tons, compared with 1,100 net tons in 1905 and 925 tons in 1902.

The total freight tonnage which passed through the canals at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, and Ontario, Canada, during the past season, 57,895,149 net tons, was 40 per cent in excess of the like tonnage for 1908, though falling about 322,000 net tons short of the record total for 1907, owing to the smaller volume of the westbound movement through these canals. The tonnage reported by the canal authorities for 1909, 57,895,149 net tons, was larger than for any previous year. The average tonnage of registered vessels locked through the canal during the past year was 2562 net tons, compared with 2238 net tons in 1908, 1211 net tons in 1900, and 831 net tons in 1905. The total east bound tonnage through the canals during the year, 46,379,056 net tons, is somewhat larger than the aggregate freight tonnage shipped from Lake Superior, 41,057,071 net tons, as the canal figures include the exports from United States ports on Lake Superior to Canadian ports east of the Sault Ste. Marie Canal as well as the east-bound freight tonnage originating at the Canadian Lake Superior ports. Similarly, the west bound tonnage through the canals, 11,515,093 net tons, is larger than the tonnage of domestic receipts at the United States Lake Superior ports.

The freight tonnage during the year reported for the Detroit river, aggregated 62,247,670 net tons, compared with 46,348,384 net tons and 67,292,304 net tons for the 1908 and 1907 seasons. A 33 per cent increase of the river movement for 1909, compared with 1908 is thus seen to correspond to a 40 per cent increase in the canal movement and a 34 per cent increase in the total lake shipments. Of the tonnage for the year, 44,404,299 net tons represented a southbound and 17,843,371 net tons a northbound movement. The 1909 vessel movement through the river during the past season comprised 21,521 vessels of 45,621 net tons register, compared with 19,212 vessels of 35,200,086 net tons register for the 1908 season and 23,721 vessels of 48,958,238 tons for the 1907 season.

SAM LANGFORD

Was Defeated by Jim Flynn

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—Jim Flynn won a ten round battle from Sam Langford here last night.

According to Charles Eytan, who was the referee of the contest, Flynn had the best of the fight from start to finish. Flynn went after Langford like a demon in the first round and had him backing up until pressed against the ropes. Langford fought back to the center of the arena and squaring himself up a right on Flynn's cheek and brought blood. Flynn crouched low throughout the fight and repeatedly rushed into clinches.

In the second round Flynn caught Langford in the center of the ring and wrestled him to the floor. Langford was up instantly, fighting back but in this exchange which followed, Flynn seemed to have the better of it.

In the ninth round Flynn, after receiving hard rights on the neck, returned with a right straight from the shoulder which landed on Langford's nose.

Langford's long arms were again like flails, but they did not land. They touched him on the side of the head, beginning of the end, but Langford was forced to break ground. The round ended without Langford having an opportunity to land any of his famous right swings.

Throughout the encounter Referee Eytan was repeatedly forced to separate the men.

ROBERT O. CLARK

Seriously Injured While at Work on Bridge

Robert O. Clark, aged 50 years, an employee of the construction department of the Boston & Maine railroad and a resident of Dover, met with a painful accident about eight o'clock this morning while at work on one of the railroad bridges in the vicinity of the Lowell cemetery.

He and several other workmen were engaged in making repairs to piles under the bridge when a tackle which was pulling on snapped in two, one end striking him on the side of the chest, tearing the muscles of the chest away and rendering him unconscious. Dr. J. B. O'Connor was summoned and after applying restoratives took the injured man in his sleigh to St. John's hospital where he etherized Clark and took six stitches in the wound.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A vote being taken today will decide whether a strike involving 150,000 men and completely tying up building operations in this city shall be called.

The referendum was ordered at a conference of the building trades unions last night when, with the existing strike of the steamfitters for an increase of wages was voted by the delegates and a general strike in support of the men now out was favored.

A strike now would be in violation of the arbitration agreement in force since the last strike and numbers of the men are believed to be strongly opposed to it.

KEOUGH FOR CAPTAIN
Wesley L. Keough of the class of '10 has been elected captain of the Textile school track team for the present season. Keough has taken a prominent part in athletics prior to his entrance to the school and also since he has been a student here and is well qualified to assume the charge of the team.

NORTH CHELMSFORD
The Twilight club held its annual prize dance in the town hall, last evening, with a large attendance. Gilmore's orchestra furnished music, and at 10.30 Josef Carpentier furnished a request in the lower hall.

The big event of the evening, in which everybody was interested, was the prize waltz, and quite a few couples tried for honors in this event. The judges for the prize waltz were: Jas. Connors of Tyngsboro, Arthur Whitcomb of Lowell, and Fred Ballinger of North Chelmsford.

The judges after watching the expert dancers go through their various clever movements, decided that Fred Burns and Miss Norton, both of Lowell, were the successful winners. The committee in charge of the affair were: General manager, Henry Tooley; assistant general manager, Wm. McAlister; floor director, Miss Margaret Starr; assistant floor director, Miss Mary McCoy; chief aid, Miss Alice Tooley; aids, Fred Haywood, Frank Connors, Miss Josie Tooley, Miss Lilla Corrigan; treasurer, James Riley.

SPONSORS IN SENATE AND HOUSE OF NATIONAL INCORPORATION BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Senator Clarence D. Clark of Wyoming and Representative Richard Wayne Parker of New Jersey are the "fathers" in the two houses at congress of the bill providing for national charters for corporations. It is understood that President Taft is sponsor for the bill and that it was prepared under the direction and with the counsel of Attorney General Wickersham. Mr. Wickersham declares that the organizations whose operations are covered by the bill are amenable to national authorities for the reason that they thus have but one master as against 15 they might have had if they were chartered or incorporated in the states. One of the objections to the bill has arisen from the denial of

DIAMOND NOTES

Since the joint committee on playing rules finished the work of overhauling the code the major league club owners have shown a tendency to adopt the changes with hardly a dissenting vote at the schedule meetings to be held next week. In order to explain matters for the benefit of the players and fans Empire Slick O'Loughlin of the American league has just outlined the rules as follows:

"The coacher's box has been limited so that the coacher cannot approach nearer to first base than fifteen feet. The dead line is drawn at an imaginary line directly through first and second bases.

"The captain will no longer have to appeal to an umpire for small offenses such as the discoloring of new balls. It is the duty of the umpire to watch these things himself.

"When a player is substituted or shifted from one position to another the captain must notify the umpire and the latter must announce the change to the spectators.

"The batting order of both teams must be delivered by the captains to the umpire at the home plate before play begins and the players thus named must participate in the game.

"A runner is allowed three bases if a player on the defense throws a glove or a mask at a batted ball and succeeds in hitting it or impeding its progress. The umpire judging balls and strikes is the 'chief.' The other umpire has jurisdiction over first and second bases.

"Every player gets an assist who assists in play, even though he is credited with a putout. Thus a player can get a putout and assist on the same

BOXING GOSSIP

One of Jeffries' closest friends in this city declared Monday that the fight with Jack Johnson would surely take place in San Francisco on July 4, if for only one reason. Jeffries, he said, was opposed to the climate of Salt Lake City and Nevada had made up his mind long ago that California was the place for him to train and meet the negro. The boxer had some experience in Nevada when he helped to train Corbett to fight Fitzsimmons at Carson City, and ever since he has favored California, where he won battles with Corbett, Rahlin, Fitzsimmons, Monroe and others. Furthermore, Jeffries wants to fight Johnson where he is sure of a big crowd, for he does not care to run the risk of losing the winner's share of the purse by default caused by a lack of gate money. The big fellow knows that Price can provide a crowd able to pay a high rate of admission and that the promoters will be able to meet all obligations. Jeffries stated that the boxer never met friend Promoter Gleason last November when he would not agree to meet Johnson outside of California no matter what might be the inducements. On the strength of this information, therefore, it looks very much as if Gleason, who is competing with Tex Rickard, has an ace up his sleeve.

After much backing and filling it is said the 45 round bout between Nelson and Wolgast for the lightweight title will take place on Washington's birthday at Richmond, Cal., a few miles from Oakland. The pugilists, who must make 135 pounds at the ringside, have begun training. Wolgast, who is a native of New York, was heavier than Nelson for some time past. Nelson weighed 135 1-2 pounds and declared that he would have no trouble in reaching the necessary limit. Jack Welch will be the referee in the battle.

There is much bitter feeling between Nelson and Wolgast. They were prevented from taking part in a rough and tumble scrap the other day.

Two weeks ago Matty Baldwin defeated Owen Moran, the English lightweight, in 12 rounds and lost in Boston. Moran pleaded lack of confidence and demanded another chance with the victor. Baldwin was hooked up with him last night. Moran has been doing some strenuous training at Lakewood and for the meantime yesterday morning checked full of confidence.

Tomorrow evening the boxing fans will receive a treat at the meeting of the Gladstone club, for Matchmaker Conlon has arranged what promises to be one of the best bills given here in a long time. There are four bouts and one of them has been the talk of the town for a week as two rival boxers from that nursery of pugilistic prowess are to compete. The main event will have some class, the participants being Kid Francis of New York and Kid Wright of Boston, claimants for championship honors in the 125 pound class. Both are clever men and are evenly matched. Their bout is attracting quite a lot of interest in Boston, and some of the Boston sporting fraternity will be in attendance. The meeting will be held in Associate hall and the bouts will be called at eight o'clock, so that out of town members may get cars for Lawrence and Haverhill. At the Unity club of Lawrence, closed until it can secure better quarters, quite a number of Lawrence members are expected to be present. The management has made a popular move, doubling the assessment and undoubtedly will see many new members as a result. Tomorrow's meeting will be for members only and assessment cards will be required.

Manager O'Brien has signed J. Weizstein of Louisville, Ky., for a tryout in the outfield this season. Weizstein is a left fielder, and last season he was with the Shelbyville (Ky.) club. He only played seven games with this club and batted for 375, while his fielding percentage was 1.000. In 1909 he was with Portland. His batting average was .399.

In 1906, 1907 and 1908 he attended the Manual high school in Louisville and he was the star striker of the bunch. In the last year of his school days he hit the trade mark for .500. When he played with the Butchertown club, which was one of the strongest semi-professional leagues of Louisville, and which tackled the Louisville team of the American association, Weizstein was a prominent figure in the heavy scoring that day. He is about 29 years of age, weighs 190 pounds and is 5 feet 11 inches in height.—Fall River Herald.

Frank Connaughton, who has been looked upon as a New England league fixture, has migrated to Watertown, where he will manage the baseball club this season. Bill Carlick is to pilot New Haven, Joe Connor at New Britain, and Gene McConn at Bridgeport.

Nobody wants old "Hill Hen" Lead, who has been hitting over the .300 mark in the Connecticut league the past decade. The old boy eluded the ball at a .318 clip for the Bridgeport club during 1909.

Fred Klobedanz has signed with Bridgeport for next season.

Manager O'Brien of the Fall River team is after Joe Boyle, but of course he can't get him as Boyle has been drafted by the Birmingham (Ala.) team.

SWEDEN'S KING

Was Operated on for Appendicitis

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 9.—Surgeons expressed the greatest confidence that King Gustavus V would recover speedily from the effects of the operation for appendicitis performed on his majesty. Gustavus V has been king of Sweden since Dec. 8, 1907, when he succeeded his father, the late King Oscar II. Gustavus was born Jan. 16, 1858, and is the great-grandson of Marshal Bernadotte, one of Napoleon's most successful generals, who became king of Sweden and Norway in 1818. The heir to the throne of Sweden, which was separated from that of Norway in 1905, is Crown Prince Gustavus Adolphus, eldest son of King Gustavus. He is married to the daughter of the Duke of Connaught, brother of King Edward.

MEAT INSPECTION

DAILY REPORTS MADE BY DR. HAMBLETT

Dr. Clement A. Hamblett, the new inspector for the city of Lowell, makes daily reports to the office of the board of health relative to the inspection of meat in stores and the inspection of swine and other animals before they are killed. In addition to his work as inspector of meat, Dr. Hamblett spends about one hour at Hanson's auction stable on Thursday of each week. This work he does for the state cattle bureau, and it has to do with the inspection of horses offered for sale.

His reports of his inspections thus far are very favorable and it is shown by his reports that he visits on an average of about 30 places each day.

LITTLEJOHN'S TRIP

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Having covered 1068 miles, A. J. Littlejohn of Syracuse, N. Y., reached Chicago yesterday on the first leg of his trip by trolley from the eastern city to St. Louis and return—a distance of 2700 miles. Coming from Syracuse, Littlejohn has traveled only 48 miles by steam. These were from Kalamazoo, Mich., to Niles, Mich. The 1068 miles thus far were covered in 48 hours of actual traveling, according to Littlejohn.

BRIBERY CHARGE

Sturgis Deputy at Bangor is Accused

BANGOR, Me., Feb. 9.—Contrary to expectations, the grand jury of Penobscot county reported a small number of liquor cases yesterday.

The sensation was the indictment returned against Melvin L. Emerson, a Sturgis deputy enforcement commissioner, who is charged with accepting a bribe. The state claims that Emerson accepted money from liquor dealers and has warned or caused them to be warned of impending searches.

The specific case in the indictment charges Emerson with accepting $10 from Augustus G. Perro of Oldtown in the presence of a witness. Perro is proprietor of a hotel. Emerson is a prominent resident of Oldtown, has served in the city council and held other city offices. Friends of Mr. Emerson claim the charge is a conspiracy.

No bill was reported in the case of Mrs. Emma Hutchinson of Bangor, charged with the murder of her four-months-old infant daughter.

She was committed to jail and later sent to the Eastern Maine Insane hospital for examination. It is understood that the experts are of the opinion that she is insane.

A number of respondents on arrest and assault charges were arraigned, also Lewis Monty of Holyoke, Mass., and Samuel Russell of Fitchburg, charged with breaking and entering. They pleaded not guilty. Trials will begin Wednesday.

DR. HARVEY WILEY

SUGGESTED FEDERAL REGULATION OF COLD STORAGE PLANTS

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—Federal regulation of cold storage plants was proposed by Dr. Harvey Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry at Washington, in an address before the annual dinner of the alumni of the Massachusetts agricultural college last night.

Dr. David Snedden of the state commission of education spoke in favor of an agricultural course in high schools. Atherton Clark, 76, was elected president of the alumni club for the coming year.

TWO ARRESTED

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 9.—Nicholas Tschikowsky and Catherine Bresnikovskaya who are charged with being members of the revolutionary organization, will be placed on trial in March.

The joint indictment found against Tschikowsky and Mme. Bresnikovskaya charges membership in the central revolutionary committee and cites articles showing that they have advocated terrorism. The indictment separately charges Tschikowsky with visiting the United States in 1906-07 to arrange for the shipment of arms to Russia, and to collect funds.

CORPORATION TAX CASES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Two more corporation tax cases were filed in the supreme court of the United States yesterday making ten suits now before the court involving the question of the constitutionality of the corporation tax provision of the Payne tariff act. # COMMANDER PEARY THE MARDI GRAS

To Make an Expedition to the South Pole

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Before an audience of more than 4000 persons in the Metropolitan opera house last night, Commander Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North pole, was presented with a $10,000 check on behalf of the citizens of New York, but instead of retaining it for himself the commander announced immediately that he would contribute it toward the expedition as planned by the National Geographic Society.

The check was presented to the commander by Governor Hughes of New York at this the first national testimonial in the explorer's honor. Accepting the gift, Peary advanced to the front of the stage and said:

"Here is a check for $10,000. This check will be deposited tomorrow as a joint contribution of the members of this audience, the officers and committee of the Civic Forum and myself toward an American Antarctic expedition for the purpose of exploration and scientific investigation; and to enter the stars and stripes in a splendid, many international race for the South pole with our British cousins, than whom there are no fiercer foemen in the world."

The audience which greeted the commander last night was representative and enthusiastic. The gathering was under the auspices of the Civic Forum. President Taft telegraphed that he was sorry that he was unable to attend but that he sincerely hoped that "congress will take some substantial notice of the great achievement of Commander Peary."

Governor Fernald of Maine also sent his regrets and the "greetings of the 100,000 men and women of his (Peary's) own state."

The assemblage adopted a resolution presented by Seth Low, former mayor of New York, setting forth "that this meeting respectfully and earnestly petitions the congress of the United States to make some special and appropriate recognition of the achievement of Commander Peary in reaching the North pole, and retaining for the United States the prize so earnestly striven for, century after century, by a great company of brave and adventurous men."

Peary delivered his illustrated lecture, showing his progress to the pole and Captain Bartlett spoke briefly.

When the doors were thrown open at 7:45 o'clock hundreds of persons were waiting to enter and until past 8:30 o'clock the stream kept up and filled all the seats.

The house was draped in American flags and the footlights were buried in furs and skins, relics of Commander Peary's Arctic trip. The sled on which he journeyed to the pole was in the center of the stage and the stars and stripes that Peary raised at the pole hung above.

When Governor Hughes led Commander Peary on the stage, the audience rose in a body and cheered as the orchestra played "The Star Spangled Banner." In the commander's party occupying seats of honor, were three of the Roosevelt's crew: Captain Robert A. Bartlett, master; Dr. J. W. Goodsell, surgeon; and Charles Peary, steward; and Captain Bartlett of the relief ship "Thetis."

Others on the stage were members of the honorary committee of 28 who arranged the testimonial, including Charles B. Alexander, Henry Clegg, R. Fulton Cutting, Thomas H. Hubbard, Jacob H. Schiff, Robert J. Collier, Seth Low, Isaac H. Sellman, Paul M. Warburg, Sylvester Fish, Adrian H. Johnson, Theodore P. Shouts, Hugh J. Chisholm, Elbert B. Cary, John Harsen Rhoades and Egerton L. Winthrop, Jr.

The committee had guaranteed Peary a cash prize of $10,000 for the testimonial but the proceeds last night exceeded $13,000, all of which will go to the commander.

As Governor Hughes spoke the audience broke into fervid cheering. The governor said, in part:

"I have no sympathy with those who inquire of what utility may be the discovery of the North pole, or a visit to those frozen regions. We can never afford to be without these examples. The journey to the North pole may seem far removed from the life of the workman in the shop, or the clerk in the office, or the busy professional man, but unless that workman and that clerk and that professional man now and then feels the stimulus of high endeavor because of such examples, he will grow weak in his own efforts and fail to show the best of the manhood that is within him. We are all, in whatever vocation we might be engaged, better taught and more richly endowed because of the achievements of Commander Peary. All hail to the man who puts his life to a worthy purpose and wins."

Mardi Gras Whist

L'Union Samuel de Champlain, French-American Foresters, observed Mardi Gras with a whist party in C. M. A. C. hall last evening, some 300 guests being present.

Joseph A. Roy, president of the committee, spoke a few words of greeting, and presented J. H. Gulliet, Esq., supreme chief forester of the order, who acted as master of ceremonies.

A pleasing entertainment, given before the whist, consisted of piano solos by Miss Valentine Girard, and dances by Mr. Wilfrid Dumont, with Miss Hattie Jallbert at the piano. The whist judges were Chief Ranger Napoleon C. Grandchamps, Rev. Frs. G. P. Bessiere and Lucien Racette, O. M. L. Simon, Le Voleur

Another large audience witnessed the second performance of "Simon, Le Voleur" at the college hall last evening while nearly 200 were unable to obtain admission. The play will undoubtedly be repeated after Lent. Mr. Calise repeated his offer of a second performance as did Mr. Joseph Crepeau, who sustained a comedy role in faultless manner.

Pawtucketville Club

The eighth annual Mardi Gras masquerade of the Pawtucketville Social club was held at the club hall last evening and was a most delightful affair. There were many original and artistic costumes and the grand march accompanied a most beautiful spectacle. The march was led by President H. J. Martel and Mrs. George Abbott. Besides the costume guests, a great many had come in ordinary dress to see the march, and participated in the dancing afterwards. The Central singing orchestra played.

The committee in charge was composed of D. A. Ledoux, president; Fred Theriault, treasurer; Arthur Grimaud, secretary; Joseph Briere, Antoine Dragon and H. J. Martel, ex-officio.

Mardi Gras Party

A merry Mardi Gras party took place last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Porter, 73 Daiton street. The guests were 40 young people in costume wearing masks and vying with each other in originality and fancifulness of get-up. After the rig had been well and duly admired by everybody, there was a "revue" and also a delightful program of music furnished by Mr. Arthur Compal, cornet; Mr. Donat Guilmette, violin; Mr. Aldemar Fortier, drum and Mr. Emery Roy, trombone, with piano accompaniment.

COL. ROOSEVELT ENGLISH BUDGET THE SWOPE CASE LOSS OF $50,000

Favors Renomination of Pres. Taft

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—President Robert C. Morris of the Republican club of this city, announced yesterday that he had received a cablegram from Theodore Roosevelt authorizing the club to take the initiative in the homecoming celebration of national proportions which has been planned for him. The Republican club will now proceed with the arrangements for such a celebration. The colonel is expected about the middle of next June.

A close friend of Mr. Roosevelt in a statement regarding the former president's future, said last night:

"Before he left for his African hunting trip Col. Roosevelt told me that he would not be a candidate for United States senator from New York; that he would not think of becoming a candidate for mayor of New York; that he would not be a candidate for president in 1912. Unless he has changed his mind in the last four weeks, he is as strongly in favor of his renomination in 1908. His friendship for the president is as close and as cordial now as at any time."

"The former president's only ambition is to become a useful private citizen and to exercise the inestimable privilege of a private citizen to speak his opinions and voice his convictions. I do not believe he could be induced to run for any office. Certainly he would not think of running for congress with a view of becoming speaker of the house. There will be a great demand that Col. Roosevelt on his return shall use his influence to reorganize the republican party of New York state, which without question is sadly in need of reorganization."

MASTER PAINTERS

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 9.—"Conflicting color arrangements tend to lower the moral plane," declared A. M. McKenzie of Hamilton, Ont., yesterday, in a paper read before the Master Painters and Decorators of the United States and Canada, who are in convention here.

"The craft of the master painter as a moral educator or otherwise," was the subject of Mr. McKenzie's paper which throughout carried the idea that more beautiful coloring would be a great factor in bettering moral life in the slums of the cities.

Other papers of particular interest to the trade were read during the day. Owing to the absence of Samuel J. Brown of Milwaukee, president of the association, who is Dr. H. Frank Read of Providence, R. I., is presiding.

May be Passed Within Fortnight

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The tariff reformers are determined to put the alliance of the Liberals and the nationalists to the test at the earliest opportunity. They believe that the Irish electors are overwhelmingly in favor of tariff reform and that the Redmondites cannot be depended upon to support a free trade government.

Accordingly, Austen Chamberlain will move an amendment to the address in parliament raising the whole question of the existing fiscal system in the hope that the nationalists will either vote against the government or abstain from voting.

Premier Asquith returned to London last evening. He has called meetings of the cabinet for both Thursday and Friday and it is expected that he will go to Brighton on Friday to confer with the king. It is practically certain that the first business of parliament will be the reintroduction of the budget, which the chief liberal whip last night predicted would be passed within a fortnight. It is understood that the prime minister has decided that the exigencies of the financial situation makes this course desirable, as it is expected that the question of dealing with the vote of the house of lords may prove a long and difficult business.

The two sections of the Irish party are already coming in grips. John E. Redmond, leader of the nationalists, having called a party meeting at Duoin tomorrow, Timothy Healy, M. P. for the north division of Louth, has written a letter to Mr. Redmond, challenging his action and claiming that every member of the financial committee is entitled to be invited to the meeting, that Mr. Redmond has no right to discriminate between the members and that his action nullifies the party pledge.

In spite of Mr. Healy's protest, however, it is stated that Mr. Redmond has no intention of recognizing the O'Brienites as members of the party.

Miss Keller's Story Produced Sensation

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 9.—With the testimony of Miss Pearl Keller, a nurse; Dr. Ludwig Hekteen, Mrs. Swope and Dr. Frank Hall, at the inquest over the body of the late Colonel Swope in independence yesterday, came developments in the mystery of the millionaire's death of more consequence apparently than any heretofore produced.

Miss Keller's detailed story of the last moments of Colonel Swope's life produced a sensation.

She said that immediately following the death of Col. Thomas Moss Hinton, she was asked by Dr. D. C. Hyde to use her influence with Colonel Swope to have him appointed administrator of the Swope estate. Mr. Hinton had been the administrator.

On the morning of Colonel Swope's death, she testified, she gave him a large grain capsule supposed to contain dyspepsia medicine. This, she said, she did at the direction of Dr. Hyde. Twenty minutes later Colonel Swope was in a convulsion. His death soon followed.

Miss Keller also said that five minutes later Dr. Hyde appeared with Attorney John G. Paxton and secured Colonel Swope's will from his vest pocket.

Dr. Hekteen testified that one-sixth of a grain of strychnine was found in one-seventh part of Col. Swope's liver. He believed there might be a grain in the entire organ. Half a grain would cause death.

Mrs. Swope testified that Dr. Hyde knew of Colonel Swope's intention to give $1,500,000 to charity, and of his plan to change his will to this effect. She also said that Colonel Swope had told Dr. Hyde he had planned to give Thomas Swope the largest part of his estate. She denied she entertained any ill feeling against Dr. Hyde.

Dr. Frank Hall said he was absolutely certain Colonel Swope did not die from cerebral hemorrhage or apoplexy.

O. H. Gentry, a druggist of Independence, said he prepared the medicine for Colonel Swope, which contained elixir of iron, quinine and strychnine. The strychnine in a teaspoonful amounted to but one one-hundred and eightieth of a grain, he said.

WARDEN DENIES STORIES

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 9.—"The federal penitentiary is not a clearing house of business for its wards," said Warden Moyer of the Atlanta prison yesterday in denying stories published in the eastern newspapers that Chas. W. Morae has been using the long distance telephone extensively in transacting business in New York city.

One of the publications called to Warden Moyer's attention indicated that Morae last Saturday had used the telephone in negotiations looking to the formation of the "Southern Ice Trust of Norfolk."

Mr. Morae is the son of the convicted banker now in Atlanta awaiting the arrival from New York of Martin W. Littleton who is expected within a few days to institute proceedings in the federal court here for Morae's release.

Caused by a Fire in Boston

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—A loss of $50,000 was caused by a two alarm fire in a four story brick block at the corner of Boylston and Exeter streets, in the Back Bay last night, the greater part of the loss being sustained by the F. H. Thomas Co., dealers in surgical instruments and hospital furniture. The company occupied the second and third floors where the fire was confined. The cause of the fire is unknown.

PARIS FLOOD FUND

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—The total of the Massachusetts fund for the Paris flood sufferers last night reached $42,119.63. The amount is now within $5000 of the amount originally pledged in the name of the state and which was placed to the credit of the officials of Paris immediately after the affliction.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

The School street crossing is the most dangerous in Lowell, and in all probability the most difficult to remove by change of grade.

Dr. Wiley's sentiment in regard to small eggs is applauded by all the housekeepers. Some eggs offered for sale are so ridiculously small as to confirm Dr. Wiley's statement that some poultry raisers breed small hens as less expensive and equally productive in the number of eggs with the larger hens.

SENATOR HEYBURN'S BREAK.

Senator Heyburn showed very poor judgment in making a bitter anti-Lee speech in which he appealed to the southerners to remove Lee's statue from Washington. Any such narrow policy would keep alive the embers of hatred between the north and the south indefinitely. Fortunately, Heyburn found nobody in the senate to support him in any such sentiment.

MAYOR FITZGERALD'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

The inaugural address of Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, mayor of Boston, has won praise from those who opposed his election most bitterly. It is commended for its practical character, its breadth of view, its business-like discussion of some of the problems that most directly affect the welfare and the prosperity of the people of Boston. It is taken to indicate that Mayor Fitzgerald appreciates very fully the great responsibility placed upon his shoulders and has resolved to meet it to the best of his ability. The mayor's statement that under the new conditions he was not under obligations to any political party pleased the non-partisans immensely and led to the conviction that Mayor Fitzgerald means to use his vast power of appointment by selecting men for their fitness for office rather than for their political affiliations or their party services in the past. This is the intent of the new non-partisan charter.

THE COLD STORAGE ABUSE.

The United States government inspectors have found something of interest in the cold storage business as conducted in various parts of this country. Meat a year old, eggs equally ancient and accumulated supplies held in a state of congelation awaiting increased prices, are some of the things encountered in an inside view of a cold storage plant at New Jersey. This plant is probably no worse than many others and may be taken as a fair criterion of the whole.

Thus it appears that while the cold storage may serve to preserve meat and eggs for a reasonable time, it is used by unscrupulous hoarders to await a rise in the market. No doubt the great refrigerator plants constitute one of the instruments by which the cost of living is pushed away up. The food supply may thus be hoarded until scarcely causes an increase of price. Were it not for the protection afforded by the tariff the manufacturers could not safely keep meat or eggs or any other staple article of food a year in the refrigerator.

As the cold storage men are not always the owners of the goods stored, they cannot justly be held responsible for the length of time that meat and other foodstuffs are held in storage. It is plain from what the congressional investigation has brought to light that there should be a limit to the length of time meat and eggs shall be kept in storage. Surely the limit should not extend over from six to eight or nine months.

CRIMINAL HOMICIDES AND CONVICTION.

Dr. Andrew White, formerly president of Cornell university and subsequently ambassador to Russia, makes a very serious charge against the United States on the ground of the inadequacy of the law to prevent murders, and claiming that in consequence we have from 3000 to 8000 criminal homicides every year, while a very small proportion of the culprits are punished.

Twenty-five years ago he says there were about 1500 homicides yearly in the United States, while now there are 8000. As to the percentage of murders in other countries he says—

"Canada has 3 per 1,000,000 population; Germany less than 5; England and Scotland and Wales about 10; France about 14; Belgium, highest of all, about 16; the United States, 129. The United States can boast 43 times as many as Canada, which is just on the other side of the line, and 3 times that of Belgium where there is no death penalty."

While Dr. White's claims as to the percentage of crime and of convictions in other countries may be sustained by statistics there is no such proofs of his statements relative to this country. It is undoubtedly true that criminal homicides are very numerous in this country, but it is not true that the prevalence of such crimes is due to the small number of convictions. There are other causes peculiar to this country calculated to increase crimes and make convictions more difficult. One of these is the vast mingling of races speaking foreign languages. Each of these has its feuds and its factions that fight and commit murder in a way that makes conviction almost impossible. Then, too, it often happens that one race of foreigners will quarrel with another, and as a result murders will be committed. There is, moreover, in this country a far greater struggle for existence as a result of the influx of foreigners, panics, industrial depressions and other causes than in any other country in the world. All these conditions combine to increase the number of homicides and to lessen the number of convictions in this country. In no other country is there such a shifting population to be provided for.

Where the same people live together all their lives, where the population is fixed and not continually changing it is easier to trace out the perpetrators of crime and to secure convictions. Dr. White's wholesale charges and his comparisons are not just to the United States, although they are not without some foundation in fact.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

An advance in the salaries of public school teachers in Chicago has been voted by the board of education, to date from January 1, 1910, and mean the disbursement of $240,000 a year more than last year among the 6,000 teachers. Believing that a teacher is better qualified after several years of service, the superintendent, Mrs. Ella Young, has distributed the increase that the largest part falls to those who have taught more than seven years. Primary teachers from the third to seventh and subsequent years of service will receive an advance of from $25 to $40. Eighth-grade teachers will receive $50 beginning with their first year of service. Seventeen high school principals will receive an advance of $100. The present maximum of $3,200 is increased to $3,800. No increase is arranged for the first six years of service among high school principals. The lowest salary is $850, paid to teachers for their first year's work in the primary grades.

The board of trustees of the Kentucky state university, Frankfort, Ky., have elected Judge Henry S. Barker of Louisville president of the university, succeeding Professor J. K. Patterson, resigned. Judge Barker is a member of the court of appeals, Kentucky's highest tribunal.

Because he refused a chair in the faculty of Princeton university and a few weeks later also refused the presidency of a Kentucky college, Rev. William L. McEwen of the Third Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, Pa., known as the Thaw church, has had $3,500 a year added to his salary. Dr. McEwen will now receive $10,000.

ADVICE TO WOMEN

A Message From a Famous Beauty Specialist to Women Lacking in Energy and Vitality

Thousands of women vainly attempt to improve their complexions and to remove blackheads, crows' feet and other blemishes, through the use of cosmetics. This treatment fails because the trouble lies far deeper than the skin. They are suffering from impure and impoverished blood. This condition is in many cases due to a catarrhal condition of the whole system which finds its expression in sallow, muddy complexion, dark-circled eyes, general weakness of the system, and perhaps most plainly in the weeping of mucous membranes that is commonly called catarrh.

In fact this whole tendency is, properly speaking, Catarrh. Banish this catarrh, and the complexion will clear as if by magic, eyes will brighten, faces become rosy and shoulders erect. Perfect beauty goes only with perfect health, and health can be obtained only by a certain treatment—that which will cure Catarrh.

Mrs. Swift, New York, the famous beauty specialist known throughout the world and an accepted authority on all relating thereto, states that the one positive and permanent relief for catarrh is Rexall Mucuo-Tone. Here is her letter:

"I can strongly endorse the claims made for Rexall Mucuo-Tone as a cure for systemic catarrh. Its tonic effects are remarkable. It builds up the strength and restores vitality. If women who are tired and run down, lacking in energy and vigor, use Rexall Mucuo-Tone, they will praise as I do its strengthening and healing qualities."

Rexall Mucuo-Tone works through the blood, acting thus upon the mucous cells—the congestion and inflammation of which causes local catarrh. This remedy causes poison to be expelled from the system, and the blood is purified and revitalized. Thus the natural functions of the mucous cells are restored, and the membranes are cleansed and made strong. We have then Rexall Mucuo-Tone does not leave catarrh. We positively guarantee to refund the money paid for this remedy in every case where the user is dissatisfied. It is a builder of vigorous health and a creator of good complexion. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Mail orders filled. It may be obtained only at our store.—The Rexall Store—Hall & Lyon Co., 67-69 Merrimack St.

If Tufts college decides not to remain a coeducational institution, as it probably will, segregating the girl students, a readjustment of the college buildings as they now stand will be necessary. There will be no laboratory duplication, but non-conflicting hours will be provided for the two sexes. A considerable shifting of the hours of recitation in general will obviously be necessary. But all these changes will only be temporary. Ultimately the Stearns estate, comprising a large building across the Boston & Maine railroad track, will be used as an annex and the entire body of girl students will be removed to it.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Delayed a day by the blizzard, but all the better for the opportunity given the company to rest, "Bright Eyes," the new musical comedy offered by John M. Gaites, who presented the big success, "The Three Twins," early in the season, was given at the opera house last night to a large and delighted audience.

Like the "Twins," "Bright Eyes" is a playlet from a straight comedy, "Misadventure," which is a playlet of the same kind, and the beauty of this plan is that the bright lines and plot are retained, something which the average musical comedy is weak.

The plot in this instance deals with the troubles of a secretly married stage couple in getting the play produced. They are finally enabled to succeed owing to the influence of a susceptible moneyed personage and his rather sporty wife, through their

Mr. Armstrong Tells How He Grew Hair in a Short Time

Dear Sirs:—I was told of your great remedy, Parisian Sage, that it would grow hair on bald heads, so I got a bottle and tried it, and it is fine. I am a young man, and only 25, and was completely bald on the head and top of my head, and now I have hair one inch long, with the use of only one bottle. I shall certainly keep on using it until I have a good head of hair, which I have no doubt it will bring.—Oscar Armstrong, Engineer, Belleville, Mo., August 27, 1909.

To the readers of The Sun: The Gironx Mfg. Co., American makers of Parisian Sage, wish to state that they do not guarantee Parisian Sage to grow hair on bald heads, because in most cases the hair root is dead. In the case of Mr. Armstrong the hair root was not dead, and knowing as we do the astonishing hair growing virtue of Parisian Sage, we see no reason why it should not grow hair on the head of Mr. Armstrong.

But we do guarantee Parisian Sage (and so do Carter & Sherburne) to stop falling hair, dandruff and itching scalp in two weeks or money back. Parisian Sage is a daintily perfumed hair dressing, not sticky or greasy, and is used extensively by ladies who desire brilliant and luxuriant hair that attracts and fascinates.

non-platonic interest in the actor and his wife.

Manager Gaites has assembled a good company to produce his latest venture, Cecil Leach, a comedian who uses only legitimate methods to induce laughter, and Florence Holbrook is a charming actress and sweet singer. As the secretly wedded pair they won friends from the start and retained them throughout the three acts.

The opening scene, a rehearsal on the stage of the Morality theatre, gives opportunity for the appearance of show girls and brokers of most attractive appearance, who are in evidence often as the action progresses.

As a musical show alone "Bright Eyes" is worthy of patronage, and some of the numbers, notably "For You, Bright Eyes," are sure to be whistled about town. "The Lines in Molly's Hand" is another taking number.

Scientifically as well, "Bright Eyes" is attractive, and the ensembles worthy of admiration. Altogether a worthy companion to "The Three Twins." "Bright Eyes" comes to the Opera House Wednesday, February 16.

COHAN & HARRIS' MINSTRELS
The Cohan & Harris Minstrels, with George Evans, and a hundred "Honey Boys," are to appear in this city Feb. 16. The entertainment, from the gorgeous and gaudy part to the concluding feature, was composed and produced under the personal direction of George M. Cohan, and the new musical numbers by Mr. Cohan have already won much popularity.

HATHAWAY THEATRE
Very few variety performers who have appeared here have been able to remain for two weeks. The Temple quartet, four wonderfully good singing men, turn out for consideration some remarkable harmonies, and their solo singing is also a feature. Refractors of Winchester, juggling comiques, are entertaining at the first water. Other acts on the bill are: The De Maes, ring artists; Hap Hardy & Co., bubble blowers; Mabel Phyllis Irving, English character comedienne, and the Hathascope.

Performance will be given for the remainder of the week with a special matinee Friday for women.

Mr. Vincent has just completed a long engagement at Keith's Elbow Droman, Boston, and will return there at the end of his Lowell engagement. The pictures to be shown tomorrow are exceptionally good, the feature being a drama of southern life, entitled "The Girl and the Judge." The picture tells a story of more than usual novelty and it is finely acted. There is to go with these two special features many other numbers on a long and new program.

STAR THEATRE

An entirely new program of motion pictures was a feature of the entertainment at the Star theatre today, although in addition there were two high class vaudeville acts and latest illustrated songs. ## POLICE BOARD

Complaint Against Junk Dealer Heard

Pikes Bechek, a junk dealer, was summoned to appear before the board of police last night to explain his methods of doing business, it being alleged that several weeks ago he purchased a number of household articles from a ten-year-old boy and paid him 25 cents for the goods.

The boy who sold the goods, is Patrick Francis Monahan, of Lagrange street. Monahan appeared before the juvenile court last Friday for selling the articles of furniture and was sentenced to the Middlesex County Training school in North Chelmsford.

Patrick was very much in evidence last night. He was given a chance to explain why he had called the junk man into the house during his mother's absence and sold him a bag of carpets, three coats, a gas stove and a parlor stove. Witness said that the man gave him but 25 cents for all the things.

Bechek took exceptions to that statement. He said that he had first given the youth 25 cents, but Patrick had held out for another nickel, which he had finally given the boy.

"I know better; it was 25 cents," was Patrick's expostulation. At the hearing it came out that some of the property had been returned, and that the junk dealer had given Mrs. Monahan 50 cents as security for the rest.

Chairman Stearns was shocked, at such depravity on the part of the junk dealer. He thought that your conscience would have reproached you," he said to Bechek. "You look as though you had something behind those eyes except grass."

Bechek admitted that he did know it was wrong to purchase the things from such a youth, and that he was doing his best to make matters right. The board remained adamant, however, and in spite of the fact that he told them that he had a wife and three children to support, insisted on revoking his license.

When he was given to understand that the board had revoked his license, he burst into tears and drawing his fingers across his throat indicated that he would either commit suicide or would have been better for the board to cut his throat than revoke his license, whereupon the commissioners decided to think the matter of revoking the license over for a few days and told him to call in, in a couple of weeks, at which time final disposition of the case would be made.

Some few minor licenses were passed upon, and a short executive session was held, at which appeared Al Winn, the proprietor of Washington park, and Thomas Ramsay of the Belvidere hotel.

The board took the following action in regard to minor licenses: Common victuallers granted: Jean B. Delmond, 375 Moody street; Joseph Lescarbeau, 127 Allen street; John O'Donnell, 329 Graham street; Lillian Bastian, 312 W. Sixth street.

Hawker and peddler granted: Myer Klein, 181 Howard street; William Doltsenault, 75 Parker avenue; Dracut, Mass. granted: Oscar P. Prentiss, 356 Bridge street.

Laid on table: Billiards and pool, Albert Tworog, 21 Lakeview avenue. Granted leave to withdraw: Common victualler, Mary Lescarbeau, 127 Allen street; to sell ice cream, etc., on the Lord's day, Emma Laroche, 130 Riverside street.

Revoked: Billiards and pool, John Morowski, 24 Lakeview avenue; common victualler, Robert J. Crawford, 624 1-2 Merrimack street; Gabriel Roy, 25 Moody street; license of sixth class liquor, granted to Harry Woodman of the firm of James Drug Co., 121 and 123 Merrimack street.

Will Jews Regain Possession of Palestine?

RABBI STEPHEN S. WISE, ZIONIST

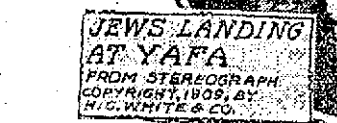

MARKET ON DAVID STREET, JERUSALEM

ISRAEL ZANGWILL, ZIONIST

By ROBERTUS LOVE.
RECENT dispatches carry the news that the Jews are flocking into Palestine from all parts of the world. The dream of centuries, the establishment of a Jewish nation in the land which was the ancient home of the Hebrew race, appears to be almost upon the eve of fulfillment. Zionism, which term describes the organized movement for the return of the Jews to Palestine, is responsible in large measure for the recent influx of Jews into the Holy Land, but the proclamation of the constitution in Turkey last year is the thing that seems to have made possible some sort of Jewish preponderance in Palestine.

JEW'S LANDING AT YAF A

are escaping from Persia to find shelter and protection in the Holy Land, while every ship from Odessa carries hundreds of them." Zionists Buying Palestine. Jewish capitalists and syndicates of Jews are buying lands in the valley of the sacred river Jordan, once the private property of Abdul Hamid, the deposed sultan of Turkey. Agents of these syndicates are reported as being distributed all over Palestine. They are purchasing rich properties from Mohammedans who, since the revolution in Turkey have been in disfavor. The Mohammedans are yielding to the Hebrews throughout the Holy Land. The Jews already may be said to rule Palestine in everything but the actual government, and they have increased hope of dominating that.

As indicated by the overwhelming preponderance of Jews in the population, Jerusalem now is essentially a Jewish city. More than a hundred Jewish schools have been established there. Banking is monopolized by the Jews. They are dominant in every branch of trade and industry. Recently the Turkish government has found it necessary to organize a company of Jewish gendarmes to co-operate in policing the city. From Europe and America, it is reported, large sums of money are being sent into Palestine to enable the poorer Jews, Roumanian and Galician, to build homes and establish themselves on the farming land. Hospitals, invalid homes and synagogues are springing up here and there. The Church of the Holy Sepulcher still belongs to the Moslems, of course, but photographs show many Jews mingling in the throngs incident to the worship of the various Christian bodies who hold services there.

A recent correspondent declares that land has quadrupled in value since the Jews began to flock into the country. Harvests such as the ignorant natives never imagined have been produced by the up-to-date Hebrew farmers, who have supplanted the ancient tools of agriculture with modern implements. What Zionism Means. A Zionist banking and commercial institution called the Anglo-Palestine company is engaged in a determined campaign in behalf of Zionism. The Turkish government is facing a problem which engages the interest of mankind throughout Christendom. Zionism is an organized effort to restore the rule of Judaism in Palestine if possible, and, failing that, to acquire landholdings to such an extent that the Holy Land will be a Jewish nation in everything but government. Some years ago a movement for the purchase of Palestine from the sultan was set on foot. The plan embraced autonomy for the Jews, with all the great nations uniting in a protectorate. The United States was to join the European powers in this capacity. There was a branch of Zionism which contemplated the creation of a nation of Jews in East Africa, where a large area of land was offered. After several conferences this proposition was rejected. The Jews could not and would not be turned away from their determination to possess their ancient fatherland. The present Zionist movement is only about fifteen years old. The late Dr. Theodor Herzl was at the head of the project in its inception. Max Nordau also took a prominent part. Israel Zangwill, the novelist and playwright, is one of the most enthusiastic of European Zionists. In America one of the leaders is Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, pastor and founder of the Free Synagogue in New York. Rabbi Wise was pastor of Beth Israel congregation in Portland, Ore., for several years. He is a native of Budapest, but has lived in America nearly all his life. He served as secretary of Zionism for the English speaking world in the early days of the movement. Opposed by Noted Rabbis. Zionism is opposed as impracticable by Rabbi Leon Harrison of St. Louis, Rabbi Samuel Sale and several other noted preachers of the race. They have considered the Zionists dreamers and visionaries. Zionism, aside from the ancient desire of the Jews to possess Palestine, grew out of the persecutions of the Jewish people in Russia and other nations where anti-Semitism is rampant. Many thousands of these persecuted Jews have made their way to America, but many other thousands have found refuge in Palestine. The Zionists are spending much money to enable the down-trodden Jews to get to Palestine and gain a foothold. It is not believed that any considerable number of Jews will leave the United States to settle in Palestine. There are now in this country approximately 1,500,000 Jews. About one-fifth of the 4,000,000 people in New York city belong to that race. Throughout the land the Jew is found prominent and prosperous in almost every line of industry. He has sat in both houses of congress. He has been in the cabinet. Oscar S. Straus, who was secretary of commerce and labor under Roosevelt and now for the second time is ambassador to Turkey, was the first Jew to become a cabinet minister. His brother, Nathan Straus, is one of the nation's most noted philanthropists.

Isidor Rayner, the eloquent senator from Maryland, is a Jew. Julius Kahn, an aggressive congressman from San Francisco, is a Jew. Benjamin Disraeli, Lord Beaconsfield, one of the most celebrated of England's prime ministers, proved that the Hebrew in politics and statesmanship can become a maker of history. To the stage the Jewish race has contributed Sarah Bernhardt and other famous persons. The American theater is almost entirely in the hands of Jewish managers. In literature the list of Jewish names is long, including Zangwill, Georg Brandes, Catulle Mendes, Lombroso, Sidney Leo, and many others of familiar mention. Virility of Jewish Race. The virility of the Jewish race is one of the wonders of the world. Despised, persecuted, ruthlessly down-trodden for centuries by national decrees and by individual prejudice, the Jew has made his way to opulence and power, to the respect and veneration of the thinking world. The Jews are people who hang together. That ancient, ineradicable national feeling has kept them one people wherever they have wandered. The orthodox Jews cling to their religion with a firmer tenacity perhaps than do any other religionists. The signs of the times in Palestine seem to indicate that things will be happening there ere long which will vindicate the so called visionaries of Zionism.

New Chief Forester and His Work For Posterity

Importance of Industry Now Headed by Henry S. Graves. Conserving and Increasing of Forests His Study

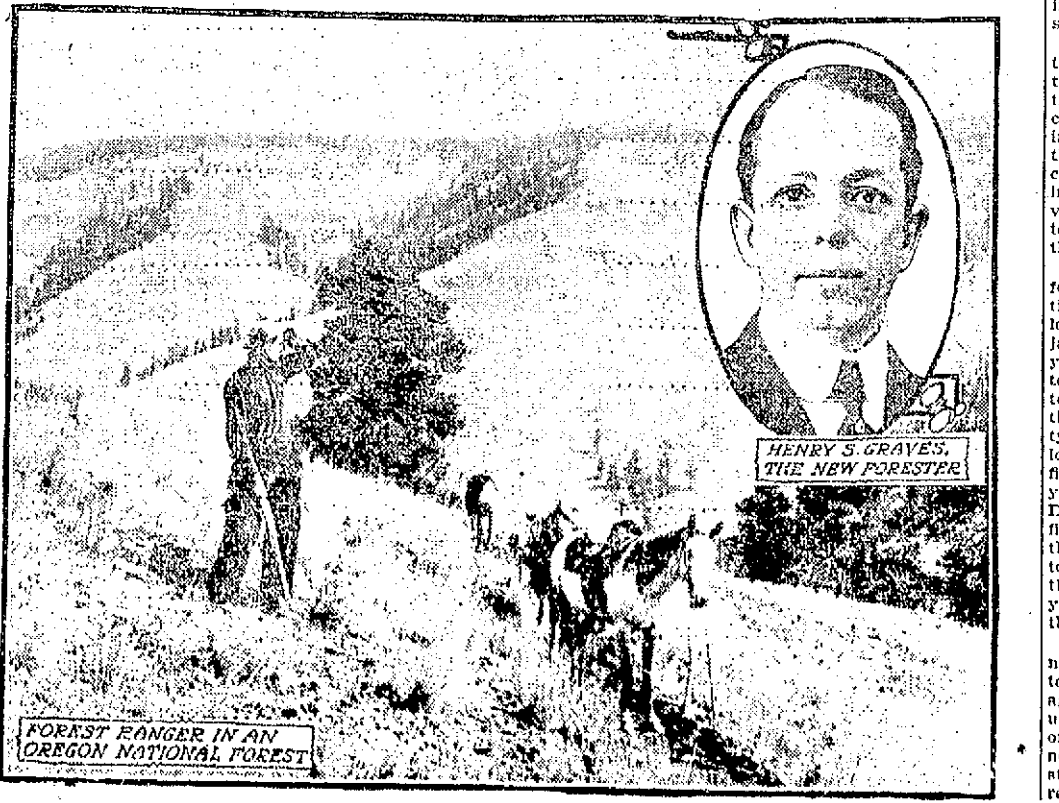

IT is interesting to note that the new chief forester of the United States, appointed by President Taft to succeed Gifford Pinchot, removed for insubordination, has held for nearly ten years the Pinchot professorship of forestry in Yale university. The Yale forestry school was founded through the efforts of Mr. Henry S. Graves, the new forestry chief, was assistant chief of the bureau of forestry under Forester Pinchot from 1898 to 1900. He is a Yale graduate of the class of 1892. Like his friend and predecessor in his present important post, he was trained in forestry in this country and in Europe. Forester Graves has made this his life study. Forestry may be termed one of the learned professions—a comparatively new one, but undoubtedly of increasing importance. There are in the service about 200 trained foresters. Mr. Graves has had large experience in our western forest work. In 1897 he made the reconnaissance forest survey in the Black Hills country, a work of high importance. President Hadley of Yale, when told that Professor Graves had received and accepted the appointment, said: "I consider the appointment a most excellent one. Mr. Graves has a full knowledge of forestry and is a clear headed business man."

When we take into consideration the vast ramifications of the forest industry as developed under Mr. Pinchot it becomes evident that a clear headed business man is required to fill the place. National forest reserves contain one-fifth of all the timber standing in the United States. The timber privately owned is generally more valuable than that publicly owned, and it is the duty of the forester and his associates so to conserve the national forests as to increase the value of their timber. The fact that hard work is being done on these national reserves is indicated by the recent official statement that "forestry is now practiced on 70 per cent of the forests publicly owned and on less than 1 per cent of the forests privately owned, or on only 18 per cent of the total area of forests." This indicates also that private forests are sadly neglected, simply left to shift for themselves, while public forests are carefully coached to their best toward attaining a high standard of value and service to the people. Originally the forests covered about 850,000,000 acres of United States territory. Now they cover only about

550,000,000 acres. This is about one-fourth of the area of the country. Approximately 300,000,000 acres have yielded to the demands of agriculture and building, being cleared of timber either by the pioneer's ax or the lumberman's saw. It is pointed out by the experts in the forest service that there are vast areas of cleared land, practically abandoned now because the soil has become poor, which could be reforested. It is the aim of the service to reforest the burned over or bare regions in the national domains and to urge private owners of unused treeless lands to plant them to useful trees. This work, to be sure, is largely for the benefit of posterity, but it is the highly ethical theory of the forest conservers and creators that no man lives for his own generation alone. There are large bare spots in many forests which should be reforested. On the Pacific coast the cut over areas frequently are stocked with a very scattering stand of trees and a dense growth of underbrush. According to a recent publication of the forest service only about 25 per cent of our present producing forests is saw timber—that is, of size and fiber fit for cutting into lumber. The same authority says that from 50 to 75 per cent could be made saw timber through concentration of growth on the best trees by thinning and the holding of the crop until it reached good size. Tree crops grow slowly. That seems to be why the people now on earth, for the most part, fail to devote their time and energy to tree planting and cultivation. Potatoes and corn bring immediate returns. Trees belong to the future so far as their harvest is concerned. But for all that the planting of trees is for the benefit of the very next generation as well as those to follow. Our own children will reap the harvest. Overton W. Price, recent associate forester, says, "Under present conditions chestnut, cypress, redwood, yellow poplar, red and black oak, loblolly, jack, red and white pine and western yellow pine will grow past timber four to eight inches in diameter in fifteen to thirty years. We are already getting mine props in twenty-five to thirty-five years from red or black oak and loblolly pine, from white oak in forty-five years, from lodgepole pine in sixty years, from western yellow pine and Douglas fir in the Rocky mountains in fifty years and on the Pacific coast in thirty-five years. The time now needed to grow a tie in our forests runs from thirty-five years for red gum to 150 years for white cedar and tamarack in the northern swamps."

Without the forest service a treeless nation some generations hence seems to be inevitable, since destructive agencies have been making headway upon the wooded area from the time of first settlement. The forest service not only has called a halt, but it has started the impetus in the other direction. ARTHUR G. BRINTON.

What the Hetch Hetchy Bill In Congress Means

Organized National Movement Opposing Measure Seeks to Save Picturesque Part of Yosemite National Park

PROFESSOR JOHN MUIR, the great California nature lover, discoverer of the Muir glacier and many other wonders of nature, in the mighty west, is leading the fight for the preservation of the Hetch Hetchy valley, an important part of the Yosemite National park. A new bill before congress proposes to grant to the city of San Francisco a perpetual right to use the Hetch Hetchy valley as a source of water supply. In the last congress a similar bill was introduced, but such was the opposition from all parts of the United States that its supporters permitted it to die in committee. According to the opponents of the measure, this was done only to permit the advocates of the bill to try again. When the measure was reintroduced at this term Professor Muir and his associates began a systematic campaign to defeat it. When James R. Garfield was secretary of the Interior he gave San Francisco a conditional grant of this section of the national park. It was known as a "revocable right," so it was by no means final. Former secretaries of the Interior had resisted all importunities of San Francisco to be permitted to invade the park. The contention of those who seek the use of the reservation is that San Francisco has no other available water supply, the present source being inadequate. Those who oppose the taking over of Hetch Hetchy aver that several other watersheds will furnish a sufficient supply to the city, which wants this one because it will be cheapest and will save money to the taxpayers. The struggle has aroused attention all over the United States. An editorial writer in a New York magazine says, "If a municipal waterworks is permitted to erect its plant in the Hetch Hetchy valley it means that the Yosemite park will become the backyard of a great municipal utility instead of a recreation ground for all the people of the country." This is a very small valley, the preservation of which has become thus a national issue. "The floor of the valley," says Muir, "is about three and a half miles long and is partly separated by a bar of glacier polished granite, across which the river breaks in rapids." But Hetch Hetchy is highly picturesque. It belongs in the high Sierras. "Hetch Hetchy valley," to continue quoting Muir, "is a grand landscape garden, one of nature's rarest

ROOSEVELT AND MUIR IN YOSEMITE PARK.

and most precious mountain mansions." Of its two chief waterfalls, Professor Muir says, "No two falls could be more unlike—Tuolumne out in the open sunshine descending like a chaste down, churning soft and low like a summer breeze in the pines; Wapama in a jagged, shadowy gorge roaring and thundering, pounding its way with the weight and energy of an avalanche." There are three great camping grounds in the Yosemite National park. Hetch Hetchy valley is one of them, the others being the Yosemite valley and the Tuolumne meadows. Hetch Hetchy is the natural gateway to the wonderfully beautiful mountain region lying east and north of the valley. The walls of this little valley are steep, perpendicular, Yosemite-like cliffs. While Theodore Roosevelt was president he visited the Yosemite National park with John Muir as traveling companion. These distinguished gentlemen went through Hetch Hetchy valley, Muir pointing out to Roosevelt the beauties of the region. G. J. STERLING

$17,000 DAMAGE ALDERMEN CLASH*Fire Destroyed Building in Bath

BATH, Me., Feb. 9.—Fire of unknown origin last night destroyed the Hooker building, Vine street, resulting in a loss estimated at about $17,000, with insurance of about only $10,000.

Only by the hardest kind of work, the Shannon house, at one time the home of William King, Maine's first governor, was saved from the flames.

The fact that the wind blew the flames away and that there was a brick wall on the Hooker building nearest the hotel, was all that saved the historic old building. As it was lines of hose were put through the hotel, guests packed up their belongings planning to move out and some of the help moved their trunks.

Many of the window draperies and inside curtains as well as woodwork about the windows of the hotel were burned, while considerable water was poured into the building. The loss will probably fall not far from $800, fully insured.

In the Hooker building were the grain mill of Irving C. Trufant, the grocery store of L. L. Hooker and George F. Wallace, A. M. Cutler's sail loft, while in the basement were stored $1500 worth of doors and windows by Harry T. Passmore.

There seems to be considerable mystery as to where the conflagration started, some believing that it caught in the office of the grain mill, and by some in the sail loft. Employees of Trufant, however, state that there was no fire in the building when they locked up and Mr. Cutler is equally positive that there was no fire in the stove in his loft, for his men did not work this afternoon and he closed up at about 6 o'clock. Hooker and Wallace say the fire in their store had been out all day.

Trufant estimated his grain stock at about $3500, fully insured; Hooker and Wallace place their loss at $1500, with about $500 insurance; Cutler, the sailmaker, $4000, insured for $3000; Passmore, insured for about $1200.

Mr. Hooker's building was valued at about $3000. He carried no insurance.

By the Maine Central tracks in the rear of the building was a big lot of ship knees, owned by A. L. Young of Auburn, and the damage done to them is estimated at about $1000.

MOOS ARRESTED*It is Charged Accounts are Short

SOUTH HADLEY, Feb. 9.—Ex-Tax Collector Frank B. Moos of South Hadley was arrested at 8 last evening for a shortage in his accounts while collector for the town. The affiant, sworn out by the selectmen, places his shortage at $4508. An examination of the collector's books showed this shortage when they were examined last July, it is said, but he has since turned in $4200 of this amount, making the final shortage $308, for which he is held.

Moos had served the town as tax collector for two years, and last summer when an expert auditor was employed on the town books it was found that there was a shortage in the tax collector's account of approximately $3000. The collector was unable to explain this shortage, and claimed a mistake in the books. A careful examination failed to show any mistake, and later it was found that a number of taxpayers held receipts tax bills without credit being given for the money on the tax collector's books, the shortage then amounting to about $1200. This amount the collector raised and turned in.

HE IS IMPROVING*DISTRICT ATTORNEY HIGGINS WAS OPERATED UPON

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—Dist. Atty. John J. Higgins of Middlesex county, who underwent an operation several days ago, is convalescing at the Penway hospital, where he is a patient. It was at first expected that he would be able to go home Saturday, but it will probably be next week, according to the doctors, before he leaves the institution.

MORE PENSIONS

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—A recommendation that a pension fund that will permit of the retirement, with suitable provision for their support, of library employees who have become aged in service, is contained in the 58th annual report of the trustees of the Boston public library. The report has been submitted to Mayor Fitzgerald, and he is requested to urge the city government to take action in the matter. The trustees point out that it is almost impossible for the employees to save an adequate fund that will provide for them in old age from the small salaries paid them.

understand on what authority the committee made such a statement. He did not think that the committee was in a position to say that the work of the board of health could never be excelled. "Who knows what great men the future may bring forth; men who may serve on the board," he said. He allowed that the board went out of its way to throw bouquets at the board of health. He said he would vote for Dr. Pierre Brunelle, a physician of 12 years' experience and a graduate of a medical college second to none in America.

It was about at this time that the chairman called upon the city messenger to suppress Mr. Connors, but the latter continued to talk and concluded by telling the chairman that he was more to be pitied than censured.

Chairman Gray called to order at 8:45. Alderman Carmichael was absent on account of illness.

Petitions having to do with streets and sidewalks were referred to the committee on streets. The annual report of the chief of the fire department was ordered on file. Notice from the Trades and Labor Council asking to be advised of any intended action by the city council relative to labor measures prior to such action, was placed on file.

Notice of personal injury were referred to the committee on claims.

The Appropriations

The report of the committee on appropriations was taken up. Chairman Gray said he presumed the members of the board had read the report and he did not consider it necessary to read it. Ald. Connors spoke to the committee's report. He said the committee did not pay any attention to the heads of departments in getting out its report. He said the committee was filled with a desire to make a speed record.

Ald. Gray, chairman, called Ald. Connors to order. The latter did not know that he was out of order. He was from Copenhagen and he wanted to see Gray's proofs. "I don't see why I am not talking on the question," he said.

"Sit down," said Ald. Gray.

"For what reason?" asked Ald. Connors.

"No more talk about it—sit down."

"But I would like to argue the question."

"Will the city messenger please order the alderman seated?" said the chairman, somewhat exasperated.

"No need of any gallery play," said Mr. Connors. "I have said about all that I care to say and I will take my seat. You are more to be pitied than censured."

Alderman Brennen said the committee had, in his estimation, exceeded its authority, relative to its commendation of the board of health.

He said he could not consistently vote to accept the committee's report unless the words "can never be excelled" were stricken out. "It seems to me," he said, "that the committee took a good deal upon itself when it said that three men could never make a record to excel that of the present three men serving on the board, and I make a motion that the report of the committee be amended so as to omit this statement."

Alderman Connors seconded the motion.

Alderman Qua rose to a point of order. His point was that the motion could not be acted upon by the board, but that the proper course, if an amendment was to be made, was to have the report re-committed. The chair ruled the point well taken.

Alderman Brennen moved that the report be re-committed, and Alderman Connors seconded the motion, which failed by a vote of 6 to 2.

The report was then accepted, and an order was adopted directing the assessors to raise the sum of $1,334,000 by taxation. It was voted to borrow money in anticipation of taxes, and it was then voted to print the usual number of copies of the report.

Dr. Brunelle's Nomination

On motion of Alderman Adams it was voted to take the appointment of Dr. Brunelle, to the board of health, from the table. The question came on confirmation, and Chairman Gray called for a yes and no vote. Dr. Brunelle was declared not confirmed.

The ordinance amending the ordinance relative to the state aid department having been passed, Mayor John F. Meahan sent in the names of George E. Worthen as superintendent, and Miss Mary E. O'Brien as assistant superintendent of the state aid department. The board voted unanimously to confirm the appointments. The ordinance as amended transfers the powers of the superintendent of state aid to the assistant superintendent in the event of the superintendent's absence or incapacity, and the appointments are subject to confirmation by both branches of the city council.

Block Paving

Three new petitions for Hassan block paving came before the board and were referred to the committee on streets. One was for paving in Merrimack street, from Dutton street to Cabot street. A second was for the paving of Gorham street from Tower's corner to Davis square. A third was for paving in Middlesex and Fletcher streets from Middlesex street to Liberty square.

A communication from Hon. John J. Pleckman, chairman of the park commission, calling attention to the condition of Anne street, and the demand for repairs to that street was referred to the committee on streets. A petition of the Lowell Shoe company that a part of Stackpole street be accepted was also referred.

Milk Inspector's Report

Reports of the engineers of the fire department and the inspector of milk for 1909 were placed on file. A communication from the Trades and Labor Council asking that the T. & L. council be notified when the board contemplates action on matters pertaining to labor, was read and filed. Several routine petitions were referred to the committee on streets.

Notice of a claim against the city was received from Christopher Green, and referred to the committee on claims. The board gave its endorsement to two applicants for state charters. Routine appointments were confirmed.

The Common Council

It was 9 o'clock when President Jewett of the common council rapped to order last evening and at that hour there were 23 members present.

The amendment to the ordinance regarding the superintendent and assistant superintendent of state aid was accepted and adopted on the part of the council. Several petitions in regard to repairing and paving streets were referred to the committee on streets.

Claims for damages against the city were referred to the claims committee.

A joint order requesting the city solicitor to appear before the legislature in support of the corporation taxation bill was adopted in concurrence.

A communication from the Trades and Labor council, and reports from the state aid department, and the health department were ordered on file.

At 8:10 a recess of 15 minutes was taken to await new business sent down from the aldermen.

The appointments of George E. Worthen as superintendent of state aid and Miss Mary E. O'Brien as assistant superintendent were confirmed.

The reports of the chief engineer of the fire department and of the appropriations committee were received and ordered on file.

The joint order to borrow money in anticipation of taxes was adopted in concurrence with the aldermen.

A joint order for printing the report of the appropriations committee was adopted. Adjourned at 8:45.

Streets Committee.

At the conclusion of the city council meetings last night, the committee on streets held a meeting.

On motion of Councilman Genest, it was voted to ask the city engineer for estimates on smooth paving of Merrimack street from Dutton to Cabot streets.

A committee consisting of Alderman Gray and Councilmen Dow and Brady, was appointed to ascertain from the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. whether they will lay tracks in Appleton street, to relieve congestion at the corner of Middlesex and Central streets.

It was also voted to ask the city engineer for estimates on smooth paving on Middlesex street to the Franklin school and Gorham street from

Tower's corner to Davis square.

Other petitions regarding macadamizing streets were laid on the table with the understanding that a view would be taken when the snow disappears.

A petition that South Wilder street be laid out and opened to the public from Parker to Midland street, was laid on the table for a view and hearing.

A petition that Stratham street be accepted and another that Llewellyn street be accepted was laid on the table as was a petition for macadamizing Gates street. Several petitions in regard to laying out of sidewalks and that edgelines be laid, were laid over for views and hearings.

PROGRESS OF A. O. H.

Set Forth by Editor Sheehan of the Hibernian

At Enjoyable Smoke Talk Held by Division 11, A. O. H., in Hibernian Hall Last Evening—Several Local Hibernians Addressed the Gathering

The members of Division 11, A. O. H., held an enjoyable smoke talk at Hibernian hall, last evening, a feature of which was an address on the subject of "Progress of the Irish Race in America," by George H. Sheehan of Boston, editor of the "Hibernian."

Mr. Sheehan also spoke on the work of the order. Other speakers were President Patrick Connolly of Division 11, James O'Sullivan, president of the A. O. H. corporation; Pres. Michael McMullin of Division 1, Pres. John O'Rourke of Div. 8; President Hubert McGuire of Div. 28; and President Denis O'Brien of Div. 2; former Deputy John Kinsella, Deputy Bernard Gagan, former County President John D. Hendricks and others. Songs were sung by Bernard Gagan, Denis McDowell, Charles A. Carey, Daniel Wholey and John Green.

A musical program was enjoyed, a feature of which was the rendition of several Irish songs by Charles Austin Carey, Uncle Sam's letter carrier tenor. Mr. Carey made a decided hit with O'Connell's new song, "Wonders of the Green," and Blanche Ring's "Top of the Morning." Robert Ray of the Manhattan club presided at the piano.

The refreshment committee consisted of John Talty, John Rourke, James Clancy, Patrick Freeman, Denis McDowell, Patrick McAndrews, John McNeary and John J. Neylon.

The committee in charge consisted of President Connolly, Vice President Patrick Hickey, Recording Secretary Bernard Gagan, Treasurer John H. Hickey and Financial Secretary William Nelson.

Mr. Sheehan's Remarks

Mr. Sheehan's remarks in part were as follows:

It is certainly gratifying to greet the Hibernians of Lowell and to feel the inspiration which comes from being what may be termed, "the cradle of our splendid order in New England."

It is an additional pleasure to find a pioneer organization here, and what could be more appropriate, for was it not the son of an Irishman, Patrick Tracy Jackson, who laid the foundation for this thriving city of Lowell?

It was his purchase of land and erection of mills here that was the magnet which drew your original settlers, the settlement developing into your splendid industrial centre. The same spirit of enterprise that drew the energetic colonial attestation when the next state convention assemblies in your city in August of the present year. No better proof could be given of your energy and enterprise than the very fact which you are doing at the present time. The Hibernians of New England are anxiously watching your endeavors, as the task which you have undertaken is not an easy one. The coming state convention will bring to your city over 20,000 loyal Hibernians from all sections of New England. The entertainment of these guests alone demands earnest effort on your part, and when one realizes that you are also engaged in the preparatory work of erecting a Hibernian hall, he can readily see that you have taken inspiration from the atmosphere in which you have lived. This state convention furnishes every assurance of being the most notable in the history of Massachusetts, and the parade, which will be a feature, will be one to show the standing and the personnel of our order in this grand old commonwealth.

You Hibernians of Lowell by your own record of advancement from the humble beginning made by those devoted pioneers of the order in 1867, present a most instructive and inspiring showing of growth and achievement. What may not the future expect where such fertility has been manifested? It is both your duty and your high privilege to venerate the memory of those who have made you the inheritors of their labors. They laid the foundation upon which the superstructure of the order here has been erected, and your duty is to see that the proportions of such structure keep on extending and amplifying to heights of the highest ideals of an ancient and honored race. Your past achievements are but a most happy augury of the splendor of the record that is yet to be written.

ANNUAL REGATTA

HARVARD AND YALE NOW WORRYING OVER DATES

It is expected that there will be a decided change in the time of holding the Harvard-Yale boat races next year. This season the races are to be on June 30, a concession made by Yale in favor of Harvard. The Yale and Harvard commencements begin on the same day this year, but Harvard's ends much later in the week than Yale and so the New Haven graduates will have been long away from the town when the regatta comes on, the Thursday of the week following both commencements.

Now it has been suggested to have the race rowed in 1911 in the week before the final examinations, either the last week in May or the first week in June. That is much earlier than ever before. If it goes through it will mean a vast difference in the training methods of the two universities. They will get all their preparation for the contest on their home waters and they will not have to have quarters at Gales Ferry and Red Top. The crews will go from the Charles and the harbor without any great interval before the race.

If this arrangement is not hit upon there is a chance, it is said, that the regatta may be given over. Neither college is at all eager to have this come to pass, but if the races cannot be fitted in with the desires of the graduates probably they will cease to be.

Speaking before the dinner of the Hartford alumni of Yale recently, Julian W. Curtis said: "If things go well the bouthouse will be completed by next May. The work of filling in the foundation is almost complete and in a short time the entire structure will be begun. It is our ambition to have the new plant entirely incorporated in the Yale athletic system by next commencement, so that work can be begun next fall without any preliminaries."

"The new quarters will mean much for the future of Yale rowing, and in this connection I want to say word with regard to the work of Coach John Kennedy. There has been criticism in some quarters because of the employment of a professional coach by Yale, but of course there is no probability of any change being made in this regard."

"Mr. Kennedy's work as a coach has been good, but his work as a man has been better, and many college generations of Yale oarsmen hold him in high regard as a friend."

Crew prospects at Syracuse have brightened up somewhat, as fifty-three men now are out for the boats. The number was small the first day, but has been increasing right along. Coach James A. Ten Eyck says: "The prospects for good crews are becoming brighter each day. The new men who have recently reported are of good size and weight. This fact especially is very pleasing to me, and I am sure there are plenty of other good men around. All the candidates are very enthusiastic and are improving with every stroke of the oar."

SEN. CUMMINS

WANTS MORE POWER FOR INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—"More power to the interstate commerce commission" was urged by United States Senator Albert S. Cummins of Iowa in an address before the Traffic club here last night.

"I shall not try to convince the corporations that they are sound and well, because they are already on the operating table," declared the senator in opening his remarks. The surgeon's knife is gleaming all around them. I shall not try to convince them that it is all over they will be stronger, because undue strength, as with Samson, is the very thing from which they suffer. But I shall try to convince them that after it is over they will be better, longer lived and safer."

Senator Cummins' topic was "The Interstate Commerce Commission: The Additional Powers It Requires to More Completely Fulfill Its Functions."

"The truth is," said the speaker, "the hair trimming was very more required than it is at present. I do not suggest that all corporations wear long locks, because I know well that many of them do not need the attention of a barber. And they are so short by the giants of the class to which they belong that they could be admired to any penitentiary in the land without any further tinsel or attention."

"But I refer to the stalwarts in and among the corporations, who are so great that while they are unwilling to shear themselves there isn't anybody big enough to shear them. Uncle Sam has been scissoring away for a good many years. It is quite possible that he has got a little close in places, but I believe that after all the corporations wear longer hair than they ever did before. The question is how to cut it smoothly and regularly."

DEPARTMENT WATER SUPPLY

The committee on appropriations met last night to consider the appropriation relative to the supply of water to the city departments, and on motion of Councilman Flanagan, it was voted to postpone action for one week.

THREE MILL TAX

Action Postponed by Board of Trade

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—At the meeting of the executive council of the Massachusetts state board of trade, held yesterday afternoon in the Vendome, one of the several important measures considered was the amendment providing for the classification of property for purposes of taxation. Robert Lane of Somerville reported for the committee on taxation in favor of the proposed legislation, but explained that the report was not unanimous.

H. D. Bennett of the committee opposed the views of Mr. Lane and read the argument of Hon. Nathan Mat-thefts and portions of the report of the special commission on taxation. He suggested that as a remedy for the financial wants of the state a resident tax be imposed upon persons who left from city to town and vice versa for several months of the year. John H. Corcoran and H. M. Batchelder also opposed the views of Mr. Lane, while one or two others sided with him.

In his closing argument Mr. Lane said the question is not the matter of a three-mill tax as much as it is if we will trust the legislature to impose different tax rates, and that the real issue is between the manufacturing interests and those of the public service corporations.

The council voted to postpone action until the next meeting, when it is expected several other speakers will be heard on the subject.

The council voted adversely on the legislative measure to limit the term of county, city and town treasurers to six years. Action on the proposed amendment to the national constitution to enable congress to lay and collect taxes on incomes, went over to the next meeting. The council voted adversely on all three bills before the legislature relative to child labor.

It was also voted that an extension of time should be asked for in the matter of making returns of incomes of corporations, until after decision by the U. S. supreme court as to the constitutionality of the law. It was pointed out that many Massachusetts corporations are surrendering their charters and going back to firm methods rather than comply with the terms of this law which it is alleged gives rivals the business secrets they wish to keep covered.

The council voted favorably on the bill to have Dec. 31 and the financial year of all towns in the commonwealth, and that on audit by the state shall be made on the written petition of fifty citizens of any town. The council also favored the plans to make a harbor of refuge at Point Judith, R. I.

THE SUGAR TRUST

To Pay $600,000 to Government

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Six hundred thousand dollars is the amount the National Sugar Refining Co. will pay the government as restitution for back duties for the underweighing of sugar. The amount was fixed yesterday at a conference between representatives of the company and counsel for the government at the custom house. It is reported that the settlement will be formally signed today and will include a clause exempting the company from civil prosecution.

HAS SMALLPOX

NORTH BROOKFIELD, Feb. 9.—There is consternation among the patients in this town of Dr. E. A. Ludden, chairman of the board of health, who has contracted smallpox from a patient whom he attended. People whom Dr. Ludden visited since his first attention to the smallpox patient are fearful that they, too, may have become infected. Thus far the cases of the doctor and his patient are the only ones which have developed.

Stop Women And Consider

This Fact—that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and has ever since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty causes them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. Such questioning and examination is unnecessary. Without cost you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

I was born in Ireland, and at the early age of 18 I was accidentally unhorsed at a hunt, receiving internal injuries, which I never overcame, though the best physicians on both sides of the ocean were sought to discover my ailment, but without success, until some eight years ago a friend gave me, for a trial, half a bottle of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey (which he was then using himself for a general broken down complaint, as he called it), and the results accomplished by it were such that I continued to use it to the great satisfaction of not only myself, but of my friends and acquaintances."

"Before its use I weighed only 147 lbs. I now tip the scales at 240 and feel as though I was a boy again, through the continuous use of your great J. Quirke, 302 9th St., Troy, N. Y."

MOODY STREET FIRE

Central Fire Station

A brisk blaze broke out in the quarters of the French-American Supply Company in Moody street last night about ten o'clock and but for its early discovery it might have reached dangerous proportions. The firemen were promptly on the scene, however, and prevented the spread of the flames though considerable damage was caused by the smoke which poured through the building in huge volumes. The supply company occupies quarters jointly with the City Hall garage in Moody street, opposite Colburn street, and for a time it looked as though the fire would make its way into the garage and destroy some of the valuable machines stored there. The fire had its inception in a small store room in the rear of the quarters of the supply company. A woman who occupies a tenement overhead detected a strong odor of smoke and notified one of the employees of the garage that there was a fire in progress. The latter jumped into an automobile and driving to the corner of Worthen street rang an alarm from box 77. In a few minutes several pieces of apparatus were on the scene.

A single line of hose was sufficient to extinguish the flames, though the heavy smoke interfered with the work of the firemen to some extent. The exact cause of the fire has not been learned as yet, but it is thought to have been spontaneous combustion in a pile of rubbish and rags in the store room which was located next to a chimney.

The supply company had about $1500 worth of stock on hand. The principal loss will fall on this concern though the garage owners will suffer some damage from smoke. It happened that many of the most valuable cars at the garage were on the side next to the fire, and for a few minutes the employee in charge and his helpers had a very busy time preparing for their removal. This proved unnecessary in the end, however.

The big truck at the central fire station had trouble when it started out of the stables. The steering gear of the truck failed to work, and the truck and the big steamer collided without, however, doing any damage to either.

Fortunately there was no one standing on the running board on the right side of the truck for if there had been probably the person would have been fatally injured for the truck went into the steamer with such a crash that it would have been impossible for a person standing on the running board to escape injury.

Both pieces of apparatus were delayed in reaching the fire as a result of the accident.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the building which was owned by Wm. D. Spaulding.

Fire in a Hack

A fire in a hack belonging to Undertaker Joseph Albert was discovered early yesterday morning by one of Mr. Albert's employees, Pierre Caron. The hack was in Mr. Albert's stable in Hall street and when Caron opened the door he detected a strong odor of smoke and soon learned that the fire was in the hack.

The rugs and cushions were badly damaged and the carriage, itself, was somewhat charred. The carriage had been left there shortly before

If the milk passages are clogged, from cold, or other causes, bathing in the Painkiller will give immediate relief. Ask for New 35c Bottle.

NEW YEAR'S DAY

Happy New Year!

New Year came in at Chinatown at 12:01 this morning and the year 2461 is on. The Chinese started to count time in the days of old Confucius and they're counting yet from that time and hence are 551 years barring a few weeks, ahead of us on time. It takes 20 days to observe the Chinese New Year right, 20 days and 11 digestive organs, for the Chinamen feast steady for 20 days and 20 nights and when he isn't eating and drinking he's burning up fireworks.

In the big Chinese colonies of San Francisco, New York and Boston the day is being observed with New Year feasts and feasting but in Lowell only an informal observance is being held. Last evening several Chinese gathered at Wong & Co's restaurant in Central street and watched the old year out and incidentally had a feast fit for the gods while little Charlie Wong Tuck made a speech of welcome to the New Year.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

It was voted to have a class initiation in the near future. A committee of 20 members will be named at the next meeting by the board of officers.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Jules Morrisette and Miss Arthemise Harvey took place Monday morning at St. Louis' church, at a mass celebrated by Rev. Abbe Rodolphe Portier. Rev. J. N. Jacques performed the wedding ceremony. Mr. Jules Morrisette was his son's witness, and the bride was attended by Mr. Adolphe Bouchard. The bridegroom is a prominent member of St. Louis' choir, and of the Centralville quartet, and a special program of much attractiveness was prepared for the event by the members. Dr. T. D. Chagnon sang "Veni Creator," Mrs. Oller J. David sang "Benedictus," "Salutatio," and Lambillotte's "Laudatio" sung at the close of the mass by Messrs. Oller J. David, Emery C. Gaudin and Elzevir J. Larochelle. Miss Ida Monroah presided at the organ. After the mass a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home, 32 Ennet street, and at night a reception took place at the home of the bridegroom's parents, 185 Ludlam street.

Prior to the wedding the happy couple were both remembered by their friends, and given delightful surprises. Miss Harvey's friends gathered at her home Friday night and presented her a valuable gift, and Sunday night, the members of St. Louis' choir and the Centralville quartet gathered at Mr. Morrisette's home for a similar purpose and presented him a purse. Mr. and Mrs. Morrisette will reside at 185 Ludlam street.

U-TRA-CIT

We direct your attention to the U-Tra-Cit Embroidery Tracing Pad. It is cleaner, cheaper and much better than impression or carbon paper. For tracing or stamping fancy work patterns it is ideal—the only method that is simple, pleasant and profitable. This pad requires no paint, powder, hot irons or the cleaning of patterns. In fact all of the disagreeable features of "stamping" are eliminated when the U-Tra-Cit pad is used. Then again the stamping will not blur or run; still it washes out easily.

Visit the demonstration at the Art and Fancy Work Section. A moment or two of watching and you'll be convinced that it's the best of its kind ever offered.

Was Left by Former Springfield Pelham Electric Car Crashed Into His Sleight

Coachman Named Nelson

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 9.—With the death of George D. Nelson in this city yesterday came to an end the interesting career of a person whose antecedents, as well as his prosperity during a 20-year residence in Springfield, were shrouded in mystery.

Nelson was one of the best known characters in the city and, with no known relatives to share in his wealth, he leaves an estate roughly valued at $800,000.

More than 20 years ago George D. Nelson made his first appearance in Springfield. He came from the west and his mission here was to deliver to William Bliss, formerly president of the Boston & Albany railroad, two valuable horses.

He then accepted a position as coachman for Mrs. Emma Goodrich Vinton, who inherited the large Goodrich estate on Franklin street. When Mrs. Vinton died, about five years ago, she bequeathed all her property, valued at a half million at least, to Mr. Nelson. The Vinton heirs contested the will, but the courts decided in favor of Mr. Nelson.

Mr. Nelson, through buying the horses for Pres. Bliss, was given a position a few years afterward as freight dispatcher for the railroad, having in charge the task of clearing the sidings in case of blockades.

He retired from this position after several years of service and then devoted his time to the management of the Vinton and Nelson properties. He erected the Nelson theatre and later remodeled a block at the corner of Maine and Hampden streets into the Nelson hotel.

He reserved a room for himself at the hotel, and it was there that he died at 2:45 yesterday afternoon following an illness of several months with Bright's disease.

A few years ago Nelson and one of the lessees of the hotel, Daniel H. Buckley, had an argument over the wording of a certain clause in the lease. Nelson net $10,000 to $100,000 that he was right, and when an examination of the document showed him to be in error, he put his hand in his pocket and took out $10,000, which he handed over to Buckley.

Nelson is believed to have been about 85 years old.

Woman Attempted to Drown Herself Heard in Alleged Graft Case

REVERE, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Annie F. Monroe of Boston nearly succeeded in drowning herself at Revere beach yesterday afternoon. She walked into the water near the foot of Beach street, and when first seen was standing in the surf up to her waist.

Wm. T. Rooney and Samuel Oppenheim were at the corner of Beach street and caught sight of the woman just as she threw herself into the surf. The two men rushed into the water and dragged her out.

She had been rolled over several times by the waves and, although considerable water, and it was with much difficulty that she was carried into the Metropolitan park police station, where she was treated by a physician. Later she was taken to the hospital in Chelsea, rational, but unable to give any reason for her act. She gave her address as 183 Elliot street, Boston, and her age as 42 years.

"BATTERY DAN"

Was Attacked by Commissioner Clement

ALBANY, Feb. 9.—Because of what is termed "this unwarranted, unjust, and unlawful hostility to the enforcement of the provisions of the liquor law," "Battery Dan" Finn, magistrate in the borough of Manhattan, was attacked yesterday by Commissioner Clement of the state police board, who began a proceeding in the supreme court for the removal of Finn from office.

The charge upon which the proceeding is based contains 132 specifications of different excise cases pending before Magistrate Finn between April, 1909, and Nov. 1 of the same year. In each of these cases, it is alleged, evidence was offered to show that an offense had been committed and to warrant the retention of the defendants for trial at the court of special sessions. Commissioner Clement states in his petition for the removal of Finn that in refusing to hold the saloon keepers for trial, he was guilty of "willful, unlawful, and fraudulent discharge of the said defendants and by such acts showed himself incompetent to act as such city magistrate."

Fritch, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Maybelle Millman of Ann Arbor, was begun here today before Judge Chas. L. Smith. Higgins sustained a severe scalp wound and bruises about the left hand. He was taken to his home.

COWLEY ESTATE

IS SUED BY STENOGRAPHER F. E. ROLLINS

Frank E. Rollins has filed an attachment, through T. W. and S. E. Qua, attorneys, against the estate of the late Charles Cowley, in the hands of Eliza Cowley, executrix, in the sum of $2000. The suit is for the apportionment share of the payment for the stenographic bill incurred in the estate of Charles Cowley against the city of Lowell and the Locks and Canals company. Payment was to be divided between the two defendants and the plaintiff. City Solicitor Duncan says that the city has paid its share, and presumably the Locks and Canals has done the same, as no attachment is recorded against them. The case was heard by a justice, his decision to be final on matters of fact, and the decision is still pending.

CARL F. PIHL IN COLLISION WITH ELECTRIC CAR ON MOODY ST.

Throwing Him Out and Causing Severe Injuries—His Horse Was Killed and the Sleigh Badly Damaged—Eye Witness States Accident Was Unavoidable

Mr. Carl F. Pihl, of the firm of Pihl & Widen of Lundberg street, was a victim of a serious accident late yesterday afternoon when the sleigh that he was driving collided with a Pelham electric car on Moody street directly in front of the Textile school.

Mr. Pihl was thrown from his sleigh and his shoulder and hand were injured. His horse was so badly injured that it was necessary to shoot the animal, while the sleigh was badly damaged.

Mr. Pihl was driving along Moody street from Pawtucketville about 5:50 o'clock when an outward bound Pelham car in charge of Conductor John Conley and Motorman Patrick O'Rourke and carrying a large number of passengers, came along.

According to eye witnesses, just as the sleigh came in front of the car the horse shied, throwing the sleigh into the path of the car. Motorman O'Rourke immediately reversed his motor, but there was no chance to avoid a collision, and the heavy car crashed into the lighter vehicle, demolishing it and also striking the horse. Mr. Pihl was able to go to his home unassisted, while Agent Richardson of the Humane society was notified and later killed the animal.

Inspector Knox and Special Officer Cartwright on a charge of shoplifting, was tried before Judge Murray at the morning session, and upon being found guilty the judge suspended sentence. She has been out on $200 bail, furnished by Frank Whalen of 1625 Washington street.

Inspector Knox showed the judge a long record of the woman has, both in New York and this city. Miss Maynard, the probation officer, said the woman has been arrested in this city 17 times.

Judge Murray sentenced Mrs. Nellie Colburn of Lynn to four months at the house for indigent women at Dedham. She was charged with shoplifting, and the arresting officers said she had more than $50 worth of boots. George Tomper was fined $5 for shoplifting. Inspector Abbott told the judge that Cooper told him the reason he stole the things was he wanted to sell them to buy dope.

Emma Clarke was fined $10 for shoplifting from a downtown department store.

PLOT TO KILL

Men Also Planned to Seize $600,000 in Gold

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A piratical tale of a plot to kill the officers of the liner Galecia, seize $800,000 in gold consigned to Rio Janeiro and then wreck the vessel off the coast of South America, was told by sailors aboard the Galecia today. A member of the crew gave the alarm and Peter Nieman, a sailor, was put in irons and taken to Hamburg for trial. Officers of the Galecia could not be found to verify the story.

STATE HOSPITAL QUARANTINED

DANVERS, Feb. 9.—On account of a number of cases of diphtheria and one or two cases of scarlet fever, the Danvers state hospital for the insane has been placed under a rigid quarantine by the Danvers board of health. Although it is understood that there is no cause for alarm, the state authorities are cooperating with the Danvers health board in an effort to eliminate all possible danger of the spread of the diseases. Judges throughout the state are understood to have been notified of the epidemic and for the present will not make any more commitments to the hospital here. The employees of the institution have been placed under strict surveillance and are not permitted to leave the institution if they show any signs of germs in their throats.

There are said to be fifty or more cases of diphtheria at the hospital, but the officials do not consider this an alarming number in a total institutional population of more than 1500. It is believed by the authorities that the prompt and rigid precautions taken will confine the epidemic to its present limits.

BADLY INJURED PRESIDENT TAFT

John King Thrown From a Sleigh To Take Part in Roosevelt Reception

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—President Taft today was given full details of the plans that have been formulated thus far for the reception to be tendered former President Roosevelt upon his arrival in New York harbor some time between June 15 and June 21. Col. John Stewart, president of the New York State League of Republican clubs, told the president that the committee which would be placed in charge of the celebration undoubtedly would extend later an invitation to him to be present at New York as the guest of honor.

There is some doubt as to whether or not President Taft will be able to participate but it seems more than likely that he will.

Col. Stewart said the idea now was to have the steamer on which Mr. Roosevelt arrives met down the bay by a fleet of yachts and harbor craft and that there shall be a land parade. The plan for President Taft's participation is to have him present in New York city so that Mr. Roosevelt may call on him.

The day's celebration will end with a big banquet at which President Taft and former President Roosevelt will be the principal speakers.

Col. Stewart said that the reception was to be kept free of any suspicion of factional politics, and there was nothing of the return from Elba movement connected with it.

President Taft had hoped to go to Alaska during the coming spring, but the present indications are that he will not be able to make the trip unless congress should adjourn early in May.

The president said he would not go to Alaska unless he could be back in his country June 22, when his son, Robert Taft, graduates from Yale. Under these circumstances it is very probable that the president will be able to be in New York when Mr. Roosevelt returns.

The president was told by Mr. Stewart that he would be kept informed of the details of the plan of the reception as they progress and his wishes will outweigh any other consideration in making up the program.

MANY SLEIGHS STRANDED
Scores of heavily laden sleds were stranded on the bare pavements at the corner of Market and Central streets today and many of them were pulled off the pavements only after considerable difficulty.

It was almost impossible for a horse or even a pair of horses to pull a heavy load over the bare spot without getting stuck. Even after the street department dumped several loads of snow in the street the conditions were not greatly improved.

Supr. Richmond Welch, who was instrumental in having a pair of horses placed at that corner for several years in order to assist horses with heavy loads, interested himself in the welfare of the drivers and horses after witnessing a few sleds getting stranded, and telephoning to the office of the street department, succeeded in having Supr. Putnam send a pair of horses to the corner of Market and Central streets to render assistance when it was needed.

YOUTHFUL SUICIDE

Miss Edith McCallum Jumps Into Pawtucket Canal

Deliberated Over Her Rash Act in Presence of Many Spectators for Nearly an Hour—Victim's Hat Identified by Her Father

After deliberating for nearly an hour in the vicinity of Pawtucket falls as to just where she would commit the rash act, Miss Edith McCallum of 35 Sutherland street, a well-dressed young woman committed suicide in the Pawtucket canal this morning in view of several persons who had been watching her intently, yet none had the presence of mind to prevent her carrying out her tragic intention.

The young woman, who was apparently about 20 years of age, threw herself into the canal about 100 yards below the Pawtucket bridge, or directly opposite the foot of Mt. Vernon street. At this point a small board platform extends out over the canal wall and after removing her hat, gloves and combs and placing them on the snow at the canal wall, she climbed over the small iron fence onto the platform and threw herself into the swiftly rushing waters.

A young man who had seen her cried to her and ran along the canal wall toward the spot where she had gone in and after she had gone down once saw her come to the surface again, her clothing floating on the water so as to keep her head above water. For the distance of about 100 feet, the unfortunate girl was seen to be struggling, but making no apparent effort to save herself, floated down the canal to a point in the rear of the Sawyer block now in process of construction in Pawtucket street next to the C. M. A. C. building, where she disappeared from view. It was about 10 o'clock when she was seen floating by several women and by the members of Dr. Roy's family for she disappeared from view just below Dr. Roy's house, the rear of which faces the canal.

Came from Pawtucketville
The young woman was first noticed by Edward Powers, employed by Morrison's market in Pawtucket square, shortly after 9 o'clock, when she turned the corner of Riverside street and walked to the bridge, looking upward frequently as she walked. Her actions aroused his attention and he watched her. She went across the street and stopped near the gate house as if she were watching the icecutters at work in the falls. Upon crossing the street her actions caught the attention of Mr. Joseph Perkins, the well known Pawtucketville barber, whose place of business commands a view of the bridge, and that of his employee, Mr. George Cummings. After watching her a few minutes, Mr. Cummings remarked jokingly, "I wonder if she is contemplating suicide." Meanwhile others were watching her, and a man named Esterbrook, who drove by, remarked: "She must be trying to commit suicide." After remaining by the gate-house for some time, the young woman crossed the street and started down the snow-covered driveway to the canal walk. Then both Messrs. Powers and Cummings left their stores and watched her from the bridge. After proceeding about 50 feet along the walk she suddenly went down the steep bank of the river to the water's edge.

Mr. Powers cried out to her to come away from there, while Mr. Cummings started to go toward the upper part of the bridge where he could enter the canal walk. In response to Mr. Powers' cries the young woman returned to the canal walk and running along the walk as fast as she could and continually looking behind suddenly stopped at the point above mentioned, where the small platform projects, and removing her hat and gloves deliberately climbed over the rail.

Cummings Gave Chase
Crying to her to stop, Mr. Cummings ran down the steps onto the canal walk and after her, but before he could reach her she had jumped into the water. When he got to the point where she was floating along, he cried out to her to keep her hands and feet moving and that he would get a rope. She replied faintly, "I can't." Mr. Cummings ran at full speed ahead, Mr. Cummings ran opposite the rear of the Sawyer block, where he cried out to the workmen that a woman was in the canal. Mr. Sawyer hearing his cries procured a rope and ran down to the edge of the canal bank, but he arrived just as she disappeared under the dark waters to be seen no more.

Officer Charles Hamilton was on the scene a few moments after the unfortunate young woman disappeared and looked the canal bank in hope that the body might come to the surface, but up to the time of going to press no trace of it had been found. Officer Hamilton then took possession of the hat, gloves, etc., and made a thorough search of the canal wall, assisted by several newspapermen, to see if anything else that would lead to her identity could be found. The search availed nothing.

Body Identified
Shortly after two o'clock this afternoon it was learned that the unfortunate girl was Edith McCallum, aged 20 years and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCallum of 35 Sutherland street, Centralville. The girl's father identified the hat which was in the possession of the police, as the hat worn by his daughter when she left the house this morning.

Mr. McCallum while passing through Merrimack square this afternoon saw by the newspaper bulletins that an unknown girl had jumped into the canal and knowing his daughter's complexion and the manner in which she had acted of late he rushed over to the police station for information.

When he was shown the hat that had been left behind, Mr. McCallum covered his face in his hands and cried: "My God! It is my Edith. I knew she would do it. I knew she would do it."

After several minutes Mr. McCallum was able to compose himself and give the police information relative to his daughter. After the story had been told there was no doubt in the mind of the police that the girl was McCallum's daughter and that her attempt to end her life was a deliberate one.

According to the story told the police, the presence of a representative of The Sun, the girl had been keeping company with a young man, a resident of this city, and who has been employed in one of the large department stores in Boston. They were to have been married, the young man having even gone so far as to take out a marriage license. Time dragged on, however, and the father took his daughter over to the clerk of the police court last week and a paternity warrant was made out, but it was evident that the man in question expected this and when the police went to serve the warrant it was found that he had left the city.

Mr. McCallum had tried to comfort his daughter, but she became despondent and her actions indicated that she was laboring under a great mental stress.

She left the house about 5:30 o'clock this morning and undoubtedly after walking about for a while went to the Pawtucket canal and jumped into the water.

The girl was the oldest of ten children.

Her Life Insured
The father also stated to the police that a short time ago the young man in the case took out a life insurance on the daughter's life which he took at the time to be an indication of their speedy marriage.

TRIED TO STRANGLE HIMSELF
PARIS, Feb. 9.—A special to the Matin from Vienna says that Abdul Hamid, the former sultan of Turkey, was recently seized with a paroxysm of frenzy and attempted to strangle himself with a silk handkerchief. He was prevented from suicide by a servant and subsequently placed in a strait jacket.

There is no confirmation of the story obtainable here.

HARRY PURCIVAL

Made Record in the U. S. Navy

The distinction of being second in 34,000 men as gun captain, seven-inch gun, ten shots and ten hits in one minute and seventeen seconds, at a distance of 2000 yards belongs to Harry Purcival, who was a resident of this city for 26 years and who still has home ties here. He is visiting in Lowell at the present time.

Mr. Purcival is a boatswain's mate on the U. S. S. Hancock and he went with the battleship fleet that made the trip around the world. At the present time he is enjoying a leave of absence in this city. ## $500,000 FIRE

Destroyed Brighton Stockyards but Live Stock Was Saved

Three Men Reported Missing and May Have Perished in the Flames—Good Work by Firemen Prevented General Conflagration

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—Boston's beef supply was nearly "cornered" by a fire which destroyed approximately half a million dollars' worth of property at the Brighton stockyards early today. Fortunately several hundred head of cattle were turned loose from the burning building and none of the live stock was destroyed. The fire is thought to have originated in the engine room of the New England Rendering Co.'s building connected with the Brighton abattoir on North Market street. The blaze spread to the catlleshed of the Boston Packing Co. within a few minutes and threatened for a time to wipe out the entire abattoir plant which is comprised of 17 buildings and covers nearly twenty acres.

The fire was discovered by two watchmen in the New England Rendering Co.'s building early in the morning. When the firemen arrived in response to the first alarm the flames were shooting out of the six story wooden building and threatening to spread to the rest of the abattoir and a tenement district across North

Market street. A third alarm was immediately rung in and was followed by a fourth. By hard work the firemen succeeded in confining the flames to the building of the Rendering company and the cattle shed. The latter structure was only partially burned but the other was a total loss. It was much valuable machinery and a large stock of goods.

The exact cause of the fire is not known. When the management assembled the workers of the abattoir, after the fire had been practically extinguished, Michael Egan and two Poles were missing.

It was known that Egan just before the fire broke out went to one of the upper floors for lunch and his usual short nap and no one saw him come out of the building. The whereabouts of the two Poles was more of a mystery, but no trace of them could be found in the neighborhood up to 9 a. m. Neither were their names known. The building burned so rapidly that it was generally believed that Egan and possibly the Poles were caught in the upper floors and were unable to escape.

BRUTAL MURDER

Mutilated Body of Five-Year-Old Girl Found

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 9.—The brutal murder of a five year old girl was revealed by the finding of her mutilated body in an old broken down barn here today. The gruesome discovery was made by the child's father, Harry Tishkowitz, at the head of a party of friends and neighbors who had been scouring the neighborhood all night and today in search of the missing little one.

Lying on a heap of refuse in one corner of the dilapidated structure was the body, from which practically all the clothing had been stripped. Around the girl's neck a waist belt that the child had worn was tightly twisted.

There was every evidence that the girl had struggled to the limit of her strength against the ravisher who had finally strangled his victim to death.

The little one's outstretched arm still grasped a penny which drew her to the dismal interior and to her death. The police are searching the city for the murderer as to whose identity, however, no clue has yet been discovered.

The crime created great excitement in the neighborhood and police reserves and detectives had their hands full this afternoon trying to prevent an excited mob of foreigners from lynching a suspect who was arrested. The man taken into custody is a foreigner, who was found asleep in his bed at home. When told he was under arrest he went calmly with the officers and did not even ask for what he was wanted. The police say that bloodstains were found on his clothing.

ALDERMEN CLASH

Ald. Connors Called to Order for Criticizing Committee's Report

ALDERMAN A. L. GRAY

ALDERMAN J. E. CONNORS

Report of Appropriations Committee Lavished Praise on Board of Health, as Making a Record That Could Never be Excelled—Alderman Brennan Moved to Have Report Recommitted—Motion Lost—Other Matters Acted Upon

Alderman Gray and Alderman Connors clashed at the special meeting of the board of aldermen held last night. Alderman Gray, who is chairman of the board of aldermen, refused to hear Mr. Connors on matters that appeared to him as being apart from the controversy, and he told the alderman in no uncertain tones to sit down. Alderman Connors didn't feel like sitting down. He felt like making a noise, and he told the chairman a thing for two. He made it so strong that the city messenger was called upon to call him to order, but the city messenger's services were not necessary. The whole trouble had to do with the report of the committee on appropriations. Alderman Connors criticized the committee for the splurge it had made relative to time, and insinuated that the estimates of the department had not been thoroughly considered. Alderman Connors said that the committee on appropriations had exceeded its authority and he laid special stress upon one section of the report, which read as follows: "Certainly this board (referring to the board of health) has been a working board from the start and, composed as it is of three busy professional men, it has already established a record which can never be excelled." Alderman Connors could not quite

THREE KILLED Men Were Overcome by Gas

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—A gas cock, half shut by a sleepy boarder before he tumbled into the bed, brought death by asphyxiation to three shipwrights in a South Brooklyn boarding house today. They were William and Alexander Robertson, brothers, and William Thompson.

RIVER SEINE RISING
PARIS, Feb. 6.—The river Seine had risen 9 inches in this city during the 24 hours ending at noon today. The rise is due to the increased volume of its affluents above Paris, which were swollen by yesterday's rain and melting snow. The hydrographic department predicts a continued rise until Friday when it will reach a height of over twenty-two feet at Pont Royal and equal the flood level of 1882.

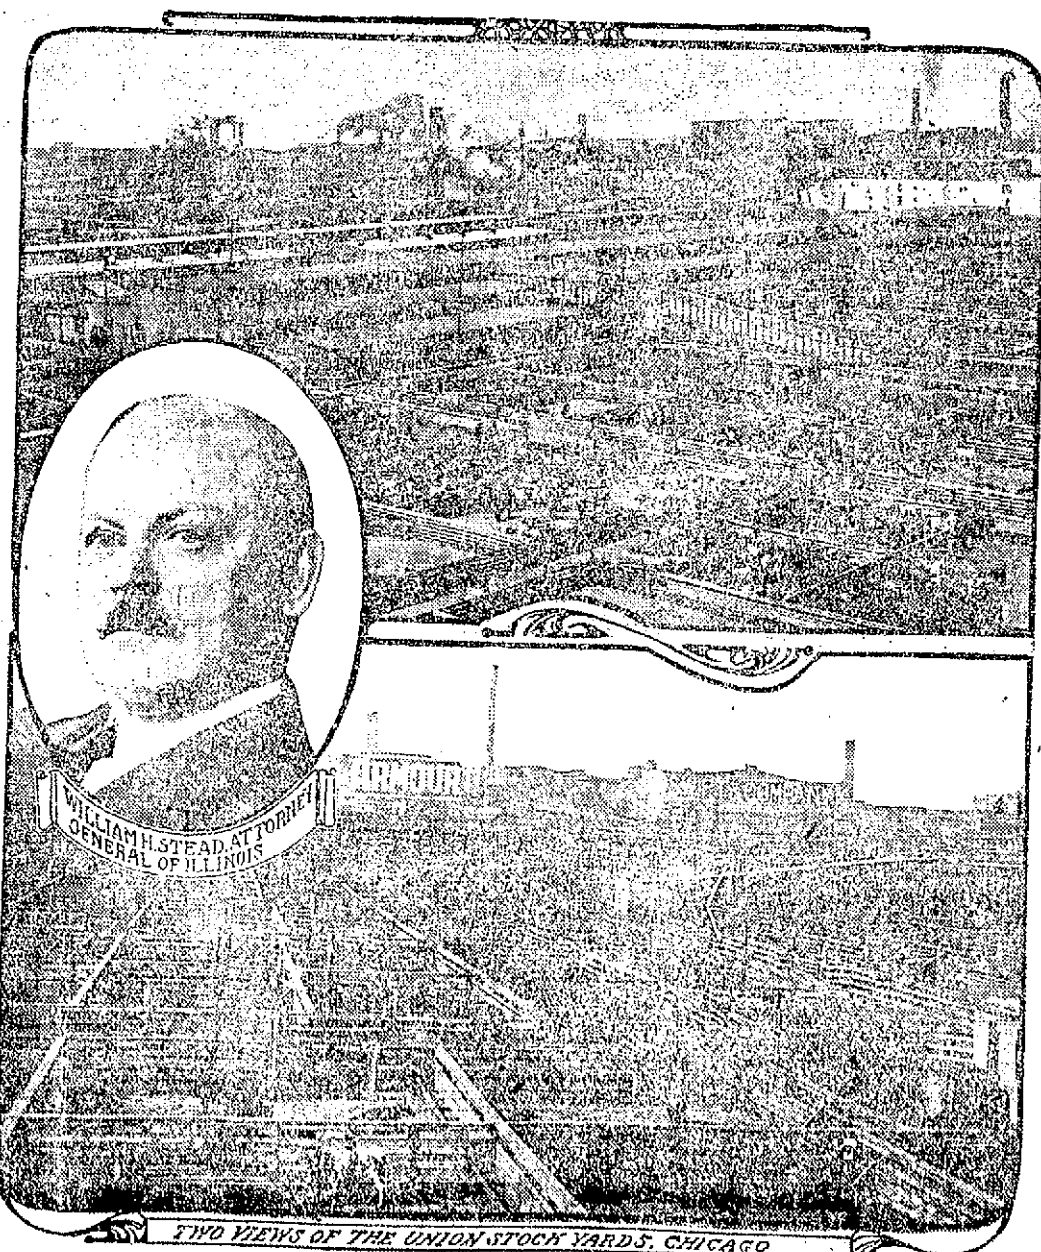

Although confident that there is no danger of a repetition of the recent disaster, the authorities are taking thorough precautions. The level of the parapets at low places throughout the length of the city is being hastily raised by improvised dikes. The return of high water threatens greatly to retard the work of repair which is in progress. The waters which had dripped below the mouths of the sewers are again pouring into the conduits, drowning the electric light and power lines in the vicinity of the place de l'Opera. While service has been resumed on several sections of the subway the management holds out no hope that the main line passing St. Lazare station will be restored for another month.

TUXEDO CLUB

1 KILLED, 20 HURT

In Frightful Car Crash at Hindsdale, on Pittsfield Line

Big Car, With 105 Passengers, Coasted Down Steep Grade and Jumped Track at Bottom—Miss Bessie Ryan Killed and Twenty Seriously Injured—Slippery Rails the Alleged Cause

PITTSFIELD, Feb. 6.—Coasting uncontrolled down a steep grade for a half mile today a big double-truck electric car on the Pittsfield street railroad jumped the track on a curve at the foot of the hill and crashed into the abutments of a railroad bridge, killing one person and injuring eighteen others, none fatally.

The accident happened in the town of Hindsdale, about a mile and a half west of Pittsfield Center. The rails were slippery with frost and the combined application of air brakes and hand brakes failed to check the speed of the car.

The car was bound from Hindsdale for Dalton and Pittsfield, carrying about 105 passengers, all employed in Dalton and Pittsfield factories.

Story of Accident
Rails made slippery by frost, were responsible for the accident, causing the death of one person and more or less serious injuries to twenty others in a trolley car accident at Hindsdale, 12 miles from this city, early today.

Miss Bessie Ryan of Hindsdale, was killed. The injured were brought to the hospital in this city. So much time was consumed in attending to their injuries that there was considerable delay in making known the identity of the victims. There were 105 passengers on board the car which was of double truck construction. The car left Hindsdale for Dalton and this city at 6:15 a. m. About a mile west of Hindsdale village there is a heavy grade and at the foot of the hill the road takes a sharp turn to pass under an overhead bridge of the Boston & Albany division of the New York Central railroad.

The rails were slippery with frost and when the car struck the heavy grade the brakes failed to hold. Although Motorman Thomas Murray of Dalton reversed the power the car coasted rapidly down the grade and when it reached the curve it jumped the track and smashed into the abutments of the bridge.

Some of the passengers were able to jump from the car before the crash came but most of them were on board when the car struck the stone pier. The car was demolished and everyone on board was badly shaken up.

Those whose injuries were confined to bruises and shock immediately turned their attentions to the more seriously hurt, some of whom were carried to farmhouses in the vicinity. Word was sent to Hindsdale, Dalton and Pittsfield for doctors.

A special car was sent from this city to bring back the injured. When it had reached a point near the scene of the accident the relief car jumped the rails and there was considerable delay before it could be replaced on the tracks and start to this city with the sufferers on board.

Eighteen of the injured were brought to the House of Mercy in this city, where ten physicians were in waiting to give them the necessary attention. The injured were:

Andrew Ryan, brother of the girl who was killed.
John Willard.
Frank Shea.
Mary Burns.
Ernest Cahill.
John Harrington.
Annie McCormick.
May McCormick.
Emily Weiler on board.
John Daffin.
William Doherty.
Mary Dwyer.
David Walker.
John Collins.
Patrick Carroll.
Kitty Cuddy.
William Cuddy.
Miss Urban.

The stories told by some of the 75 passengers on the car agree in the important details. It is estimated that at the instant the crash came the car was traveling at a speed of 50 miles an hour. Just as the car had entered on the steep grade near the Catholic cemetery in Dalton, the motorman tried to stop to take on a passenger. The rails were slippery and the airbrakes failed to work. Conductor Owen Blake, of Dalton, who was in the car collecting fares, noticed that something was wrong and he rushed to the rear vestibule and applied the hand brake. The car, despite the application of both brakes, gained speed and was rushing at a tremendous rate when it jumped the track on the curve at the foot of the half mile hill and crashed into the railroad bridge abutment.

The car struck the stone pillar, glancing blow, ripping off the front top and the right side. Miss Bessie Ryan was sitting in the third seat on the right with Miss Mary Burns. When the crash came Miss Ryan was crushed between two seats and her head was squeezed into a shapeless mass. Her death was instantaneous. All of the passengers were thrown down for a while. Some were cut by broken glass, while still others were bruised by the terrific shock.

During the forenoon General Manager Dolan and Director Bartholomew Brickley issued a statement in behalf of the Pittsfield Street Railroad company, in which they stated that the car was thoroughly inspected before being sent out this morning and that it was one of the best cars owned by the road. They understood that the brakes failed to work on account of the frost making the rails slippery.

Medical Examiner Henry Colt interviewed Motorman Murray and Conductor Blake, and was informed that there was no sand on the car.

At the House of Mercy it was stated that all of the injured would recover.

THREE SAFEBLOWERS

Were Driven Away While Making Raid, by One-Armed Man

DANIELSON, Conn., Feb. 6.—With one shot from his revolver as he stood half hidden behind a nearby gatepost, Christopher Kent, the one-armed night watchman of the village, early today put to flight three safecrackers, who were in the midst of efforts to dynamite the postoffice safe. Two of the men were at work inside the building, while the third stood guard outside. The men had already set off one charge, while Kent was at the opposite end of the village. This had loosened the safe door. They had inserted another charge and were about to explode it when Kent appeared on the scene. He at once opened fire. The guard immediately took to his heels and his companions dashed out of the office disappeared in the dark. The robbers secured nothing.

The door was forced open. Lying upon the floor the bodies, each in a pool of blood, were discovered. They had been stabbed.

A woman neighbor said a stranger called upon the couple Saturday night and there was much drinking. She said she did not know the visitor except that he was called John. Later the woman said she saw the man leave alone.

THE GLOVER CASE
CAMBRIDGE, Feb. 6.—Having familiarized himself by a visit to Watlington with the situation of the laundry and home of Clarence Glover who was murdered there last November, Judge McIntyre resumed the hearing today on the objections to the allowance of Glover's will which leaves most of the property to the widow and a brother. When the hearing closed on Monday, S. D. Elmore, the lawyer who drew the will and who has acted for Mrs. Glover since the death of her husband, had still some points to clear up in order to satisfy the lawyers for the brothers who are opposing the will regarding Elmore's knowledge of the affairs of the family.

Mr. Elmore admitted on Monday that he was not "startled" when the police found Miss Hattie LeBlanc under a bed in the Glover house, although two previous searches had proved fruitless.

The accounts of Moos were found incorrect last July but because of his desire to make restitution he was not arraigned immediately. He made good an alleged shortage of $4200 and an additional discrepancy was discovered which resulted in his being arrested last night.

LATEST MORAN WON BOUT

Matty Baldwin Did Not Show Usual Form

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—Superior general-ship and faster and cleaner hitting with both hands won for Owen Moran, the English featherweight, in his 12 round bout with Matty Baldwin at the Armory A. A. last night.

Moran began to display his old form after the fifth round and Baldwin did not show as well as he did in their engagement a few weeks ago.

It was with his left that Moran did the most hitting although he drove his right hand under the heart many times. Baldwin was away off most of the time in his speed and his judging of distance and his hitting at times was bad.

In the opening bout, Henry Hall and Joe Brown, both colored, put up a slam bang go that lasted less than a round. It looked bad for Hall at the start, but crossing the right to the jaw he sent Brown down for the count.

The result of the second bout was a surprise. Jim Carr of Charlestown was substituted for Eddie Conley against Joe Nelson of Lawrence, as Conley sustained an injury to his hand. Going into the bout of the reel as Carr did, made the members feel that Nelson had a clutch. By using good headwork, however, Carr beat the tough proposition from Lawrence in about every round and was given the decision.

The semi-final contest of six rounds between Lou Sullivan of Cambridge and Joe Geary of Roxbury did not appeal very strongly to the members, as Geary did too much stalling. When he did hit it was with the open glove. Sullivan jabbed him repeatedly and was given the decision.

Charles and Marcel Tessier, brothers, were arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning, the former on complaints charging him with drunkenness and assault and battery on an officer and the latter with drunkenness and interfering with an officer while in the performance of his duty. Through their counsel both entered pleas of guilty and the case did not go to trial.

Each was fined $8 for drunkenness, the case of assault against Charles was placed on the files of the court and the complaint of hindering an officer, against Marcel, was dismissed.

On Jan. 24th, while Special Officer John Mahan of the Tremont & Suffolk corporation was arresting Charles the latter assaulted the officer, and the officer in turn struck Charles over the head, which necessitated his treatment at a hospital. While the officer was battling with Charles it is alleged that Marcel interfered.

Thomas Delgany was charged with drunkenness and the larceny of $1 from Mary J. Cronin on Nov. 8, 1908, and the larceny of $1 from Mary A. Bebbington on the 18th of November, 1908. He pleaded not guilty to the drunk charge, and said he remembered nothing about the larceny charges. Inasmuch as the government was not ready for trial this morning, the case was continued till tomorrow morning, Delgany being held under $300 bonds for his appearance at that time.

Unappreciative Young Man

Patrick McMahon appeared in police court yesterday morning and after promising the court to stop drinking and reform was placed on probation. He got drunk later in the day, however, and was in court again this morning. He was sentenced to six months in jail.

Drunken Offenders

Owen F. Riley was charged with being drunk, but his case was continued till tomorrow morning. John McDonald, Thomas McElroy and Maurice Lane were each fined $5. Both of these men were also charged with being drunk. Owen Grimes was sentenced to four months in jail.

Sent to Jail

Philip Jalbert, who was placed on probation some time ago after having been found guilty of neglecting his wife, failed to carry out the order of the court, and the suspension of his sentence was revoked and he was sentenced to four months in jail.

$7000 A YEAR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The conference committee of the senate and house yesterday agreed to fix the salaries of the recently organized customs court at $7000 a year. The nominations of the judges have been held in the finance committee pending a statement of the question of salaries. President Taft must nominate another chief justice of the court, as Alfred H. Cox of Utica, N. Y., recently declined the nomination.

LAKE COMMERCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Domestic commerce on the Great Lakes during the calendar year 1909, as measured by the volume of freight shipped between domestic ports on the Great Lakes, aggregated $9,974,605 net tons, this tonnage, while about one-third larger than for the year before, is about 2½ million tons below the corresponding 1907 tonnage, the largest tonnage in the history of the lake trade.

The above total, reported by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, does not comprise the entire volume of lake commerce, as it does not include the volume of exports to Canada nor the imports from Canada nor the movement between Canadian ports. Neither do these figures include the volume of the purely local movements within the limits of the ports proper. If the volume of these movements were included it is likely that the total lake commerce during the year would approximate, if not exceed, 30 million tons.

Of the total domestic lake shipments for the year 44,087,071 net tons are credited to ports of Lake Superior, compared with 23,253,774 net tons shipped from these ports during 1908; 14,120,998 net tons to ports on Lake Michigan, compared with 10,882,956 net tons in 1908; 1,510,879 net tons to Lake Huron ports, compared with 1,095,011 net tons in 1908; 15,699,221 net tons to Lake Erie ports, compared with 13,267,370 net tons in 1908, and 555,943 net tons to Lake Ontario ports, compared with 410,908 net tons shipped from these ports in 1908.

In the case of Lake Superior and Lake Michigan the bulk of shipments is made up of iron ore and grain; in the case of Lake Erie ports the shipments are more diversified and include hard and soft coal, iron manufactures, and miscellaneous freight. The shipments from Lake Huron ports are of a more local character and are made up largely of unclassified freight. The miscellaneous shipments on Lake Ontario consisted partly of coal and partly of unclassified freight. Further analysis of the totals discloses the fact that by far the larger part of the freight consisted of bulky and long-haul traffic. This is particularly true of the eastbound shipments of iron ore and grain and the westbound shipments of coal.

The iron ore shipment by lake during the year, as reported to the bureau exclusive of about 400,000 gross tons exported to Canada, totaled 40,732,677 gross tons, compared with 24,936,165 gross tons in 1908 and 40,727,572 gross tons in 1907. The largest shipments in the order of their importance were Duluth, credited with 13,260,399 gross tons; Two Harbor, credited with 8,365,638 gross tons; Superior, credited with 6,420,095 gross tons; Escanaba, credited with 5,533,698 gross tons; Ashland, credited with 3,628,549 gross tons; and Marquette and Presque Isle, credited with 2,884,541 gross tons. Of the total iron ore shipments 58 per cent originated at Lake Superior and 14 per cent at Lake Michigan ports. About 83 per cent of the total iron ore was landed at Lake Erie ports, the remainder being delivered at Lake Michigan ports for consumption at local furnaces. The largest iron ore receipts during the year 5,050,516 gross tons, are credited to Ashland. Conneaut, with 6,992,056 tons, was second in place; the Chicago district, including the Gary and Indiana Harbor docks, got 6,678,838 gross tons; Cleveland with 6,268,934 gross tons and Buffalo, including the Tonawandas, with 5,009,304 gross tons are the other ports showing yearly receipts in excess of 5 million tons. The total iron ore receipts for the year at Lake Erie ports, 38,990,939 gross tons, show a remarkable agreement with the annual figures published by the Marine Review of 38,672,825 gross tons, through the distribution of receipts by ports, as reported to the bureau, in several cases show slight differences from the trade data.

Data from the shipments during the past season totaled 115,205,700 bushels, of which 56,114,623 bushels was wheat; 28,954,740 corn; 17,828,717 oats; 14,137,662 barley; and 1,167,958 bushels rye. As compared with corresponding shipments during the past season the wheat and rye shipments show increases and those of other grains slight increases. Over 87 per cent of the annual wheat shipments proceeded from Duluth and Superior. The lake shipments for the past year of this article from Chicago, 5,535,300 bushels, were about one-third below the average for the preceding five years. Over 90 per cent of the domestic lake shipments of corn proceeded from Chicago. Flaxseed shipments for the year 9,884,432 bushels were about 37 per cent below those reported for 1908 and proceeded practically all from Duluth and Superior.

Of the total wheat received during the year by lake from domestic sources the Lake Erie ports, mainly Buffalo, claim over 87 per cent, while 11 per cent was landed at Lake Michigan ports, chiefly Chicago. Of the total corn receipts during the year, Lake Erie ports took 70 per cent; Ogdensburg, on Lake Ontario, 15 per cent; and Lake Michigan ports, mainly Ludington, the remainder. Over 64 per cent of the annual lake receipts of oats, more than half of the annual receipts were received during the year at Lake Erie ports, chiefly Buffalo. The annual receipts of flaxseed and about two-thirds of the annual flour receipts are credited to Buffalo.

The lumber shipments for the year, 1,165,765 M feet, fell about one-third below the average for the five-year period 1905 to 1909, notwithstanding the large demand for this material from the middle west and in the east. Of the total lumber shipped, about 54 per cent, proceeded from Lake Michigan ports, about 37 per cent from Lake Superior ports, and the remainder from Lake Huron ports.

The lake movement during the year of pig iron, 136,656 net tons, proceeded mainly from Lake Michigan and Lake Superior ports, while that of iron manufactures, 650,554 net tons, proceeded chiefly from Lake Erie ports; both of these movements showed considerable gains over the abnormally low movements for the 1908 season. The season shipments of salt, 561,829 net tons, mainly from Lake Michigan ports, were smaller, while those of copper, 167,611 net tons, from Lake Superior and Michigan ports, were larger than a year ago. The shipments of hard coal, chiefly from Lake Erie ports, Buffalo, Erie, and Oswego, 3,610,063 tons, fell 14 per cent, short of corresponding 1908 shipments and proceeded mainly to Duluth and Superior, Milwaukee and Chicago.

The shipments of soft coal, largely from Lake Erie ports, compare favorably with like shipments in 1908 of 13,204,003 net tons. It is noteworthy that the average freight rates for the past year on hard coal from Lake Erie ports were higher, those of soft coal lower, than during 1908. Of the annual receipts of soft coal over 50 per cent was landed at Lake Superior destinations, mainly Duluth-Superior and Hancock-Liberty, while 43 per cent cent of these shipments were taken by Lake Michigan ports, chiefly Milwaukee, Manitowish, and to a lesser extent Chicago. The total tonnage of freight not include the quantity of bunker coal supplied to vessels for their use. The amount of bunker or fuel coal taken by vessels in the domestic lake trade during the past year is stated as 3,621,293 net tons, while the like amount taken by vessels in the foreign trade is given as 30,443 net tons.

A large increase is shown in the annual movement of unclassified, chiefly package freight, the total for 1909, 1,534,003 net tons, exceeding by far any of the previous yearly totals reported to the Bureau of Statistics.

The vessel movement between domestic lake ports, as measured by the aggregate outbound vessel tonnage, 103,271,885 net tons, was larger than for any previous year, although the number of vessel departures, 72,104, has been exceeded during each year between 1906 and 1907. The average size of registered craft, as calculated from the tonnage figures reported to this office for the past year was 1,413 net tons, compared with 1,100 net tons in 1908 and 925 net tons in 1907.

The total freight tonnage which passed through the canals at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, and Ontario, Canada, during the past season, 57,895,140 net tons, was 40 per cent, in excess of the like tonnage for 1908, though falling about 322,000 net tons short of the record total for 1907, owing to the smaller volume of the westbound movement through these canals. The vessel tonnage reported by the canal authorities, 45,771 net tons, was larger than for any previous year.

The average tonnage of registered vessels loaded through the canal during the past year was 5563 net tons, compared with 2235 net tons in 1908; 211 net tons in 1900, and 834 net tons in 1909. The total east bound tonnage through the canals during the year, 46,379,956 net tons, is somewhat larger than the aggregate freight tonnage shipped from Lake Superior, 44,087,071 net tons, as the canals include the exports from United States ports on Lake Superior to Canadian ports east of the Sault Ste. Marie Canal as well as the east-bound freight tonnage originating at the Canadian Lake Superior ports. Similarly, the west-bound tonnage through the canals, 11,516,063 net tons, is larger than the tonnage of domestic receipts at the United States Lake Superior ports.

The freight tonnage during the year reported for the Detroit river aggregated 62,247,670 net tons, compared with 49,346,851 net tons and 67,292,504 net tons for the years 1908 and 1907 seasons. A 33 per cent increase of the river movement for 1909, as compared with 1908 is thus seen to correspond to a 40 per cent, increase in the canal movement and a 34 per cent, increase in the total lake shipments. Of the total for the year 44,494,295 net tons represented a northbound movement, 515,371 net tons a northbound movement through the river during the past season comprised 21,531 vessels of 47,621,073 net tons, compared with 18,212 vessels of 38,290,085 net tons registered for the 1908 season and 27,721 vessels of 48,958,233 tons for the 1907 season.

SAM LANGFORD

Was Defeated by Jim Flynn

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—Jim Flynn won a ten round battle from Sam Langford here last night.

According to Charles Eytan, who was the referee of the contest, Flynn had the best of the fight from start to finish.

Flynn went after Langford like a demon in the first round and had him backing up until pressed against the ropes. Langford fought back to the center of the arena and jacking himself put a right on Flynn's cheek and brought blood. Flynn crunched low throughout the fight and repeatedly rushed into clinches.

In the second round Flynn caught Langford in the center of the ring and wrestled him to the floor. Langford was up instantly, fighting back but in this exchange he flew backward, as in all others which followed. Flynn seemed to have the better of it.

The fourth, fifth and sixth rounds were all Flynn's.

In the ninth round Flynn, after receiving hard rights on the neck, retaliated with a right straight from the shoulder which landed on Langford's nose. Langford's long arms were up in protest, but they did not land. They rushed at the referee, who at the beginning of the tenth, but Langford was forced to break ground. The round ended without Langford having an opportunity to land any of his famous right savings.

The about the encounter Referee Eytan was repeatedly forced to separate the men.

ROBERT O. CLARK

Seriously Injured While at Work on Bridge

Robert O. Clark, aged 50 years, an employee of the construction department of the Boston & Maine railroad and a resident of Dover, met with a serious accident about eight o'clock this morning while at work on one of the railroad bridges in the vicinity of the Lowell cemetery.

He and several other workmen were engaged in making repairs to piles under the bridge when a tackle which he was using snapped in two, one end striking him on the point of the chin, tearing the muscles of the chin away and rendering him unconscious.

Dr. J. B. O'Connor was summoned and after applying restoratives took the injured man in his sleigh to St. John's hospital, where he etherized Clark and took six stitches in the wound.

MEN MAY STRIKE
NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A vote being taken today will decide whether a strike involving 150,000 men and completely tying up building operations in this city shall be called.

The conference was ordered at a conference last night when representatives of the existing strike of the steamfitters for an increase of wages was voted by the delegates and a general strike in support of the men now out was favored.

A strike now would be in violation of the arbitration agreement in force since the last strike and numbers of the men are believed to be strongly opposed to it.

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH IENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

The School street crossing is the most dangerous in Lowell, and in all probability the most difficult to remove by change of grade.

Dr. Wiley's sentiment in regard to small eggs is applauded by all the housekeepers. Some eggs offered for sale are so ridiculously small as to confirm Dr. Wiley's statement that some poultry raisers breed small hens as less expensive and equally productive in the number of eggs with the larger hens.

SENATOR HEYBURN'S BREAK.

Senator Heyburn showed very poor judgment in making a bitter anti-Lee speech in which he appealed to the southerners to remove Lee's statue from Washington. Any such narrow policy would keep alive the embers of hatred between the north and the south indefinitely. Fortunately, Heyburn found nobody in the senate to support him in any such sentiment.

MAYOR FITZGERALD'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

The inaugural address of Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, mayor of Boston, has won praise from those who opposed his election most bitterly. It is commended for its practical character, its breadth of view, its business-like discussion of some of the problems that most directly affect the welfare and the prosperity of the people of Boston. It is taken to indicate that Mayor Fitzgerald appreciates very fully the great responsibility placed upon his shoulders and has resolved to meet it to the best of his ability. The mayor's statement that under the new conditions he was not under obligations to any political party pleased the non-partisans immensely and led to the conviction that Mayor Fitzgerald means to use his vast power of appointment by selecting men for their fitness for office rather than for their political affiliations or their party services in the past. This is the intent of the new non-partisan charter.

THE COLD STORAGE ABUSE.

The United States government inspectors have found something of interest in the cold storage business as conducted in various parts of this country. Meat a year old, eggs equally ancient and accumulated supplies held in a state of congelation awaiting increased prices, are some of the things encountered in an inside view of a cold storage plant at New Jersey. This plant is probably no worse than many others and may be taken as a fair criterion of the whole.

Thus it appears that while the cold storage may serve to preserve meat and eggs for a reasonable time, it is used by unscrupulous hoarders to await a rise in the market. No doubt the great refrigerator plants constitute one of the instruments by which the cost of living is pushed away up. The food supply may thus be hoarded until scarcity causes an increase of price. Were it not for the protection afforded by the tariff the manufacturers could not safely keep meat or eggs or any other staple article of food a year in the refrigerator.

As the cold storage men are not always the owners of the goods stored, they cannot justly be held responsible for the length of time that meat and other foodstuffs are held in storage. It is plain from what the congressional investigation has brought to light that there should be a limit to the length of time meat and eggs shall be kept in storage. Surely the limit should not extend over from six to eight or nine months.

CRIMINAL HOMICIDES AND CONVICTION.

Dr. Andrew White, formerly president of Cornell university and subsequently ambassador to Russia, makes a very serious charge against the United States on the ground of the inadequacy of the law to prevent murders, and claiming that in consequence we have from 5000 to 8000 criminal homicides every year, while a very small proportion of the culprits are punished.

Twenty-five years ago he says there were about 1500 homicides yearly in the United States while now there are 5000. As to the percentage of murders in other countries he says:—

"Canada has 3 per 1,000,000 population; Germany less than 5; England and Scotland and Wales about 10; France about 14; Belgium, highest of all, about 16; the United States, 129. The United States can boast 43 times as many as Canada, which is just on the other side of the line, and 8 times that of Belgium where there is no death penalty."

While Dr. White's claims as to the percentage of crime and of convictions in other countries may be sustained by statistics there is no such proofs of his statements relative to this country. It is undoubtedly true that criminal homicides are very numerous in this country, but it is not true that the prevalence of such crimes is due to the small number of convictions. There are other causes peculiar to this country calculated to increase crimes and make convictions more difficult. One of these is the vast mingling of races speaking foreign languages. Each of these has its faults and its factions that fight and commit murder in a way that makes conviction almost impossible. Then, too, it often happens that one race of foreigners will quarrel with another, and as a result murders will be committed. There is, moreover, in this country a far greater struggle for existence as a result of the influx of foreigners, paucity, industrial depressions and other causes than in any other country in the world. All these conditions combine to increase the number of homicides and to lessen the number of convictions in this country. In no other country is there such a shifting population to be provided for.

Where the same people live together all their lives, where the population is fixed and not continually changing it is easier to trace out the perpetrators of crime and to secure convictions. Dr. White's wholesale charges and his comparisons are not just to the United States, although they are not without some foundation in fact.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

An advance in the salaries of public school teachers in Chicago has been voted by the board of education, to date from January 1, 1910, and will mean the disbursement of $240,000 a year more than last year among the 6,000 teachers. Believing that a teacher is better off with a salary of $1,000 than with a salary of $900, the board of education has voted to increase the salary of the lowest paid teachers from $700 to $800, and the highest paid from $1,200 to $1,300. The board also voted to increase the salary of the principal of the highest grade school from $1,200 to $1,300. The board also voted to increase the salary of the principal of the highest grade school from $1,200 to $1,300.

The board of trustees of the Kentucky state university, Frankfort, Ky., have elected Judge Henry S. Barker of Louisville as president of the university, succeeding Professor J. K. Patterson, resigned. Judge Barker is a member of the court of appeals, Kentucky's highest tribunal.

Because he refused a chair in the faculty of Princeton university and a few weeks later also refused the presidency of a Kentucky college, Rev. William L. McIlwain of the Third Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, Pa., known as the "Thaw" church, has had $3,500 a year added to his salary. Dr. McIlwain will now receive $10,000.

ADVICE TO WOMEN

A Message From a Famous Beauty Specialist to Women Lacking in Energy and Vitality

Thousands of women vainly attempt to improve their complexion and to remove blackheads, crows' feet and other blemishes, through the use of cosmetics. This treatment fails because the trouble lies deeper than the skin. They are suffering from impure and impoverished blood. This condition is in many cases due to a catarrhal condition of the whole system which finds its expression in sallow, muddy complexion, dark-circled eyes, general weakness of the system, and perhaps most plainly in the weeping of mucous membranes that is commonly called catarrh.

In fact this whole tendency is properly speaking, Catarrh. Banish this catarrh, and the complexion will clear as if by magic, eyes will brighten, faces become rosy and shoulders erect. But beauty goes only with perfect health, and this can be obtained only by a certain treatment—that which will cure catarrh.

Mme. Swift, New York, the famous beauty specialist known throughout the world and an accepted authority on all relating thereto, states that the one positive and permanent relief for catarrh is Rexall Mucuo-Tone. Here is her letter:

"I can strongly endorse the claims made for Rexall Mucuo-Tone as a cure for systemic catarrh. Its tonic effects are remarkable. It builds up the strength and restores vitality. If women who are tired and run down, lacking in energy and vitality will use Rexall Mucuo-Tone, they will praise as I do its strengthening and healing qualities."

Rexall Mucuo-Tone works through the blood, acting thus upon the mucous cells—the congestion and inflammation of which causes local catarrh. This remedy causes poison to be expelled from the system, and the blood is purified and revitalized. Thus the natural functions of the mucous cells are restored, and the membranes are cleansed and made strong. We know that Rexall Mucuo-Tone does relieve catarrh positively guarantee to refund the money paid us for this remedy in every case where the user is dissatisfied. It is a builder of vigorous health and a creator of good complexion. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Mail orders filled. It may be obtained only at our store.—The Rexall Store—Hall & Lyon Co., 67-69 Merrimack St.

If Tufts college decides not to remain a coeducational institution, as it probably will, segregating the girl students, a readjustment of the college buildings as they now stand will be necessary. There will be no laboratory duplication, but non-conflicting hours will be provided for the two sexes. A considerable shifting of the hours of recitation in general will obviously be necessary. But all these changes will only be temporary. Ultimately the Stearns estate, comprising a large building across the Boston & Maine railroad track, will be used as an annex and the entire body of girl students will be removed to it.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Delayed a day by the blizzard, but all the better for the opportunity given the company to rest, "Bright Eyes," the new musical comedy, will be produced by Joseph M. Gaites, who presented the big success, "The Three Twins," early in the season, was given at the Boston theatre last night to a large and delighted audience.

"Bright Eyes" is a light comedy, adapted from a straight comedy, "Misses Will Happen," and the beauty of this plan is that the bright lines and plot are retained, something in which the average musical comedy is weak.

The plot in this instance deals with the troubles of a secretly married stage couple in getting the play produced. They are finally enabled to succeed owing to the influence of a susceptible moneyed personage and his rather sporty wife, through their

Mr. Armstrong Tells How He Grew Hair in a Short Time

Dear Sirs:—I was told of your great remedy, Parisian Sage, that it would grow hair on bald heads, so I got a bottle and tried it, and it is fine.

I am a young man, and only 25, and was bald on the top of my head, and now I have hair one inch long, with the use of only one bottle. I shall certainly keep on using it until I have got a head of hair, which I have no doubt it will bring.—Oscar Armstrong, Engineer, Belleville Horseshoe and Rolling Mill Co., Belleville, Ont., August 21, 1909.

To the readers of The Sun: The Girard Mfg. Co. American makers of Parisian Sage, wish to state that they do not guarantee Parisian Sage to grow hair on bald heads, because in most cases the hair root is dead. In the case of Mr. Armstrong the hair root was not dead, and knowing as we do the astonishing hair growing virtue of Parisian Sage, we see no reason why it should not grow hair on the head of Mr. Armstrong.

But we do guarantee Parisian Sage (and so do Carter & Sherburne) to stop falling hair, dandruff and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

Parisian Sage is a daintily perfumed hair dressing, not sticky or greasy, and is extensively used by ladies who desire brilliant and luxuriant hair that attracts and fascinates.

POLICE BOARD

Complaint Against Junk Dealer Heard

Pikes Bechick, a junk dealer, was summoned to appear before the board of police last night to explain his methods of doing business, it being alleged that several weeks ago he purchased a number of household articles from a ten-year-old boy and paid but 25 cents for the goods.

The boy who sold the goods is Patrick Francis Monahan of Lagrange street.

Monahan appeared before the juvenile court last Friday for selling the articles of furniture and was sentenced to the Middlesex County Training school in North Chelmsford.

Patrick was very much in evidence last night.

He was given a chance to explain why he had called the junk man into the house during his mother's absence and sold him a bag of carpets, three coats, a gas stove and a parlor stove. Witness said that the man gave him but 25 cents for all the things.

Bechick took exception to that statement. He said that he had first sold the youth 35 cents, but Patrick had held out for another nickel, which he had finally given the boy.

"I know better; it was 25 cents," was Patrick's expostulation.

At the hearing it came out that some of the property had been returned and that the junk dealer had given Mrs. Monahan 50 cents as security for the rest.

Chairman Stearns was shocked, at such depravity on the part of the junk dealer.

"I should have thought that your conscience would have pricked you," he said to Bechick. "You look as though you had something behind those eyes except grace."

Bechick admitted that he did know it was wrong to purchase the things from such a youth, and that he was doing his best to make matters right. The board remained obdurate, however, and in spite of the fact that he told them that he had a wife and three children to support, insisted on revoking his license.

When he was given to understand that the board had revoked his license, he burst into tears and drawing his fingers across his throat intimated that he would either commit suicide or it would have been better for the board to cut his throat than revoke his license, whereupon the commissioners decided to think the matter of revoking the license over for a few days and told him to call in, in a couple of weeks, at which time final disposition of the case would be made.

Some few minor licenses were passed upon and a short executive session was held, at which appeared Al Winn, the proprietor of Washington park, and Thomas Ramsay of the Delvidere hotel.

The board took the following action in regard to minor licenses: Common victuallers granted: Jean B. Dalphon, 375 Moody street; Joseph Lescaubeau, 197 Allen street; John O'Donnell, 320 Gorham street; Cleonaine Bastian, 214 W. Sixth street; Harker and podder granted: Myer Klein, 181 Howard street; William Boisseneault, 78 Parker avenue, Draught. Express granted: Oscar F. Prentiss, 355 Bridge street.

Laid on table: Billiards and pool, Albert Twoong, 24 Lakeview avenue. Granted leave to withdraw: Common victualler, Mary Lescaubeau, 197 Allen street; to sell ice cream, etc., on the Lord's day, Emma Laroche, 150 Riverside street.

Revoked: Billiards and pool, John Johnson, 24 Lakeview avenue; common victualler, Robert J. Crawford, 626 1-2 Merrimack street; Gabriel Roy, 375 Moody street; license of sixth class, liquor, granted to Harry Woodman of the firm of Jaynes Drug Co., 121 and 123 Merrimack street.

Will Jews Regain Possession of Palestine?

RABBI STEPHEN S. WISE, ZIONIST

By ROBERTUS LOVE.
RECENT dispatches carry the news that the Jews are flocking into Palestine from all parts of the world. The dream of centuries, the establishment of a Jewish nation in the land which was the ancient home of the Hebrew race, appears to be almost upon the eve of fulfillment. Zionism, which term describes the organized movement for the return of the Jews to Palestine, is responsible in large measure for the recent influx of Jews into the Holy Land, but the proclamation of the constitution in Turkey last year is the thing that seems to have made possible some sort of Jewish preponderance in Palestine.

It is said that in Jerusalem four-fifths of the population of about 100,000 belong to the Jewish faith and race. Tens of thousands of Jews have settled at Yafa, Tiberias, Safed, Haifa and other Palestinian towns, while in the country districts many colonies of Jewish farmers have been established. "Almost the whole extensive plain of Esdraelon has been bought up by them," writes a correspondent. "Their prosperous colonies spread from Dan to Beersheba and even farther south to the outskirts of Egypt. Thousands

Zionists Buying Palestine.
Jewish capitalists and syndicates of Zionists are buying lands in the valley of the sacred river Jordan, once the private property of Abdul Hamid, the deposed sultan of Turkey. Agents of these syndicates are reported as being distributed all over Palestine. They are purchasing rich properties from Mohammedans who since the revolution in Turkey have been in disfavor. The Mohammedan is yielding to the Hebrew throughout the Holy Land. The Jews already may be said to rule Palestine in everything but the actual government, and they have increased hopes of dominating that.

As indicated by the overwhelming preponderance of Jews in the population, Jerusalem now is essentially a Jewish city. More than a hundred Jewish schools have been established there. Banking is monopolized by the Jews. They are dominant in every branch of trade and industry. Recently the Turkish government has found it necessary to organize a company of Jewish gendarmes to co-operate in policing the city. From Europe and America, it is reported, large sums of money are being sent into Palestine to enable the poorer Jews, the persecuted refugees from Russia, Roumania and Galicia, to build homes and establish themselves on the farming land. Hospitals, invalid homes and synagogues are springing up here and there.

The Church of the Holy Sepulcher still belongs to the Moslems, of course, but photographs show many Jews mingling in the throngs incident to the worship of the various Christian bodies who hold services there.

A recent correspondent declares that land has quadrupled in value since the Jews began to flock into the country.

Fire Destroyed Building in Bath

BATH, Me., Feb. 9.—Fire of unknown origin last night destroyed the Hooker building, Vine street, resulting in a loss estimated at about $17,000, with insurance of about only $10,000.

Only by the hardest kind of work, the Shannon house, at one time the home of William King, Maine's first governor, was saved from the flames.

The fact that the wind blew the flames away and that there was a brick wall on the Hooker building nearest the hotel, was all that saved the historic old building. As it was lines of hose were put through the hotel, guests packed up their belongings planning to move out and some of the help moved their trunks.

Many of the window draperies and inside curtains as well as woodwork about the windows of the hotel were burned, while considerable water was poured into the building. The loss will probably fall not far from $800, fully insured.

In the Hooker building were the grain mill of Irving C. Trufant, the grocery store of L. L. Hooker and George F. Wallace, A. M. Cutler's saloon, while in the basement were stored $1500 worth of doors and windows by Harry T. Passmore.

There seems to be considerable mystery as to where the conflagration started, some believing that it caught in the office of the grain mill, and by the in the saloon. Employees of Trufant, however, state that there was no fire in the building when they locked up and Mr. Cutler is equally positive that there was no fire in the stove in his loft, for his men did not work this afternoon and he closed up at about 8 o'clock. Hooker and Wallace say the fire in their store had been out all day.

Trufant estimated his grain stock at about $3500, fully insured; Hooker and Wallace place their loss at $1500, with about $500 insurance; Cutler, the saloonkeeper, $4000, insured for $3000; Passmore, insured for about $1200.

Mr. Hooker's building was valued at about $5000. He carried no insurance. By the Maine Central tracks in the rear of the building was a big lot of ship knees, owned by A. L. Young of Auburn, and the damage done to them is estimated at about $1000.

MOOS ARRESTED

It is Charged Accounts are Short

SOUTH HADLEY, Feb. 9.—Ex-Tax Collector Frank E. Moos of South Hadley was arrested at 8 last evening for a shortage in his accounts while collector for the town. The warrant, sworn out by the selectmen, charged his shortage at $4508. An examination of the collector's books showed this shortage when they were examined last July. It is said, but he has since turned in $4200 of this amount, making the final shortage $308, for which he is held.

Mr. Moos had served the town as tax collector for two years, and last summer when an expert auditor was employed on the town books it was found that there was a shortage in the tax collector's account of approximately $4000. The collector was unable to explain this shortage, and claimed a mistake in the books. A careful examination failed to show any mistake, and later it was found that a number of taxpayers held receipts for tax bills without credit being given for the money on the tax collector's books, the shortage then amounting to about $4200. This amount the collector raised and turned in.

IS IMPROVING

DISTRICT ATTORNEY HIGGINS WAS OPERATED UPON

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—Dist. Atty. John J. Higgins of Middlesex county, who underwent an operation several days ago, is convalescing at the Fenway hospital, where he is a patient. It was at first expected that he would be able to go home Saturday, but it will probably be next week, according to the doctors, before he leaves the institution.

MORE PENSIONS

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—A recommendation that a pension fund that will permit of the retirement, with suitable provision for their support, of library employees who have become aged in service, is contained in the 58th annual report of the trustees of the Boston public library. The report has been submitted to Mayor Fitzgerald, and he is requested to urge the city government to take action in the matter. The trustees point out that it is almost impossible for the employees to save an adequate fund that will provide for them in old age from the small salaries paid them.

understand on what authority the committee made such a statement. He did not think that the committee was in a position to say that the work of the board of health could never be excelled. "Who knows what great men the future may bring forth; men who may serve on the board," he said. He allowed that the board went out of its way to throw bouquets at the board of health. He said he would vote for Dr. Pierre Brunelle, a physician of 12 years' experience and a graduate of a medical college second to none in America.

It was about at this time that the chairman called upon the city messenger to suppress Mr. Connors, but the latter continued to talk and concluded by telling the chairman that he was more to be pitied than censured.

Chairman Gray called to order at 8.45. Alderman Carmichael was absent on account of illness. Petitions having to do with streets and sidewalks were referred to the committee on streets.

The annual report of the chief of the fire department was ordered on file. Notice from the Trades and Labor Council asking to be advised of any intended action by the city council relative to labor measures prior to such action, was placed on file.

Notices of personal injury were referred to the committee on claims.

The Appropriations
The report of the committee on appropriations was taken up. Chairman Gray said he presumed the members of the board had read the report and he did not consider it necessary to read it. Ald. Connors spoke to the committee's report. He said the committee did not pay any attention to the heads of departments in getting out its report. He said the committee was filled with a desire to make a speed record.

Ald. Gray, chairman, called Ald. Connors to order. The latter did not know that he was out of order. He was from Copenhagen and he wanted to see Gray's proofs. "I don't see why I am not talking on the question," he said.

"Sit down," said Ald. Gray.
"For what reason?" asked Ald. Connors.
"No more talk about it—sit down."

"But I would like to argue the question."

"Will the city messenger please order the alderman seated?" said the chairman, somewhat exasperated. "No record of any gallery play," said Mr. Connors. "I have said about all that I care to say and I will take my seat. You are more to be pitied than censured."

Alderman Brennan said the committee had, in his estimation, exceeded its authority, relative to its commendation of the board of health.

He said he could not consistently vote to accept the committee's report unless the words "can never be excelled" were stricken out. "It seems to me," he said, "that the committee took a good deal upon itself when it said that three or four of the present three men serving on the board, and I make a motion that the report of the committee be amended so as to omit this statement."

Alderman Connors seconded the motion. Alderman Adams arose to a point of order. His point was that the motion could not be acted upon by the board, but that the proper course, if an amendment was to be made, was to have the report re-committed. The chair ruled the point well taken.

Alderman Brennan moved that the report be re-committed, and Alderman Connors seconded the motion, which failed by a vote of 6 to 2.

The report was then accepted, and order was adopted directing the assessors to raise the sum of $1,334,000 by taxation. It was voted to borrow money in anticipation of taxes, and it was then voted to print the usual number of copies of the report.

Dr. Brunelle's Nomination
On motion of Alderman Adams it was voted to take the appointment of Dr. Brunelle, to the board of health, from the table. The question came on confirmation, and Chairman Gray called for a yea and nay vote. Dr. Brunelle was declared not confirmed.

The ordinance amending an ordinance relative to the state aid department having been passed, Mayor John F. Meahan sent in the names of George E. Worthen as superintendent, and Miss Mary F. O'Brien as assistant superintendent of the state aid department. The board voted unanimously to confirm the appointments. The ordinance as amended transfers the powers of the superintendent of state aid to the assistant superintendent in the event of the superintendent's absence or incapacity, and the appointments are subject to confirmation by both branches of the city council.

Black Paving
Three new petitions for Hassam block paving came before the board and were referred to the committee on streets. One was for paving in Merrimack street, from Dutton street to Cabot street. A second was for the paving of Gorham street from Tower's corner to Davis square. A third was for paving in Thorndike and Fletcher streets from Middlesex street to Liberty square.

A communication from Hon. John J. Dickman, chairman of the park commission, calling attention to the condition of Anne street, and the demand for repairs to that street was referred to the committee on streets. A petition of the Lowell Shoe company that a part of Stackpole street be accepted was also referred.

Milk Inspector's Report

Reports of the engineers of the fire department and the inspector of milk for 1909 were placed on file. A communication from the Trades and Labor Council asking that the T. & L. council be notified when the board contemplates action on matters pertaining to

APPROVES SACRED CONCERTS AND PICTURE SHOWS

Mayor John H. Meehan approves of moving picture shows and sacred concerts on Sunday, and he has registered his approval in writing. The moving picture houses have been closed for some time and considerable weight has been brought to bear upon the mayor to allow picture shows, in the form of sacred concerts, on Sunday. If properly conducted and of proper character.

When the mayor signed the papers yesterday he omitted the two theaters objected to by a church and he is holding them for further investigation. The theaters in question are the Pastime and the Star, near the First Congregational church in Merrimack street.

Notice of a claim against the city was received from Christopher Green, and referred to the committee on claims. The board gave its endorsement in two applicants for state charters. Routine appointments were confirmed.

The Common Council

It was 9 o'clock when President Jewett of the common council rapped to order last evening and at that hour there were 23 members present.

The amendment to the ordinance regarding the superintendent and assistant superintendent of state aid was accepted and adopted on the part of the council. Several petitions in regard to repairing and paving streets were referred to the committee on streets.

Claims for damages against the city were referred to the claims committee.

A joint order requesting the city solicitor to appear before the legislature in support of the corporation taxation bill was adopted in concurrence. A communication from the Trades and Labor council, and reports from the state aid department, and the health department were ordered on file.

At 9.10 a recess of 15 minutes was taken to await new business sent down from the aldermen. The council reconvened at 9.25.

The appointments of George E. Worthen as superintendent of state aid and Miss Mary O'Brien as assistant superintendent, were confirmed.

The reports of the chief engineer of the fire department and of the appropriations committee were received and ordered on file.

The joint order to borrow money in anticipation of taxes, was adopted in concurrence with the aldermen.

A joint order for printing the report of the appropriations committee was adopted. Adjourned at 9.45.

Streets Committee

At the conclusion of the city council meetings last night, the committee on streets held a meeting.

On motion of Councilman General, it was voted to ask the city engineer for estimates on smooth paving of Merrimack street from Dutton to Cabot streets.

A committee consisting of Alderman Gray and Councilmen Dow and Brady, was appointed to ascertain from the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. whether they will lay tracks in Appleton street, to relieve congestion at the corner of Middlesex and Central streets.

It was also voted to ask the city engineer for estimates on smooth paving on Middlesex street to the Franklin school and Gorham street from over to Davis square.

Other petitions regarding macadamizing streets were laid on the table with the understanding that a view would be taken when the snow disappears.

A petition that South Wilder street be laid out and opened to the public from Parker to Midland street, was laid on the table for a view and hearing.

A petition that Stratham street be accepted and another that Lowell street be accepted was laid on the table as was a petition for macadamizing Gates street. Several petitions in regard to laying out of sidewalks and that edgestones be laid, were laid over for views and hearings.

PROGRESS OF A. O. H.

Set Forth by Editor Sheehan of
the Hibernian

At Enjoyable Smoke Talk Held
by Division 11, A. O. H., in Hibernian Hall Last Evening
— Several Local Hibernians
Addressed the Gathering

The members of Division 11, A. O. H., held an enjoyable smoke talk at Hibernian hall, last evening, a feature of which was an address on the subject "Progress of the Irish Race in America," by George H. Sheehan of Boston, editor of the "Hibernian."

Mr. Sheehan also spoke on the work of the order. Other speakers were President Patrick Connolly of Division 11, James O'Sullivan, president of the A. O. H. corporation; Pres. Michael McMullin of Division 1, Pres. John C. O'Rourke of Div. 8; President Hubert McQuade of Div. 28; and President Denis O'Brien of Div. 2, former Deputy John Kinsella, Deputy Bernard Gagan, former County President John D. Hendricks and others. Songs were sung by Bernard Gagan, Denis McDowell, Charles A. Carey, Daniel Wholey and John Green.

A musical program was enjoyed, a feature of which was the rendition of several Irish songs by Charles Austin Carey, Uncle Sam's letter carrier, and Mr. Carey made a decided hit with O'Connell's new song, "Wearers of the Green," and Blanche Ring's "Top of the Morning." Robert Fay of the Manhattan club presided at the piano.

The refreshment committee consisted of John Tully, John Rourke, James Clancy, Patrick Freeman, Denis McDowell, Patrick McAndrews, John McNearney and John J. Neylon. The committee in charge consisted of President Connolly, Vice President Patrick Hickey, Recording Secretary Bernard Gagan, Treasurer John H. Hickey and Financial Secretary William Nelson.

Mr. Sheehan's remarks in part were as follows:

It is certainly gratifying to greet the Hibernians of Lowell and to feel the inspiration which comes from feeling what may be termed, "the cradle of our splendid order in New England." It is an additional pleasure to find a pioneer organization here, and what could be more appropriate, for was it not the son of an Irishman, Patrick Tracy Jackson, who laid the foundation for this thriving city of Lowell? It was his purchase of land and erection of mills here that was the magnet which drew your original settlers, the settlement developing into your splendid industrial center. The same spirit of enterprise that drew the energetic

Jackson here in 1821, also prompted him to secure nine years later a charter for the railroad between Lowell and Boston, which was constructed under his superintendence and completed in 1835. With Irish blood and enterprise giving the initial life to your city, the very name it bears being that of Jackson's brother-in-law, Francis C. Lowell, who was closely associated with him in business. It was these two who had previously built and operated the first cotton mill in this country in the adjoining city of Waltham.

Thus, Lowell had its origin in the enterprise from one of Irish blood and Irish energy. Devotion, thrift and public spirit have contributed most happily to its upbuilding. Fortunately, too, the Irish heart here has always beaten true in loyal love and regard for faith and fatherland. The material evidences of its faith are seen in the splendid church edifices that complement the earnest Catholicity of your enterprising city, and the material proof of solicitude for the welfare of the fatherland is found in the record of the generous response you have made to every call in her behalf. Most signally, too, has it had manifestations in the splendid record of the Ancient Order of Hibernians which found such early and fruitful soil here.

Speaking for our grand, racial organization in which we are bound by the closest of fraternal ties, I can assure you of the pride and the place of honor which Lowell holds in the annals of our honored order; and our appreciation of the happy heritage that is yours, handed down to you by the self-sacrificing and loyal souls which constituted the charter members of division 1, at its institution in 1867. One of those honored charter members is privileged to abide with us yet, and it must be a source of extreme happiness to him, as well as to a score of others who have been active Hibernians for over 40 years, to realize the splendor and accomplishments of their efforts. From the seed which they planted 42 years ago in your city the organization has harvested a thousand-fold. From a few hundred in this state at that time our order has reached the magnificent total of 30,000 members, who have real estate holdings of our ancient order to the extent of over $400,000.

attestation when the next state convention assembles in your city in August of the present year. No better proof could be given of your energy and enterprise than the very work which you are doing at the present time. The Hibernians of New England are anxiously watching your endeavors, as the task which you have undertaken is not an easy one. The coming state convention will bring to your city over 20,000 loyal Hibernians from all sections of New England. The entertainment of these guests alone demands earnest effort on your part, and when one realizes that you are also engaged in the preparatory work of erecting a Hibernian hall, he can readily see that you have taken inspiration from the atmosphere in which you have lived. This state convention furnishes every assurance of being the most notable in the history of Massachusetts, and the parade, which will be a feature, will be one to show the standing and the personnel of our order in this grand old commonwealth.

You Hibernians of Lowell by your own record of advancement from the humble beginning made by those devoted pioneers of the order in 1867, present a most instructive and inspiring showing of growth and achievement. What may not the future expect where such fertility has been manifested? It is both your duty and your high privilege to venerate the memory of those who have made you the inheritors of their labors. They laid the foundation upon which the superstructure of the order here has been erected, and your duty is to see that the proportions of such structure keep extending and amplifying to heights of the highest ideals of an ancient and honored race. Your past achievements are but a most happy augury of the splendor of the record that is yet to be written.

ANNUAL REGATTA

HARVARD AND YALE NOW WORKING OVER DATES

It is expected that there will be a decided change in the time of holding the Harvard-Yale boat races next year. This season the races are to be on June 30, a concession made by Yale in favor of Harvard. The Yale and Harvard commencements begin on the same day this year, but Harvard's ends much later in the week than Yale and so the New Haven graduates will have been long away from the town when the regatta comes on, the Thursday of the week following both commencements.

New day has been suggested to have the race rowed in 1911 in the week before the final examinations, either the last week in May or the first week in June. That is much earlier than ever before. If it goes through it will mean a vast difference in the training method of the two universities. They will get all their preparation for the contest on their home waters and they will not have to have quarters at Gales Ferry and Red Top. The crews will go from the Charles and the harbor without any great interval before the regatta.

If this arrangement is not hit upon there is a chance, it is said, that the regatta may be given over. Neither college is at all eager to have this come to pass, but if the races cannot be fitted in with the desires of the graduates probably they will cease to be.

Speaking before the dinner of the Hartford alumni of Yale recently, Julian W. Curtis said: "If things go well the boathouse will be completed by next May. The work of filling in the foundation is now almost complete and the iron structure of the boathouse will be begun. It is our ambition to have the new plant entirely incorporated in the Yale athletic system by next commencement, so that work can be begun next fall without any preliminaries."

The new quarters will mean much for the future of Yale rowing, and in this connection I want to say a word with regard to the work of Coach John Kennedy. There has been criticism in some quarters because of the employment of a professional coach by Yale, but of course there is no probability of any change being made in this regard.

"Mr. Kennedy's work as a coach has been good, but his work as a man has been better, and many college generations of Yale oarsmen hold him in high regard as a friend." Crew prospects at Syracuse have brightened up somewhat, as fifty-three men now are out for the boat. The number was small the first day, but has been increasing right along. Coach James A. Ten Eyck says: "The prospects for good crews are becoming brighter each day. The new men who have recently appeared are of good size and weight. This fact especially is very pleasing to me, and I am sure there are plenty of other good men around. All the candidates are very enthusiastic and are improving with every stroke of the oar."

SEN. CUMMINS

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—"More power to the interstate commerce commission," was urged by United States Senator Albert S. Cummins of Iowa in a address before the Traffic club here last night.

"I shall not try to convince the corporations that they are sound and well, because they are already on the operating table," declared the senator in opening his remarks. "The surgeon's knife is gleaming all around them. I shall not try to convince them that after it is all over they will be stronger, because undue strength, as with Samson, is the very disease from which they suffer. But I shall try to convince them that after it is over they will be better, longer lived and safer."

Senator Cummins' topic was "The Interstate Commerce Commission; the Additional Powers It Requires to More Completely Fulfill Its Functions." "The truth is," said the speaker, "the hair trimming was never more required than it is at present. I do not suggest that all corporations wear long locks, because I know well that many of them do not need the attention of a barber. And they are so shorn by the giants of the class to which they belong that they could be admitted to any penitentiary in the land without any further corporal attention."

"But I refer to the stalwarts in and among the corporations who are so great that while they are unwilling to shear themselves there isn't anybody big enough to shear them. Uncle Sam has been scissoring away for a great many years. It is quite possible that he has got a little close in places, but I believe that the interstate commerce commission wears longer hair than they did before. The question is how to cut it smoothly and regularly."

THREE MILL TAX

Action Postponed by Board of Trade

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—At the meeting of the executive council of the Massachusetts state board of trade, held yesterday afternoon in the Vendome, one of the several important measures considered was the amendment providing for the classification of property for purposes of taxation. Robert Luce of Sonerville reported for the committee on taxation in favor of the proposed legislation, but explained that the report was not unanimous.

H. D. Bennett of the committee opposed the views of Mr. Luce and read the argument of Hon. Nathan Matthews and portions of the report of the special commission on taxation. He suggested that as a remedy for the financial wants of the state a resident tax be imposed upon persons who left from city to town and vice versa for several months of the year. John H. Corcoran and H. M. Satchelder also opposed the views of Mr. Luce, while one or two others sided with him.

In his closing argument Mr. Luce said the question is not the matter of a three-mill tax as much as it is if we will trust the legislature to impose different tax rates, and that the real issue is between the manufacturing interests and those of the public service corporations.

The council voted to postpone action until the next meeting, when it is expected several other speakers will be heard on the subject.

The council voted adversely on the legislative measure to limit the term of county, city and town treasurers to six years. Action on the proposed amendment to the national constitution to enable congress to lay and collect taxes on incomes, went over to the next meeting. The council voted adversely on all three bills before the legislature relative to child labor.

It was also voted that an extension of time should be asked for in the matter of making returns of incomes of corporations, until after decision by the U. S. supreme court as to the constitutionality of the law. It was pointed out that many Massachusetts corporations are surrendering their charters and going back to firm methods rather than comply with the terms of this law which it is alleged gives rivals the business secrets they wish to keep covered.

The council voted favorably on the bill to have Dec. 31 and the financial year of all towns in the commonwealth, and that an audit by the state shall be made on the written petition of any citizens of any town. The council also favored the plans to make a harbor of refuge at Point Judith, R. I.

WARRANT ISSUED

FOR THE ARREST OF AN EDITOR ON CHARGE OF LIBELLING

HAVANA, Feb. 9.—The government is actually prosecuting its campaign against the newspapers attacking the administration. Following the imprisonment of two editors on a charge of libelling President Gomez, General Evaristo Estenoz, editor of the negro organ, Provision, was summoned to court yesterday afternoon to answer a similar charge. He failed to appear, whereupon a bench warrant was issued. This action of the court was greeted with loud cries of disapproval by a great throng of negroes in court. It is reported that Estenoz has fled the city.

The strike of practically the whole of the Havana press against the bill introduced in congress by Speaker Eberan, restricting criticism of the government, continues, the papers declaring that they will refuse to report the proceedings of congress until the objectionable bill is withdrawn. The intention is that the bill will be killed in committee.

THE SUGAR TRUST

To Pay $600,000 to Government

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Six hundred thousand dollars is the amount the National Sugar Refining Co. will pay the government as restitution for back duties for the underweighing of sugar. The amount was fixed yesterday at a conference between representatives of the company and counsel for the government at the custom house. It is reported that the settlement will be formally signed today and will include a clause exempting the company from civil prosecution.

HAS SMALLPOX

NORTH BROOKFIELD, Feb. 9.—There is consternation among the patients in this town of Dr. E. A. Ludden, chairman of the board of health, who has contracted smallpox from a patient whom he attended. People whom Dr. Ludden visited since his first attention to the smallpox patient are fearful that they, too, may have become infected. Thus far the cases of the doctor and his patient are the only ones which have developed.

Gained 93 Pounds Feels Like a Boy.

Mr. Patrick J. Quirk, Before He Started to Use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, Weighed 147 Pounds. Now He Tips the Scales at 240 Pounds, and Feels as Healthy and Lively as He Did When He Was a Boy.

He writes as follows:—"In this communication I wish to state facts which are facts. I was born in Ireland, and at the early age of 18 I was accidentally unhorsed at a hunt, receiving internal injuries, which I never overcame, though the best physicians on both sides of the ocean were sought to discover my ailment, but without success, until some eight years ago a friend gave me, for a trial, half a bottle of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey (which he was then using himself for a general broken down complaint, as he called it), and the results accomplished by it were such that I continued to use it to the great satisfaction of not only myself, but of my friends and acquaintances.

"Before its use I weighed only 147 lbs. I now tip the scales at 240 and feel as though I was a boy again, through the continuous use of your great elixir of life, to which many of my friends can attest with a like result." Patrick J. Quirk, 302 9th St., Troy, N. Y.

MOODY STREET FIRE

Central Fire Station

A brisk blaze broke out in the quarters of the French-American Supply Company in Moody street last night about ten o'clock and but for its early discovery it might have reached dangerous proportions. The firemen were promptly on the scene, however, and prevented the spread of the flames through considerable damage was caused by the smoke which poured through the building in huge volumes. The supply company occupies quarters jointly with the City Hall garage in Moody street, opposite Colburn street, and for a time it looked as though the fire would make its way into the garage and destroy some of the valuable machines stored there. The fire had its inception in a small store room in the rear of the quarters of the supply company. A woman who occupies a tenement overhead detected a strong odor of smoke and notified one of the employees of the garage that there was a fire in progress. The latter jumped into an automobile and driving to the corner of Worthen street rang in an alarm from box 77. In a few minutes several pieces of apparatus were on the scene.

A single line of hose was sufficient to extinguish the flames, though the heavy smoke interfered with the work of the firemen to some extent. The exact cause of the fire has not been learned as yet, but it is thought to have been spontaneous combustion in a pile of rubbish and rags in the store room which was located next to a chimney.

The Supply company had about $1500 worth of stock on hand. The principal loss will fall on this concern though the garage owners will suffer some damage from smoke. It happened that many of the most valuable cars at the garage were on the side next to the fire, and for a few minutes the employee in charge and his helpers had a very busy time preparing for their removal. This proved unnecessary in the end, however.

The big truck at the central fire station had trouble when it started out of the stables. The steering gear of rear wheels failed to work, and the truck and the big steamer collided without, however, doing any damage to either.

Fortunately there was no one standing on the running board on the right side of the truck for it there had been probably the person would have been fatally injured for the truck went into the steamer with such a crash that it would have been impossible for a person standing on the running board to escape injury.

Both pieces of apparatus were delayed in reaching the fire as a result of the accident.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the building which was owned by Wm. D. Spaulding.

Fire in a Hack

A fire in a hack belonging to Undertaker Joseph Albert was discovered early yesterday morning by one of Mr. Albert's employees, Pierre Caron. The hack was in Mr. Albert's stable in Hall street and when Caron opened the door he detected a strong odor of smoke and soon learned that the fire was in the hack.

The rugs and cushions were badly damaged and the carriage, itself, was somewhat charred. The carriage had been left there shortly before

We direct your attention to the U-Tra-Cit Embroidery Tracing Pad. It is cleaner, cheaper and much better than impression or carbon paper. For tracing or stamping fancy work patterns it is ideal—the only method that is simple, pleasant and profitable. This pad requires no paint, powder, hot irons or the cleaning of patterns. In fact all of the disagreeable features of "stamping" are eliminated when the U-Tra-Cit pad is used. Then again the stamping will not blur or run; still it washes out easily.

NEW YEAR'S DAY

Observed Today by the

Happy New Year!
New Year came in at Chinatown at 12:01 this morning and the year 2461 is on. The Chinese started to count time in the days of old Confucius and they're counting yet from that time and hence are 661 years barring a few weeks, ahead of us on time. It takes 20 days to observe the Chinese New Year right, 20 days and 21 digestive organs for the Chinaman feasts steadily for 20 days and 20 nights and when he isn't eating and drinking he's burning up fireworks.

In the big Chinese colonies of San Francisco, New York and Boston the day is being observed with New Year feasts and feasting but in Lowell only an informal observance is being held. Last evening several Chinese gathered at Wong & Co's restaurant in Central street and watched the old year out and incidentally had a feast fit for the gods while little Charlie Wong, Tuck made a speech of welcome to the New Year.

Was Left by Former Springfield Pelham Electric Car Crashed Into His Sleigh

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 9.—With the death of George D. Nelson in this city yesterday came to an end the interesting career of a person whose antecedents, as well as his prosperity during a 30-year residence in Springfield, were shrouded in mystery.

Nelson was one of the best known characters in the city and, with no known relatives to share in his wealth, he leaves an estate roughly valued at $800,000.

More than 20 years ago George D. Nelson made his first appearance in Springfield. He came from the west and his mission here was to deliver to William Bliss, formerly president of the Boston & Albany railroad, two valuable horses.

He then accepted a position as coachman for Mrs. Emma Goodrich Vinton, who inherited the large Goodrich estate on Franklin street. When Mrs. Vinton died, about five years ago, she bequeathed all her property, valued at a half million at least, to Mr. Nelson. The Vinton heirs contested the will, but the courts decided in favor of Mr. Nelson.

Mr. Nelson, through buying the horses for Pres. Bliss, was given a position a few years' afterward as freight dispatcher for the railroad, having in charge the task of clearing the sidings in case of blockades.

He retired from this position after several years of service and then devoted his time to the management of the Vinton and Nelson properties. He erected the Nelson theatre and later remodeled a block at the corner of Maine and Hampden streets into the Nelson hotel.

He reserved a room for himself at the hotel, and it was there that he died at 2.45 yesterday afternoon following an illness of several months with Bright's disease.

A few years ago Nelson and one of the lessees of the hotel, Daniel H. Buckley, had an argument over the wording of a certain clause in the lease. Nelson had $10,000 to $10,000 that he was right, and when an examination of the document showed him to be in error, he put his hand in his pocket and took out $10,000, which he handed over to Buckley.

Nelson is believed to have been about 65 years old.

Woman Attempted to Drown Herself Heard in Alleged Graft Case

REVERE, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Annie F. Monroe of Boston nearly succeeded in drowning herself at Revere beach yesterday afternoon. She walked into the water near the foot of Beach street, and when first seen was standing in the surf up to her waist.

Wm. T. Rooney and Samuel Oppenheim were at the corner of Beach street and caught sight of the woman just as she threw herself into the surf. The two men rushed into the water and dragged her out.

She had been rolled over several times by the waves and had swallowed considerable water, and it was with much difficulty that she was carried into the Metropolitan park police station, where she was treated by a physician. Later she was taken to the First hospital in Chelsea.

The woman appeared rational, but could give no reason for her act. She gave her address as 153 Elliot street, Boston, and her age as 42 years.

LAWRENCE, Feb. 9.—Yesterday was the sixth day that Dist. Atty. Peters has been probing rumors relative to alleged municipal graft in connection with last year's affairs and there were still other witnesses to be brought before the grand jury when the session adjourned yesterday afternoon.

Samuel Kress was closeted with the jury more than an hour and a half. Other witnesses who appeared were Mrs. Xavier G. Legendre, wife of the ex-alderman, who is now said to be absent from the city; Eugene Lemay of Nashua, N. H., a brother-in-law of the ex-official; Herman Kress, father of Samuel Kress; Edward F. Joyce, who was formerly dog officer of the city; Frank J. Casey, a barber; W. H. Moisson, Jacob Wagenbach, John Hopkins, a permanent freeman, and ex-Alderman Burns' young son.

The woman appeared rational, but could give no reason for her act. She gave her address as 153 Elliot street, Boston, and her age as 42 years.

Was Attacked by Commissioner Clement

ALBANY, Feb. 9.—Because of what is termed "his unwarranted, unjust and unlawful hostility to the enforcement of the provisions of the liquor tax law," "Battery Dan" Finn, magistrate in the borough of Manhattan, was attacked yesterday by Commissioner Clement of the state excise board, who began proceedings in the supreme court for the removal of Finn from office.

The charge upon which the proceeding is based contains 132 specifications of different excise cases pending before Magistrate Finn between April, 1909, and Nov. 1 of the same year. In each of these cases, it is alleged, evidence was offered to show that an offense had been committed and to warrant the retention of the defendants for trial at the court of special sessions. Commissioner Clement states in his petition for the removal of Finn that in refusing to hold the saloon keepers for trial the magistrate failed properly to perform the duties of his office and did "wrongfully, wilfully, unfairly, unjustly, unlawfully and fraudulently discharge the said defendants and by such acts showed himself incompetent to act as such city magistrate."

The persistent discharge of saloon keepers brought before him for violations of the excise law shows, says the state commissioner, "an unwarranted, unjust and unlawful hostility to the enforcement of the liquor tax law and a corrupt intent on the part of Finn."

The application for Finn's removal will be heard at the courthouse in Manhattan Feb. 18.

IS SUED BY STENOGRAPHER F. E. ROLLINS

Frank E. Rollins has filed an attachment, through F. W. and S. E. Qua, attorneys, against the estate of the late Charles Cowley, in the hands of Eliza Cowley, executrix, in the sum of $2400. The suit is for the apportionment of the estate of the late Charles Cowley, which was made in the will of Charles Cowley against the city of Lowell and the Locks and Canals company. Payment was to be divided between the two defendants and the plaintiff. City Solicitor Duncan says that the city has paid its share, and presumably the Locks and Canals has done the same, as no attachment is recorded against them. The case was heard by a master, his decision to be final on matters of fact; and the decision is still pending.
